These challenges require a variety of approaches to management, but I think you can see the general idea: get your hands dirty, or get offed (depending on the concept), always maintaining an <sup>open</sup> exchange with those <sup>around</sup> you. And, as I said, we have people who will challenge and shape the process, important thing I believe and allowing people to work with us and to challenge us without allowing them to get off the matter. In short, I think we have a lot to offer the world.

In this part I didn't pay much attention to Family Geography. However, I did think of the term "community" when I thought of the way we are connected to others. In community, I mean the people who live together, especially when I think about a school and people who share a great deal of knowledge or ideas, often with a strong belief in a common goal or purpose. I also think of the way we are connected to others, and the way we are connected to the world around us. I also think of the way we are connected to the world around us, and the way we are connected to the world around us.
