Justice Fragmented Justice Fragmented:

Justice Fragmented George C. Pavlich, 2002-09-11 Suppose you have a dispute with your neighbour and wish to secure redress for losses incurred How might the issue be resolved Is it worth the cost and time delay to take the issue to court Or is there some other approach Over the past few decades a range of alternative dispute resolution programmes have emerged to settle conflicts informally outside the courtroom Drawing on real life experiences of community mediation practices in British Columbia Canada the author explores informal justice as an event rendered possible by the fragmentation of justice under postmodern conditions He develops some of Foucault's ideas on governmentality to erect an analytical framework that does not view community mediation as necessarily empowering or an inevitable expansion of state control The analysis identifies how one might engage with current versions of community justice and yet avoid the political apathy that too often accompanies such criticism International Law between Universalism and Fragmentation Isabelle Buffard, James Crawford, Alain Pellet, Stephan Wittich, 2009-02-28 This Festschrift is published on the occasion of Gerhard Hafner's 65th birthday and his retirement as a professor at the University of Vienna It assembles a great number of renowned friends and colleagues in international law honouring Gerhard Hafner's outstanding career as scholar diplomat legal adviser and arbitrator The diversity of areas selected for this Festschrift reflects the generalist approach of Gerhard Hafner towards international law Among the topics on which his contribution was particularly influential are the fragmentation of international law the law of State immunity and international criminal law which feature prominently in the Festschrift Other areas covered are the theory of international law including sources basic principles of international law codification of international law subjects of international law international dispute settlement the law of the sea and international environmental law human rights and humanitarian law and the law of the European Union Breaking Through the Plate Glass Window--Prophetic Fragments Michael Granzen, 2022-05-31 This is a selection of writings on themes of trauma and transformation hope and anguish in a time of reckoning The first section offers biographical fragments about life after the bulldozer runs you over How do you get up How do you live with others who don't understand How do you keep walking They draw upon life experiences in Boston Iona and New Jersey Faith is not so much about agreeing with doctrine but a dynamic active seeking questioning trust in God It includes both audacity and humility The second section draws upon fragments of historical reflection On Violent Innocence Mourning and Metanoia in New Jersey This is an exploration of the principality of white racism state based violence and exploitation of the poor It asks the question How did the Confederate flag get in the front window of the Presbyterian church on Lincoln's birthday Some of the white terrorism that happened at the Capitol is prefigured here Yet there is grace hidden in judgment We cannot heal from what we do not name The third section contains fragments of prophetic wisdom from Lorna Goodison Richard Fenn Mike Gecan Karen Hernandez Granzen and Archange Antoine Along with Traci West and Chris Hedges their voices are strong and true The Land to the Elect and Justice for All

Mika S. Pajunen, 2013-12-11 Mika S Pajunen contributes both to the understanding of manuscript 4Q381 from the Dead Sea Scrolls and to broader issues related to the reconstruction of damaged scrolls and to the reading of psalms in late Second Temple Judaism. The author focuses especially on the collection of apocryphal psalms in 4Q381 and other similar psalm collections but it is also of interest to the ongoing search for the functions of psalmody in this period. A material reconstruction of manuscript 4Q381 has been made to determine the original placement of all the substantial fragments within the scroll. The reconstruction shows there to be eight psalms in the preserved scroll. A thorough analysis of all of them is incorporated in this study including a critical Hebrew text and the first English translation of the psalms, a basic outline of the psalms' content with comments on their details and a presentation of their overall message. All the psalms in 4Q381 discuss specific periods of time. The first three psalms cover a period from the Creation to the expected future of a group identified as God's chosen ones. These are followed by five pseudepigraphic psalms that are named in this study as Praise of the Man of God, David Praise of Hezekiah, Penitential Prayer of Manasseh, Lament of Josiah and Penitential Prayer of Jehoiachin. The psalms in 4Q381 make up a consistent whole that is shown to function as a unified lesson on the justice of God toward his elect. In this investigation 4Q381 is placed into its proper place inside some of the larger developments and ideologies perceivable within late Second Temple Judaism. For instance 4Q381 is part of the general trends discernible in psalmody of this period, namely a general increase in reflection upon the past and the use of wisdom motifs. But in addition 4Q381 also gives evidence of a perception of psalms as sources of history that is in the end found to be a much broader phenomenon. Fragments: in the Manner of Sterne Isaac Brandon, 1797

The Diversification and Fragmentation of International Criminal Law Larissa van den Herik, Carsten Stahn, 2012-10-23 This volume is the first in a new series of Studies on the Frontiers of International Law. The term frontier is traditionally associated with proximity to a boundary or a demarcation line. But it is also a connecting point, i.e. a passage or channel between spaces that are usually considered as separate entities. The Series aims to explore the visible and imaginary boundaries of scholarship in International Law. It is designed to test the existing table of contents, vocabulary and limits of Public International Law to investigate lines and linkages between centre and periphery and to re-map or re-think some of its conceptual boundaries. The current volume is written in this spirit. It deals with the tension between unity and diversification which has gained a central place in the debate under the label of fragmentation. It explores the meaning, articulation and risks of this phenomenon in a specific area: International Criminal Justice. It brings together established and fresh voices who analyse different sites and contestations of this concept as well as its context and specific manifestations in the interpretation and application of International Criminal Law. The volume thereby connects discourse on fragmentation with broader inquiry on the merits and discontents of legal pluralism in Public International Law. The Fragmentation of Sentencing and Corrections in America Michael H. Tonry, 1999 Justice as an Aspect of the Polis Idea in Solon's Political Poems Joseph A. Almeida, 2017-07-31 This book examines the meaning of justice or dike in the political poems of Solon from a new interpretative perspective The first two chapters argue that neither standard historical nor literary treatments have provided an adequate foundation for understanding Solon s dike The main defect lies in an inability to connect Solon s concrete political work with his poetic perceptions The book s central proposal is that the polis idea from new classical archaeology provides an objective standard for an interpretation of Solon s dike which remedies this defect The third chapter sets forth the polis idea which becomes the measure for an examination in the final two chapters of Solon s view of dike The book thus exhibits an interdisciplinary approach to Archaic poetry
