Green Deen What Islam Teaches About Protecting The Planet:

Green Deen Ibrahim Abdul-Matin, 2010-11-11 Muslims are compelled by their religion to praise the Creator and to care for their community. But what is not widely known is that there are deep and long standing connections between Islamic teachings and environmentalism. In this groundbreaking book Ibrahim Abdul Matin draws on research, scripture and interviews with Muslim Americans to trace Islam's preoccupation with humankind's collective role as stewards of the Earth. Abdul Matin points out that the Prophet Muhammad declared that the Earth is a mosque. Deen means path or way in Arabic. Abdul Matin offers dozens of examples of how Muslims can follow and already are following a Green Deen in four areas: waste, watts, energy, water and food. At last, people of all beliefs can appreciate the gifts and contributions that Islam and Muslims bring to the environmental movement. How the World's Religions are Responding to Climate Change Robin Globus Veldman, Andrew Szasz, Randolph Haluza-DeLay, 2013-09-11 A growing chorus of voices has suggested that the world's religions may become critical actors as the climate crisis unfolds, particularly in light of international paralysis on the issue. In recent years, many faiths have begun to address climate change and its consequences for human societies, especially the world's poor. This is the first volume to use social science to examine how religions are helping to address one of the most significant and far-reaching challenges of our time. While there is a growing literature in theology and ethics about climate change and religion, little research has been previously published about the ways in which religious institutions, groups and individuals are responding to the problem of climate change. Seventeen research-driven chapters are written by sociologists, anthropologists, geographers and other social scientists. This book explores what effects religions are having, what barriers they are running into or creating, and what this means for the global struggle to address climate change. Islamic Finance and Sustainable Development Khaliq Ahmad, Datuk AbdelAziz Berghout, 2025-03-05 This book uncovers a new dimension in the study of sustainability, offering balanced development from a spiritual and cultural values perspective. The authors of this edited volume investigate the role of religion in the debate concerning the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and offer an Islamic perspective to Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) issues. Applying a multidimensional approach to socio-economic development, the book contends that Islam offers a unique perspective and framework for sustainable development that is holistic and rooted in spirituality, morality and ethics. For example, the book explains how Islam lays emphasis on human talents development (SDG 3 and 4), which is a key element in accelerating socio-economic growth (SDG 8). It also offers a wide range of social financial tools such as Zakat, waqf, that can be used to address SDG 1 (poverty), 2 (hunger), 5 (gender equality) and 10 (reducing inequality). Islamic finance offers a number of tools for long-term financing such as sukuk, that can masterfully be used for building sustainable infrastructure (SDG 9). The study also reviews some Islamic principles from the Holy Qur'an that can positively address SDGs. Students, scholars and researchers in the fields of Islamic Economics and Finance, sustainable development and socio-economic and environmental issues will find the book a valuable resource.

Nature and the Environment in Contemporary

Religious Contexts Thomas Donlin-Smith, Muhammad Shafiq, 2018-06-11 This collection of essays discusses the human relationship with and responsibilities toward the natural environment from the perspective of religions and the social sciences. The chapters examine a variety of conditions that have contributed to the contemporary environmental crisis including abuse of power, economic greed, industrialization, deforestation, and unplanned waste management. They then discuss concepts from several different religious texts and traditions that promote environmental protection as a sacred moral duty for all humanity. Religious concepts such as dharma, duty toward Mother Earth, tikkun Olam, repair of the world, khalifa, people as deputies of God on earth, amanah, the universe as a trust in human hands, and paticca samuppada, dependent co-arising, are employed to argue that all the components of the biosphere are integral to the cosmos, each piece with its own value and role in the harmony of the whole. The book makes it clear that religions can become more green and play a helpful role in raising our ecological consciousness and supporting preservation of the environment into the future.

Environmental Constitutionalism in the Anthropocene Domenico Amirante, Silvia Bagni, 2022-04-03 This book examines the relationship between man and nature through different cultural approaches to encourage new environmental legislation as a means of fostering acceptance at a local level. In 2019, the International Union of Geological Sciences (IUGS) recognised that we have entered a new era, the Anthropocene, specifically characterised by the impact of one species, mankind, on environmental change. The Anthropocene is penetrating the discourse of both hard sciences and humanities and social sciences by posing new epistemological as well as practical challenges to many disciplines. Legal sciences have so far been at the margins of this intellectual renewal with few contributions on the central role that the notion of Anthropocene could play in forging a more effective and just environmental law. By applying a multidisciplinary approach and adopting a Law as Culture paradigm to the study of law, this book explores new paths of investigation and possible solutions to be applied. New perspectives for the constitutional framing of environmental policies, rights, and alternative methods for bottom-up participatory law making and conflict resolution are investigated, showing that environmental justice is not just an option but an objective within reach. The book will be essential reading for students, academics, and policymakers in the areas of law, environmental studies, and anthropology.

The Environmental Apocalypse Jakub Kowalewski, 2022-11-16 This volume brings together scholars working in diverse traditions of the humanities in order to offer a comprehensive analysis of the environmental catastrophe as the modern-day apocalypse. Drawing on philosophy, theology, history, literature, art history, psychoanalysis, as well as queer and decolonial theories, the authors included in this book expound the meaning of the climate apocalypse, reveal its presence in our everyday experiences, and examine its impact on our intellectual, imaginative, and moral practices. Importantly, the chapters show that eco-apocalypticism can inform progressively transformative discourses about climate change. In so doing, they demonstrate the fruitfulness of understanding the environmental catastrophe from within an apocalyptic framework carving a much needed path between two unsatisfactory approaches to the climate disaster first the conservative impulse to preserve the status quo responsible for today's crisis and second the reckless acceptance of the destructive effects of climate change This book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars interested in the contributions of both apocalypticism and the humanities to contemporary ecological debates Modern Muslim Theology Martin Nguyen, 2018-08-10 This book aims to bring Muslim theology into the present day Rather than a purely academic pursuit Modern Muslim Theology argues that theology is a creative process and discusses how the Islamic tradition can help contemporary practitioners negotiate their relationships with God with one another and with the rest of creation

Generation M Shelina Janmohamed, 2016-08-30 What does it mean to be young and Muslim today There is a segment of the world's 1.6 billion Muslims that is more influential than any other and will shape not just the future of Muslims but also the world around them meet Generation M From fashion magazines to social networking the Mipsterz to the Haloodies halal internet dating to Muslim boy bands Generation M are making their mark Shelina Janmohamed award winning author and leading voice on Muslim youth investigates this growing cultural phenomenon at a time when understanding the mindset of young Muslims is critical With their belief in an identity encompassing both faith and modernity Generation M are not only adapting to Western consumerism but reclaiming it as their own Finance, Economics, and Industry for Sustainable Development Anna Romyantseva, Hod Anyigba, Elena Sintsova, Natalia V. Vasilenko, 2024-06-18 This volume discusses strategic approaches and relevant decisions of business government and civil society to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals SDG which were adopted by all UN member states in 2015 The book presents the proceedings of the 4th International Scientific Conference on Sustainable Development ESG 2023 St Petersburg 2023 At present the economies of different countries are in a zone of turbulence and the current agenda pushes the transformation of all customary systems to maintain and keep the achieved positions This volume brings together material on sustainable development in economics and finance as well as industry It is intended for scholars and professionals involved in public and corporate finance financial accounting and auditing sustainable development risk management as well as economic growth macroeconomics monetary policy in a sustainable development environment public and corporate governance and economics corporate communications and public relations Earth-honoring Faith Larry L. Rasmussen, 2015-04-01 Larry L. Rasmussen offers a dramatic new way of thinking about human society ethics and the health of our planet Rejecting the modern ethical assumption that morality applies to human society alone Earth honoring Faith argues that we must derive a system of ethics and morality that accounts for the wellbeing of all creation on Earth Islamic Environmentalism Rosemary Hancock, 2017-07-20 Islamic Environmentalism examines Muslim involvement in environmentalism in the United States and Great Britain The book focuses upon Muslim activists and Islamic organizations that approach environmentalism as a religious duty offering environmental readings of Islamic scriptures and integrating religious ritual and practice with environmental action Honing

in on the insights of social movement theory Hancock predominantly examines the activism and experience of Muslims involved in environmentalism and bases her research on interviews with activists in the United States and Great Britain Indeed the reader is first provided with an insightful analysis of the ways in which Muslim activists interpret and present environmentalism diagnosing causes of environmental crises proposing solutions and motivating other Muslims into activism This is followed by a discussion of the importance of affective ties emotion and group culture in motivating and sustaining Muslim involvement in environmental activism A timely volume which draws attention to the synthesis of political activism and religious practice amongst Muslim environmentalists this book will be of interest to undergraduates postgraduates and postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as Islamic Studies Sociology of Religion Social Movement Theory and Environmental Studies
