What Glasses Are You Wearing?

Have you ever tried on glasses or sunglasses? They change the way things look, don't they? Well, sometimes our brains are like our glasses, and we can get tripped about the way things really are. Here are some common "glasses" our brains can wear, and the ways they can take up our things differently.

Seeing Things the Positive

When your brain doesn't "look" the good stuff!
"Is this as well as it could be, or could there be a better way?"
If you get a compliment, you might think "Oh how kind of you that because that's really kind!"

Mind Reading

These glasses make you think you know what others are thinking. It's a game of hide-it where there's nothing together, you might think "They are talking about me and laughing about my presentation!"

Convincing Oneself

These glasses make you think that what you're thinking about is real. If you think of a bad idea or thought, you might think "I'll never have friends again and I will spend the rest of my life alone!"

Black and White Thinking

When your brain looks only at extremes or "all or nothing". If you forget something for school, you might think "That's it, the whole day is ruined!"

Overgeneralization

Things only I can think of when it's my conclusion. If you make a mistake, you might think "I messed up everything!"

Exaggeration

When your brain makes things seem bigger than they are. If your mom comes home from work, you might think "She must be super stressed! I don't want her to be sad and stressed every day!"
