Dunning loses both his wife and his position with the Boston Police Department because he can't keep the cork in the bottle. He hops a bus to California and signs on with the Santa Paulina Police Department as a consultant. On a dark stormy night he finds salvation and a fresh beginning in the arms of a beautiful young dime-a-dance girl Angel Doll. When she vanishes after shooting a local gangster Axel Teague, Jack is torn between love and duty. Does he go to Los Angeles to find Angel or stay where he is and work his current case, the mysterious disappearance from the local shantytown of an innocent teenager Louise Crowley? Can he find a way to do both before it's too late? Great noir reading from a major talent.

Institutional Reform and Diaspora Entrepreneurs Jennifer M. Brinkerhoff, 2016 Externally promoted institutional reform even when nominally accepted by developing country governments often fails to deliver lasting change. Diasporans (immigrants who still feel a connection to their country of origin) may offer an In-Between Advantage for institutional reform which links problem understanding with potential solutions and encompasses vision, impact, operational and psychosocial advantages. Individuals with entrepreneurial characteristics can catalyze institutional reform. Diasporans may have particular advantages for entrepreneurship as they live both psychologically and materially between the place of origin they left and the new destination they have embraced. Their entrepreneurial characteristics may be accidental, cultivated through the migration and diaspora experience, or innate to individuals' personalities. This book articulates the diaspora institutional entrepreneur. In-Between Advantage proposes a model for understanding the characteristics and motivational influences of entrepreneurs generally and how they apply to diaspora entrepreneurs in particular and presents a staged model of institutional entrepreneur actions. I test these frameworks through case narratives of social institutional reform in Egypt, economic institutional reform in Ethiopia, and political institutional reform in Chad. In addition to identifying policy implications, this book makes important theoretical contributions in three areas. First, it builds on existing and emerging critiques of international development assistance that articulate prescriptions related to alternative theories of change. Second, it fills an important gap in the literature by focusing squarely on the role of agency in institutional reform processes while still accounting for organizational systems and socio-political contexts. In doing so, it integrates a more expansive view of entrepreneurship into extant understandings of institutional entrepreneurship and it sheds light on what happens in the frequently invoked black box of agency. Third, it demonstrates the fallacy of many theoretical frameworks that seek to order institutional change processes into neatly definable linear stages.

Lawless Love Rosanne Bittner, 2016-03-29 A man ruled by his gun meets a woman led by her heart in a dazzling western historical romance from the bestselling author of Shameless. When Moss Tucker smells danger, he shoots it. When he needs shelter, he grabs it. And when he wants a woman's touch, he buys it. But then he sees Amanda Boone's sparkling azure eyes, an innocent beauty like her would never get involved with a law-breaking man like him. Chestnut-haired Amanda tries to keep her gaze on the vast frontier that flashes past her train window, but it keeps straying to the buckskin-clad stranger. Every inch of him is virile and strong. She knows it's wrong to even think of his muscular arms crushing her soft curves in a fierce embrace Yet she vows that before the trip is over he will be the one to tame her savage desire with his wild and lawless love Bittner s characters spring to life Extraordinary for the depth of emotion with which they are portrayed Publishers Weekly Equality and Diversity in Education 1 Felicity Armstrong, Mary Masterton, Patricia Potts, 2013-10-08 Designed to accompany the Open University course Developing Intensive Curricula Equality and Diversity in Education Vol 1 will appeal to research students undertaking research in the area of education focusing on special needs
