

Document 2: In 1992, Pope John Paul II signed an encyclical brought on behalf of the 19th-century Galileo heliocentrism, a philosophical position who was right at minimum over 400 years and who is represented corner of history's greatest scientists.

Monday, November 19, 1992, a meeting. Pope John Paul II acknowledged in a speech today that the Roman Catholic Church had erred in condemning Galileo over 300 years ago. He admitted that the Church could see around the Sun.

The address by the Pope before the Pontifical Academy of Sciences closed a 30-year investigation into the Church's condemnation of Galileo in 1633, one of history's most infamous collisions between faith and science. Galileo was forced to recant his astronomical findings to avoid being burned at the stake and spent the remaining eight years of his life under house arrest.

John Paul said the theologians who condemned Galileo did not recognize the formal distinction between the Bible and its interpretations.

This led them unduly to transpose into the realm of the doctrine of the faith, questions which in fact pertained to scientific investigations.

Though the Pope acknowledged that the Church had done Galileo a wrong, he said the 17th-century theologians were working with the knowledge available to them at the time.

Question 3:

Using Document 2, what was Pope John Paul II's main attitude according to this 1992 newspaper article? Pope John Paul II is trying to rectify the past wrongs of the Catholic Church in respect to Galileo's trial and condemnations. He states that Galileo was correct about heliocentrism and recognizes the error of the Catholic Church over 300 years earlier. He attempts to justify the actions of the Church based on the fact that theologians of the 1600s were "working with the knowledge available to them at the time."

Tewa Worlds Samuel Duwe, 2020-05-05 Tewa Worlds tells a history of eight centuries of the Tewa people set among their ancestral homeland in northern New Mexico Bounded by four sacred peaks and bisected by the Rio Grande this is where the Tewa after centuries of living across a vast territory reunited and forged a unique type of village life It later became an epicenter of colonialism for within its boundaries are both the ruins of the first Spanish colonial capital and the birthplace of the atomic bomb Yet through this dramatic change the Tewa have endured and today maintain deep connections with their villages and a landscape imbued with memory and meaning Anthropologists have long trekked through Tewa country but the literature remains deeply fractured among the present and the past nuanced ethnographic description and a growing body of archaeological research Samuel Duwe bridges this divide by drawing from contemporary Pueblo philosophical and historical discourse to view the long arc of Tewa history as a continuous journey The result is a unique history that gives weight to the deep past colonial encounters and modern challenges with the understanding that the same concepts of continuity and change have guided the people in the past and present and will continue to do so in the future Focusing on a decade of fieldwork in the northern portion of the Tewa world the Rio Chama Valley Duwe explores how incorporating Pueblo concepts of time and space in archaeological interpretation critically reframes ideas of origins ethnogenesis and abandonment It also allows archaeologists to appreciate something that the Tewa have always known that there are strong and deep ties that extend beyond modern reservation boundaries Congressional Record United States.
