Hartman,2022-03-29 A visual and global chronicle of the triumphs challenges and impact of over 100 women in architecture from early practitioners to contemporary leaders Marion Mahony Griffin passed the architectural licensure exam in 1898 and created exquisite drawings that buoyed the reputation of Frank Lloyd Wright Her story is one of the many told in The Women Who Changed Architecture which sets the record straight on the transformative impact women have made on architecture With in depth profiles and stunning images this is the most comprehensive look at women in architecture around the world from the nineteenth century to today Discover contemporary leaders like MacArthur Fellow Jeanne Gang spearheading sustainable design initiatives reimagining cities as equitable spaces and directing architecture schools An essential read for architecture students architects and anyone interested in how buildings are created and the history behind them

Landmarks of American Women's History Page Putnam Miller,2004-02-19 Throughout history women have often worked in informal ways and in modest conditions frequently without monuments or grand examples of architecture preserved to commemorate their accomplishments Landmarks of American Women's History describes the sites that represent a wide variety of women's experiences and accomplishments Women's History is Everywhere ,2000

Preserving Western History Andrew Gulliford,2005-08-15 The first collection of essays on public history in the American West Women, Leisure and Tourism Linda J. Ingram,Klára Tarkó,Susan L. Slocum,2021-12-03 Women Leisure and Tourism provides a comprehensive discussion of women leisure and tourism through the lens of leisure production and consumption both by women and for women Specifically this text includes a multi cultural perspective to highlight the unique attributes leisure brings to women the role of women in leisure entrepreneurship and the creation of supportive inclusive environments to enhance female well being through the examination of these activities in often overlooked populations The diversity of women's leisure and tourism practices is best perceived through the links between various leisure practices e g sport outdoor recreation travel and tourism learning crafts events family leisure as well as an understanding of leisure production across cultures and life stages These chapters bring to the forefront many of the challenges inherent in providing leisure and tourism that support the diverse needs of women as well as a look at female innovation that is also often overlooked in leisure research The book includes examples of both applied and conceptual chapters from global perspectives in academic studies

Living in the Landscape Arnold Berleant,1997 In Living in the Landscape Arnold Berleant explores new ways of thinking about how we live and might live in the landscapes that enfold us Through the concepts of aesthetic engagement and environmental continuity he proposes a new paradigm that offers a holistic approach to the meaning of place and places of meaning in our lives Although environmental aesthetics is linked in the popular mind to dramatic vistas and monumental landscapes the Grand Canyon for example Berleant is much more concerned with the commonplace settings of everyday life He argues that our active appreciation of or aesthetic engagement with the prosaic landscapes of home work local travel and recreation plays a vital role in our discovery of hidden continuities as well as pleasure and meaning in the places we inhabit

Berleant begins with a general introduction to environmental aesthetics identifying the kinds of experience meanings and values it involves and describing its historical sources and the issues with which it is concerned In the rest of the book he spotlights new directions in the field as they relate to education community creativity and the sacred and provides an insightful analysis of negative environmental aesthetics Throughout he is both thoughtful and entertaining as evidenced in his extended critique of the pop post modern environment of Disney World Berleant addresses issues commonly associated with the environmental movement e g preservation pollution control and quality of life But his study draws from a wide range of disciplines and for that reason should also appeal to scholars and students interested in art and aesthetics landscape architecture and planning urban and environmental design and cultural geography as well as environmental studies
