Late Classical and Early Hellenistic Corinth Michael D. Dixon, 2014-06-27 Late Classical and Early Hellenistic Corinth 338 196 B C challenges the perception that the Macedonians' advent and continued presence in Corinth amounted to a loss of significance and autonomy Immediately after Chaironeia Philip II and his son Alexander III established close relations with Corinth and certain leading citizens on the basis of goodwill eunoia Mutual benefits and respect characterized their discourse throughout the remainder of the early Hellenistic period this was neither a period of domination or decline nor one in which the Macedonians deprived Corinthians of their autonomy Instead Corinth flourished while the Macedonians possessed the city It was the site of a vast building program much of which must be construed as the direct result of Macedonian patronage evidence suggests strongly that those Corinthians who supported the

Macedonians enjoyed great prosperity under them Corinth's strategic location made it an integral part of the Macedonians strategy to establish and maintain hegemony over the mainland Greek peninsula after Philip II's victory at Chaironeia The Macedonian dynasts and kings who later possessed Corinth also valued its strategic position and they regarded it as an essential component in their efforts to claim legitimacy due to its association with the Argead kings Philip II and Alexander III the Great and the League of Corinth they established This study explicates the nature of the relationship between Corinthians and Macedonians that developed in the aftermath of Chaironeia through the defeat at the battle of Kynoskephalai and the declaration of Greek Freedom at Isthmia in 196 B C Late Classical and Early Hellenistic Corinth is not simply the history of a single polis it draws upon the extant literary epigraphic prosopographic topographic numismatic architectural and archaeological evidence to place Corinth within broader Hellenistic world This volume the full first treatment of the city in this period contributes significantly to the growing body of scholarly literature focusing on the Hellenistic world and is a crucial resource for specialists in late Classical and early Hellenistic history

Over the past twenty five years significant changes in the conduct of wars have increasingly placed civilians in traditional military roles employing civilians to execute drone strikes the targeted killing of suspected terrorists the use of private security contractors in combat zones and the spread of cyber attacks Under the laws of armed conflict civilians cannot be targeted unless they take direct part in hostilities Once civilians take action they become targets This book analyses the complex question of how to identify just who those civilians are Identifying the Enemy examines the history of civilian participation in armed conflict and how the law has responded to such action It asks the crucial question what is direct participation in hostilities The book slices through the attempts to untie this Gordian knot and shows that the changing nature of warfare has called into question the very foundation of the civilian military dichotomy that is at the heart of the law of armed conflict The Greco-Persian Wars Erik Jensen,2021-02-24 Hackett s Passages Key Moments in History series

Friend, 2019-09-16 Based on the comprehensive study of the epigraphic and literary evidence this book challenges the almost universally held assumptions of modern scholarship on the date of origin the function and the purpose of the Athenian ephebeia It offers a detailed reconstruction of the institution which in the fourth century BCE was a state organized and funded system of mandatory national service for ephebes citizens in their nineteenth and twentieth years consisting of garrison duty military training and civic education It concludes that the contribution of the ephebeia was vital for the security of Attica and that the ephebes non military activities were moulded by social economic and religious influences which reflect the preoccupations of Lycurgus administration in the 330s and 320s BCE

Fields of Battle Richard Evans, 2015-08-31 Richard Evans revisits the sites of a selection of Greek and Roman battles and sieges to seek new insights The battle narratives in ancient sources can be a thrilling read and form the basis of our knowledge of these epic events but they can just as often provide an incomplete or obscure record Details especially those related to topographical and geographical issues which can have a fundamental importance to military actions are left tantalisingly unclear to the modern reader The evidence from archaeological excavation work can sometimes fill in a gap in our understanding but such an approach remains uncommon in studying ancient battles By combining the ancient sources and latest archaeological findings with his personal observations on the ground Richard Evans brings new perspectives to the dramatic events of the distant past The campaigns and battles selected for this volume are Ionian Revolt 499 493BC Marathon 490 BC Thermopylai 480 BC Ilberda 49 BC and Bedriacum AD69
