The Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Lords, 2014

Science Teaching in Schools Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Science and Technology Committee, 2006-11-05 The Committee's report examines science and mathematics teaching in secondary schools in England focusing on the following issues the take up of science and mathematics at GCSE and A level the provision of careers advice to students problems in the recruitment and retention of teachers the quality of teaching methods and the role of continuing professional development The Committee finds that effective science teaching in schools is essential both in order to ensure a satisfactory general level of scientific literacy in society and to enable the next generation of scientists and engineers to progress into higher education and beyond It argues that the current examination system forces students to study an excessively narrow range of subjects at too early an age and it recommends that the Government should reconsider the Tomlinson proposals for a broader diploma based system for 14-19 year old students based on the International Baccalaureate This would ensure that students receive a more rounded education and are not made to over specialise before they are able to see the merits of studying science and mathematics Concerns are also raised about the shortage of science teachers particularly specialist physics and chemistry teachers the quality of careers advice in schools and the importance of practical science in schools

Advancing Human Assessment Randy E. Bennett, Matthias von Davier, 2017-10-17 This book is open access under a CC BY-NC 2.5 license This book describes the extensive contributions made toward the advancement of human assessment by scientists from one of the world's leading research institutions Educational Testing Service The book's four major sections detail research and development in measurement and statistics education policy analysis and evaluation scientific psychology and validity Many of the developments presented have become de facto standards in educational and psychological measurement including in item response theory IRT linking and equating differential item functioning DIF and educational surveys like the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP the Programme of International Student Assessment PISA the Progress of International Reading Literacy Study PIRLS and the Trends in Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS In addition to its comprehensive coverage of contributions to the theory and methodology of educational and psychological measurement and statistics the book gives significant attention to ETS work in cognitive personality developmental and social psychology and to education policy analysis and program evaluation The chapter authors are long standing experts who provide broad coverage and thoughtful insights that build upon decades of experience in research and best practices for measurement evaluation scientific psychology and education policy analysis Opening with a chapter on the genesis of ETS and closing with a synthesis of the enormously diverse set of contributions made over its 70 year history the book is a useful resource for all interested in the improvement of human assessment

Educating the next generation of scientists Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2010-11-12 The Department for Education has made good progress in improving take up and achievement in areas such as A Level maths and GCSE Triple Science However there has been less success in increasing the number of science teachers improving take up of A Level physics and raising the standards of school science facilities There is evidence that pupils taking Triple Science GCSE are more likely than those studying combined science to choose science subjects at A Level and to achieve higher grades While starting from a low base pupil take up of the three individual sciences has increased by almost 150 per cent in the last five years However by June 2009 almost half of secondary schools still did not offer Triple Science Take up of chemistry and maths A Level has already exceeded the targets for 2014 set by the Department but take up of physics A Level has increased only slightly since 2005 06 Achievement increased across all science subjects and maths at A Level between 2002 03 and 2009 10 Until recently the Department had a target to ensure that all school laboratories were up to a good or excellent standard by 2010 However it did not collect routine data to measure progress against this target and the most recent research available found that science facilities were inadequate in around a quarter of secondary schools Although recruitment of science graduates to train as specialist teachers has increased the Department is not on course to meet the targets set by the previous Government for recruiting more mathematics and physics teachers by 2014

Mentoring Science Teachers in the Secondary School Saima Salehjee, 2020-12-14 This practical guide helps mentors of new science teachers in both developing their own mentoring skills and providing the essential guidance their trainees need as they navigate the rollercoaster of the first years in the classroom Offering tried and tested strategies based on the best research it covers the knowledge skills and understanding every mentor needs and offers practical tools such as lesson plans and feedback guides observation sheets and examples of dialogue with trainees Together with analytical tools for self evaluation this book is a vital source of support and inspiration for all those involved in developing the next generation of outstanding science teachers Key topics explained include Roles and responsibilities of mentors Developing a mentor mentee relationship Guiding beginning science teachers through the lesson planning teaching and self evaluation processes Observations and pre and post lesson discussions and regular mentoring meetings Supporting beginning teachers to enhance scientific knowledge and effective pedagogical practices Building confidence among beginning teachers to cope with pupils contingent questions and assess scientific knowledge and skills Supporting beginning teachers planning and teaching to enhance scientific literacy and inquiry among pupils Developing autonomous science teachers with an attitude to promote the learning of science for all the learners Filled with tried and tested strategies based on the latest research Mentoring Science Teachers in the Secondary School is a vital guide for mentors of science teachers both trainee and newly qualified with ready to use strategies that support and inspire both mentors and beginning teachers alike
