

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

"J" CLASSIC COMMERCIAL FINNED TUBE RADIATION JV3/JV4-ARS

- Determine quantities of enclosure and accessories required per wall or run. If installation is wall-to-wall, run back plate to within 1/4" of adjoining wall(s). If run ends with end cap, extend back plate beyond end of required enclosure 1- 1/2" for 3" end and 6" for 6-3/8" end.
- Mount back plate (full or partial) to wall at prescribed height. (Refer to Submittal Drawing) making sure that it is straight and level. If valve compartments are being used, make sure that an equivalent amount of back plate is installed.
- Hot Water Systems: Water brackets are used to support the enclosure and a single tier of element. Water brackets do not provide pitch for the element. If a second tier (row) of elements is to be installed, mount bracket mounted hangers to the water bracket using the 5/16- 18 carriage bolt and nut supplied before installation of the brackets to the wall. Install two (2) water brackets per enclosure length up to 6'-0" of length. Three (3) water brackets per cover 6'-6" up to 6'-0" of length. Valve compartments should have a minimum of one (1) bracket (Accessories do not require brackets). Insert top of the bracket into "V" bend of back plate (Full or Partial) and insert into horizontal flange of the Partial back plate. Secure brackets to wall using fasteners (as specified) by others. Supply/Return Pipe hangers (if required) can be mounted to the wall adjacent to the water bracket (every other one).
- Steam Systems (Two Pipe): Attach bracket mounted hangers to steam bracket (one per each tier of element per steam bracket) with 5/16- 18 carriage bolt and nuts supplied before the installation of the steam brackets to the wall. Install two (2) brackets per enclosure length up to 6'-0" of length. Three (3) brackets per cover 6'-6" up to 6'-0" of length. Valve compartments should have a minimum of one (1) bracket (Accessories do not require brackets). Insert top of the bracket into "V" bend of back plate (Full or Partial) and insert into horizontal flange of the Partial back plate. Secure brackets to wall using fasteners (as specified) by others. Valve compartments should have minimum of one (1) bracket (Accessories do not require brackets). Supply/Return Pipe hangers (if required) can be mounted to the wall adjacent to the steam bracket (every other one).
- Lay out heating element as required. Place slide cradle onto the bottom of element at each bracket location. The element cradle has two legs that angle out slightly. Position the legs between the fins so there is tension against the legs. This holds the cradles in position. For Two Pipe Steam systems adjust element pitch by raising the bracket mounted hanger and tighten nut to secure hanger into position. Second tier elements mounted on the bracket mounted hangers can be adjusted up or down. Check submittal drawing for correct position of element fin. For copper tube elements, flush the loop or series with system water after soldering to neutralize the remaining flux material and prevent corrosive action and resulting pinhole leaks.
- The enclosure can now be installed. Start enclosure at left end of run, working clock wise. The enclosure back bend mounts directly into the "V" bend of back plate. Firmly push next piece of cover into slip joint tabs of piece on left until run is completed. Secure bottom of enclosure into brackets. Tighten the position clamps to secure the enclosure.
- Install overlapping accessories as indicated on room schedule. All accessories are overlapping. Valve Compartments are installed the same as enclosure. The top back bend is slipped between the wall and the back plate. The accessory bottom returns to the wall and is secured with fasteners by others.

MAINTENANCE

Before each heating season, remove accessories and enclosure panel to inspect finned tube elements for accumulation of dust or other debris that may accumulate and block airflow between fins. Remove dust and debris from coil fins with a vacuum cleaner or compressed air. Inspect for leaks or areas of corrosion. It should not be required, but if necessary, place a drop of lubricant (machine oil) onto each ball bearing (where applicable) located in the water brackets or bracket mounted hangers. Replace cover and accessories.
