July 2013 Daycare Parent Newsletter

Elizabeth Palley, Corey S. Shdaimah

July 2013 Daycare Parent Newsletter:

So They Want Us to Learn French Matthew Hayday, 2015-09-15 Since the 1960s bilingualism has become a defining aspect of Canadian identity And yet today relatively few English Canadians speak or choose to speak French Why has personal bilingualism failed to increase as much as attitudes about bilingualism as a Canadian value In So They Want Us to Learn French Matthew Hayday explores the various ways in which bilingualism was promoted to English speaking Canadians from the 1960s to the late 1990s He analyzes the strategies and tactics employed by organizations on both sides of the bilingualism debate Against a dramatic background of constitutional change and controversy economic turmoil demographic shifts and the on again off again possibility of Quebec separatism English speaking Canadians had to decide whether they and their children should learn French Highlighting the personal experiences of proponents and advocates Hayday provides a vivid narrative of a complex controversial and fundamentally Canadian question Home, School, and Community

Collaboration Kathy B. Grant, Julie A. Ray, 2018-02-27 Filled with practical suggestions and reflective opportunities this book uses the culturally responsive family support model as a framework to prepare readers to work with children from diverse families

In Our Hands Elizabeth Palley, Corey S. Shdaimah, 2017-03 Working mothers are common in the United States In over half of all two parent families both parents work and women s paychecks on average make up 35 percent of their families incomes Most of these families yearn for available and affordable child care but although most developed countries offer state funded child care it remains scarce in the United States And even in prosperous times child care is rarely a priority for U S policy makers In In Our Hands The Struggle for U S Child Care Policy Elizabeth Palley and Corey S Shdaimah explore the reasons behind the relative paucity of U S child care and child care support Why they ask are policy makers unable to convert widespread need into a feasible political agenda They examine the history of child care advocacy and legislation in the United States from the Child Care Development Act of the 1970s that was vetoed by Nixon through the Obama administration s Child Care Development Block Grant The book includes data from interviews with 23 prominent child care and early education advocates and researchers who have spent their careers seeking expansion of child care policy and funding and an examination of the legislative debates around key child care bills of the last half century Palley and Shdaimah analyze the special interest and niche groups that have formed around existing policy arguing that such groups limit the possibility for debate around U S child care policy Ultimately they conclude we do not need to make minor changes to our existing policies We need a revolution

What's a Parent to Do? Lawrence Baines, 2022-05-06 Parenting can seem overwhelming Most parents want what is best for their children but few have the time energy or background knowledge to take a deep dive into an ocean of scientific studies every time a decision has to be made This book translates educational research from Piaget to the latest neuroscience article into actionable strategies for parents The book is a guerilla guide in the sense that some recommendations may seem counterintuitive radical or contrary to popular practice However these strategies for home and school are supported by research and years of practical experience What s a Parent to Do is written for parents who want to know what to do what not to do and why Rural and Other Medically Underserved Populations, An Issue of Nursing Clinics of North America 50-3 JoAnn S. Oliver,2016-07-27 This issue will address health care issues and clinical implications of rural and other medically underserved priority populations The Agency for Health Care Research and Quality identified priority populations to include rural residents racial and ethnic minorities low income groups women children older adults and other individuals who may require chronic care The editors identified a need for articles focusing on priority populations to help further understand health implications of health disparities among specific populations A main focus is on identifying useful clinically focused strategies to address racial ethnic and socioeconomic differences that are relevant and influence overall healthcare access and quality of life The articles will provide clinicians and other consumers of Nursing Clinics of North America with a diverse and unique perspective on an array of clinically relevant and population focused topics Some example topics included are Tailoring interactive multimedia to improve diabetes self management Addressing mental and physical health among older adults Using mobile devices to access evidence based information in a rural setting Identifying family history and development of risk factors for diabetes among underserved preschool children Addressing smoking cessation Cancer screening issues Cardiovascular health and Obesity Behind Closed Doors Joanne Stanton,Christine O'Donnell,2017-09-26 Behind Closed Doors tells the story of two mothers who began investigating serious health issues in their own son and daughter and ended up writing an expose about the declining health of an entire generation of American children In their relentless attempts to improve the health of their own children they uncovered harmful trends in our food pharmaceuticals and environment all stemming from weak laws and conflicts of interest What they discovered shocked and ultimately empowered them to get actively involved in questioning and reforming these harmful out of balance practices and to inspire other moms to do the same Behind Closed Doors not only offers scientifically verified evidence of how declining industry practices are harming our kids but showcases solutions like environmental medicine and other integrative health practices shares personal success stories and provides tools and solutions parents can immediately implement equipping and inspiring us all to stand together for change Serving Library Users from Asia John Hickok,2019-06-12 Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published e g disabled Latino seniors etc few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written Thus the timely need for this book Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole this book has 24 separate chapters each on 24 specific Asian countries cultures of East Southeast and South Asia with a wealth of resources for understanding interacting with outreaching to and serving library users of each culture Resources include cultural guides both print and online language helps with sample library vocabulary Asian booksellers nationwide cultural groups professional literature and more Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries public school and academic making this book valuable for all librarians The demographics of each Asian culture numbers and distribution plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured As a bonus each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author s 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians Transnational Cultural Flow from Home Pyong Gap Min,2022-12-09

When the first wave of post 1965 Korean immigrants arrived in the New York New Jersey area in the early 1970s they were reliant on retail and service businesses in the minority neighborhoods where they were This caused ongoing conflicts with customers in black neighborhoods of New York City with white suppliers at Hunts Point Produce Market and with city government agencies that regulated small business activities In addition because of the times Korean immigrants had very little contact with their homeland Korean immigrants in the area were highly segregated from both the mainstream New York society and South Korea However after the 1990 Immigration Act Korean immigrants with professional and managerial backgrounds have found occupations in the mainstream economy Korean community leaders also engaged in active political campaigns to get Korean candidates elected as city council members and higher levels of legislative positions in the area The Korean community s integration into mainstream society also increasingly developed stronger transnational ties to their homeland and spurred the inclusion of everyday Korean life in the NY NJ area Transnational Cultural Flow from Home examines New York Korean immigrants collective efforts to preserve their cultural traditions and cultural practices and their efforts to transmit and promote them to New Yorkers by focusing on the Korean cultural elements such as language foods cultural festivals and traditional and contemporary performing arts This publication was supported by the 2022 Korean Studies Grant Program of the Academy of Korean Studies AKS 2022 P 009 Parental well-being Barbara Holthus,Hans Bertram,2018-10-17

Pursuing happiness is not only idealistic it is the world s best and perhaps only hope to avoid global catastrophe Global Happiness Policy Report 2018 With that the report argues for happiness as overarching policy goal This volume argues that parental well being is well qualified to assume a central role for governments of industrially advanced nations that are in need of coping with the challenges of low fertility and societal aging More than 4000 mothers and fathers of young children in Germany and Japan have been surveyed in regard to their well being and satisfaction with many aspects related to their work and family lives The volume brings together 13 scholars to analyze this unique dataset The chapters fall into three main parts 1 parenting and childcare 2 self social relatedness and social structures and 3 family policy well being A particular focus lies on the well being of mothers in contrast to fathers The volume uses a multidimensional concept of parental well being with each chapter highlighting one dimension ranging from health education employment and family policy satisfaction to partnership social network and childcare satisfaction National differences are in several aspects superseded by gender class and personality types The Feasibility of Citizen's Income Malcolm Torry,2016-06-07 This book is the first full length treatment of the desirability and feasibility of implementing a citizen s income also known as a basic income It tests for two different kinds of financial feasibility as well as for psychological behavioral administrative and political viability and then assesses how a citizen s income might find its way through the policy process from proposal to implementation Drawing on a wide variety of sources of evidence from around the world this new book from the director of the Citizen s Income Trust UK provides an essential foundation for policy and implementation debates Governments think tanks economists and public servants will find this thorough encompassing book indispensable to their consideration of the economic and social advantages and practicalities of a basic income Handbook of Research on Pedagogical Innovations for Sustainable Development Thomas, Ken D.,Muga, Helen E.,2014-03-31 Summary This book brings together case study examples in the fields of sustainability sustainable development and education for sustainable development Windpower Ownership in Sweden Tore Wizelius,2014-06-20 Windpower is a modular technology and compared to most other power plants also rather small scale Wind turbines are installed to the distribution grid which is called distributed generation Ownership and revenues can be distributed as well using the right ownership models Several different ownership models used in different countries like windpower cooperatives local limited companies net accounting models etc are described These models can be used to make windpower become community power and or consumer owned power and produce power for these owners at cost price To wait for the international community to agree on international treaties to create a renewable energy system takes too long The climate disaster will inevitably happen To speed up the transition to a renewable energy system development has to come from below from local communities which can initiate and invest in windpower and other renewables At the same time to get off from the oligopolistic electric power market and produce power at cost price is a good business Understanding Early Years Policy Damien Fitzgerald,Janet Kay,2016-03-10 Previously known as Baldock Understanding Early Years Policy is in its Fourth Edition This best selling textbook continues to provide fully updated coverage of all the latest developments in early years policy such as the revised Early Years Foundation Stage EYFS SEND Code of Practice 0 25 years and the Children and Families Act 2014 Exploring how policy is made implemented analysed and developed over time this book presents a complete overview of early years policy and an evaluation of its ongoing impact on practice This Fourth Edition has been significantly updated to include Full coverage of the 2010 2015 UK Coalition Government A comprehensive timeline of Early Years policy Guidance on how to research policy for yourself More international case studies now including the US and Scandinavia New material on how to manage policy changes as a practitioner An expanded focus of the devolved countries within the UK This text is an essential read for early years students at all levels and early years practitioners

Fundamentals of Audiology for the Speech-Language Pathologist

Deborah R. Welling, Carol A. Ukstins, 2013-10-28 Fundamentals of Audiology for the Speech Language Pathologist is specifically written for the speech language pathologist working with hearing impaired populations This helpful text incorporates the expertise of audiologists along with the knowledge and experience of speech language pathologists and combines the theories and training of both disciplines in order to facilitate the practical application of foundational audiologic information into speech language pathology practice This comprehensive text also covers the type and degree of hearing loss and the resulting auditory speech and language difficulties

Deaf and Hearing Siblings in Conversation

Marla C. Berkowitz, Judith A. Jonas, 2014-08-11 This is the first book to consider both deaf and hearing perspectives on the dynamics of adult sibling relationships Deaf and hearing authors Berkowitz and Jonas conducted interviews with 22 adult siblings using ASL and spoken English to access their intimate thoughts A major feature of the book is its analysis of how isolation impacts deaf hearing sibling relationships The book documents the 150 year history of societal attitudes embedded in sibling bonds and identifies how the siblings lives were affected by the communication choices their parents made The authors weave information throughout the text to reveal attitudes toward American Sign Language and the various roles deaf and hearing siblings take on as monitors facilitators signing siblings and sibling interpreters all of which impact lifelong bonds

Unschooling To University Judy L. Arnall, 2018-09-21 School is one option for education homeschooling is the second and unschooling is the third Many parents are frustrated by the school system perhaps because of bullying crowded classrooms and outdated dull online courses Disengaged learners that have no say in their coerced curriculum tend to act out tune out or drop out Education must change and unschooling is the fastest growing alternative method of learning Two decades ago students registered with their local school based on their house address Now with the internet students are borderless Learning can occur anywhere anytime anyway and from anyone including self taught Self directing their education unschoolers learn through Play Projects Reading Volunteering Video games Sports Mentorship Travel Life This book explores the path of 30 unschooled children who self directed all or part of their education and were accepted by universities colleges and other postsecondary schools Most have already graduated What children need most are close relationships parents teachers siblings relatives coaches and mentors within a wider community not just within an institutional school Educational content is everywhere Caring relationships are not Families that embrace unschooling do not have to choose between a quality education and a relaxed connected family lifestyle They can have both

Social Development Ross D. Parke, Glenn I. Roisman, Amanda J. Rose, 2019-03-26 Social Development provides a comprehensive introduction to the multiple factors that shape a child s behavior interaction with others feelings about themselves and how and why behaviors change over time Delving into the biological cognitive and perceptual aspects of development and their influence on behavior socialization and self image this text also recognizes the significance of cultural and societal distinctions by emphasizing the value of context and identifying cultural variation's role in social development. Special pedagogical features in each chapter enhance the learning experience and promote student understanding. Counterintuitive examples challenge reader assumptions. Coverage of extreme cases tells the story behind historical advancements and profiles of current leaders in the field. Highlight the many paths to a career in social development. With a focus on real world application coupled with coverage of cutting edge methodologies and the latest research findings, this book gives students a strong, highly relevant foundation in core concepts and practices central to the study of social development.

Quality Instruction and Intervention for Elementary Educators Brittany L. Hott, Pamela Williamson, 2024-10-02 Effective teaching starts with quality instruction that most students respond well to. However, about 35% of students will require specialized and more intensive instruction to meet academic and behavioral standards. Both students with exceptionalities who are eligible to receive special education and related services and students who are placed at risk due to circumstance require, deserve, and are legally entitled to quality intervention. Quality Instruction and Intervention for Elementary Educators offers an accessible resource for educators interested in evidence-based strategies to ensure all students have access to an excellent education. Two dedicated chapters authored by leading content and strategy experts in the field are devoted to content areas. The first chapter focuses on quality instruction with academic subject matter specialists as lead authors with interventionists supporting. The second chapter focuses on effective intervention with the interventionists taking the lead author roles and academic subject matter specialists supporting. Between the two chapters is a dialogue between the teams of authors bridging instruction and intervention. This unique approach bridges the gap between quality instruction and effective intervention, an often overlooked component of teacher education. The book also includes dedicated chapters on the integration of instructional technology and executive functioning. After reading the book, educators will be able to describe the components of effective instruction and intervention in each of the content areas, access empirically validated materials, and locate resources for continued learning.

Living Literacy at Home Margaret Mary Policastro, 2016-03-04 Coming in March 2016, reading to children at home is a joyful and celebratory time for parents and children alike. Both relish in the story and the time spent together. Early exposure to texts provides other benefits as well because it prepares the child for school and builds a love of reading. Living Literacy at Home provides tips and strategies to help parents build those connections. Included is a snapshot of what literacy looks like in today's classroom and support on how to make that home-to-school connection, how to build a home library, and develop a reading routine and how to make every day a literacy-rich day. Easy-to-use forms and a glossary of literacy terms round out this resource. Although the book is intended for parents of children in kindergarten through grade 8, the routines and suggestions can be easily adapted for any grade level.

Christian Globalism at Home Hillary Kaell, 2020-06-09 An exploration of how ordinary U.S. Christians come to feel globally connected through the multibillion-dollar child sponsorship industry. Christian Globalism at Home looks at the massive charitable industry that is Christian child sponsorship from its growth in nineteenth century Protestant missions to its status as one of today's most profitable private fundraising tools. Investigating two centuries of sponsorship and its related practices in American living rooms, churches, and shopping malls, Hillary Kaell examines the myriad ways that Christians who don't travel outside of the United States have cultivated global connections and the ethical and ideological questions involved. Popular child sponsorship organizations including World Vision, Compassion International, and ChildFund raise billions of dollars and circulate millions of letters and photos around the world annually. Kaell traces the movement of money, letters, and images along with a wide array of the lesser-known techniques of sponsorship such as playacting, hymn singing, eating, and fasting. She shows how, through this process, U.S. Christians attempt to hone globalism of a particular sort by oscillating between the sensory experiences of a God's-eye view and the intimacy of human relatedness. These global aspirations are buoyed by grand hopes and subject to intractable limitations since they so often rely on the inequities they claim to redress. Based on extensive interviews, archival research, and fieldwork, Christian Globalism at Home explores how U.S. Christians imagine and experience the world without ever leaving home.
