The Recollections of Encolpius Gottskálk Jensson, 2004 While nineteenth century scholars debated whether the fragmentary Satyricon of Petronius should be regarded as a traditional or an original work in ancient literary history twentieth century Petronian scholarship tended to take for granted that the author was a unique innovator and his work a synthetic composition with respect to genre The consequence of this was an excessive emphasis on authorial intention as well as a focus on parts of the text taken out of the larger context which has increased the already severe state of fragmentation in which today's reader finds the Satyricon The present study offers a reading of the Satyricon as the mimetic performance of its fictional auctor Encolpius as an ancient road novel told from memory by a Greek exile who relates how on his travels through Italy he had dealings with people who told stories gave speeches recited poetry and made other statements which he then weaves into his own story and retells through the performance technique of vocal impersonation The result is a skillfully made narrative fabric a travelogue carried by a desultory narrative voice that switches identity from time to time to deliver discursively varied and often longish statements in the personae of encountered characters This study also makes a renewed effort to reconstruct the story told in the Satyricon and to explain how it relates to the identity and origin of its fictional auctor a poor young scholar who volunteered to act the scapegoat in his Greek home city Massalia ancient Marseille and was driven into exile in a bizarre archaic ritual Besides relating his erotic suffering on account of his love for the beautiful boy Giton Encolpius intertwines the various discourses and character statements of his narrative into a subtle brand of satire and social criticism e g a critique of ancient capitalism in the style of Cynic popular philosophy Finally it is argued that Petronius Satyricon is a Roman remake of a lost Greek text of the same title and belongs together with Apuleius Metamorphoses to the oldest type of Greco Roman novel known to antiquity as Milesian fiction the center of the cosmos John seeks to persuade his hearers that the world as governed and sustained by Caesar and the Roman gods and perpetuated through the Roman cult and economy is a false order passing away in order that God's new creation narrated by truthful worship and costly witness to the Lamb can emerge as gift The book concludes with suggestions for fruitful conversation with recent work in apocalyptic theology First Order of Business Judith Marsh

Carlson, 2018-09-17 Spiritual resource for Bible study and reflection discussion prior to church meetings After years as a member of parish staffs and as a congregational and diocesan consultant Judith Carlson became increasingly aware how seldom Bible study or some spiritual component is incorporated into church meetings Even when they want to busy lay people worry it will take too much time or aren't sure what scripture to use or fear they don't know enough about the Bible Clergy too despite good intentions often have trouble finding time to prepare something This simple model provides a way to add the missing and needed spiritual dimension First Order of Business contains 36 brief sessions 12 minutes a piece Each has a scripture passage and three open ended reflection questions open ended to fit a variety of situations though not automatically suggesting right answers and allowing some genuine reflection in a non threatening way Carlson's hope is that allowing space for the Spirit's presence can transform ordinary business as usual into a broader more spiritual context for a group's work of mission or ministry Reading Literature and Chronic Pain Josie Billington, 2025-05-15

This valuable and insightful study into chronic pain and its treatment advances a striking analysis of the complex phenomenon of chronic pain also attesting to the importance of the medical humanities in addressing urgent questions that medical science alone cannot resolve The primary purpose of this book is twofold First to demonstrate empirically against a conceptual background drawn from multiple disciplines and knowledge bases historical medical neurobiological psychological socio anthropological how an apparently soft intervention such as literary reading can effectively combat symptoms of a condition as intractable as chronic pain Second to explore what this evidence tells us about pain as a lived experience as well as a condition in urgent need of new treatment options and about literature and the reading of fiction and poetry as therapeutic influences in contemporary health and healthcare most particularly in alleviating the often severe mental health difficulties with which chronic pain is almost universally associated Based on unique empirical research with people who are living with chronic pain this book is the first of its kind to demonstrate the value of literature and literary reading both as a discourse for understanding and finding pain and as an intervention in its treatment The Effective Teaching Assistant Abigail Gray, Melanie
