Connecting Civic Engagement and Social Innovation Amanda Moore McBride, Eric Mlyn, 2020-04-03 This book offers a much needed appraisal of two key social change movements within higher education civic engagement and social innovation The authors critically explore the historical and contemporary contexts as well as democratic foundations or absence thereof of both approaches concluding with a discussion of possible future directions that may make the approaches more effective in fulfilling the broader democratic mission of U S higher education This is an essential resource for those in higher education who wish to promote and advance social change as it provides an opportunity to critically examine where we are with our civic engagement and social innovation approaches and what we might do to best realize their promise through changes in our educational processes pedagogical strategies evaluation metrics and outcomes Liberation And Purity Chetan Bhatt, Chetan Bhatt University of Southampton., 2013-10-28 An examination of race and political cultural religious movements in the West in the context of transatlantic debates on modernity It explains the relationship to political developments in the Third World The SAGE Encyclopedia of Action Research David Coghlan, Mary Brydon-Miller, 2014-08-11 Action research is a term used to describe a family of related approaches that integrate theory and action with a goal of addressing important organizational community and social issues together with those who experience them It focuses on the creation of areas for collaborative learning and the design enactment and evaluation of liberating actions through combining action and research reflection and action in an ongoing cycle of cogenerative knowledge While the roots of these methodologies go back to the 1940s there has been a dramatic increase in research output and adoption in university curricula over the past decade This is now an area of high popularity among academics and researchers from various fields especially business and organization studies education health care nursing development studies and social and community work The SAGE Encyclopedia of Action Research brings together the many strands of action research and addresses the interplay between these disciplines by presenting a state of the art overview and comprehensive breakdown of the key tenets and methods of action research as well as detailing the work of key theorists and contributors to action research Handbook Transdisciplinary Learning Thorsten Philipp, Tobias Schmohl, 2023-08-22 What is transdisciplinarity and what are its methods How does a living lab work What is the purpose of citizen science student organized teaching and cooperative education This handbook unpacks key terms and concepts to describe the range of transdisciplinary learning in the context of academic education Transdisciplinary learning turns out to be a comprehensive innovation process in response to the major global challenges such as climate change urbanization or migration A reference work for students lecturers scientists and anyone wanting to understand the profound changes in higher education Leadership and Learning Marlene Morrison, 2009-07-01 This proposal is for a book about pedagogical leadership that draws upon an extensive literature base as well as empirical research by the author in order to examine forms of leadership and management that promote and instill education for learning and social justice Its starting points are to restore and elevate social and moral purpose in leadership as first order constructs that have theoretical and practical implications for existing and potential leader educators This is not necessarily an easy thing to do Asking educators and researchers of education leadership to define what they consider to be the core moral values underpinning leadership in educational settings usually results in some fairly bland if fundamentally important statements about putting learners at the heart of leadership praxis especially that which occurs in educational settings In practice numerous organisational mission statements attest to this rhetorical conviction Yet it is current policy contexts that place relations between leaders teachers and learners in contradictory moral positions Drives to improve student performance through increased competition in the market place intensified procedures for monitoring and evaluation and frenetic commitments to change as overarching leadership mantras have relegated Sergioanni s 1998 definition of pedagogical leadership that invests in capacity building by developing social and academic capital for students and intellectual capital for teachers as second even third order constructs This book intends to reverse the process and in doing so it will relegate to second order and by lively debate and illustrative vignettes many though not all of the hegemonic constructs that are prevalent in current managerial times This book will therefore define and challenge a paradox as governments express commitment to an educational settlement that minimises exclusion widens participation and promotes active citizenship the much heralded vanguards of that settlement leaders and managers are being enjoined to reduce their thinking and action to technicist manoeuvres Grace 2000 236 in which aspirations towards social justice can become more distant strangely exotic even in their expression As importantly such technical manoeuvring is not accompanied by a reduction in leadership and management tasks and responsibilities As more is demanded of organizations and their leaders in terms of responsibilities for learning in areas of health sexuality drug awareness physical exercise and nutrition citizenship work experience race equality and skills in familial and social caring questions arise about the extent to which social justice constitutes a wide umbrella under which such interests might shelter or whether social justice is to be considered separately with attendant dangers to be seen as add on and therefore potentially marginalized or distinct from the total enterprise that constitutes education and learning Counterpoint-Point Jim

Private Learning, Public Needs Eric J. Weiner,2005 The publication Private Learning Public Needs looks at the devastating effects neoliberal globalization continues to have on education schooling and literacy development in the United States The book is divided in three parts Part I Neoliberal Globalization and the Question of Adult Literacy Education is broken into two chapters Chapter one is a study of neoleberalism and its relationship to globalization Specially the changing role of the state is examined in terms that bring attention to globalization s capacity to ignore nation state borders especially in the context of finance and culture The role of the state is discussed in light of its influence on local agencies and on local institutions Of issue is the interiorization of neoliberal globalization at the material levels of educational life namely curriculum standard and development Through the imposition of certain kinds of standards teacher education programs must make some hard decisions about whether they will on the one hand satisfy the needs manufactured by neoliberal interests as they manifest themselves in curricular and pedagogic mandates or on the other will use their authority to challenge and confront that which they know is detrimental to democratic principles and good teaching practices Chapter two examines how neoliberal interests have impeded the goals of adult literacy education Part II The Work of Critical Theory in a Neoliberal Age takes up the work of two prominent critical theorists in and beyond education Erich Fromm and Paulo Freire Chapter three discusses Fromm's important alternative to top down discourses of power and authority In chapter four Freire's work in São Paulo as Secretary of Education is studied for what it can teach us about the importance and possibility of structural transformations

Teaching Africa George J. Sefa Dei,2009-12-04 One is always struck by the brilliant work of George Sefa Dei but nothing so far has demonstrated his pedagogical leadership as much as the current project With a sense of purpose so pure and so thoroughly intellectual Dei shows why he must be credited with continuing the motivation and action for justice in education He has produced in this powerful volume Teaching Africa the same type of close reasoning that has given him credibility in the anti racist struggle in education Sustaining the case for the democratization of education and the revising of the pedagogical method to include Indigenous knowledge are the twin pillars of his style A key component of this new science of pedagogy is the crusade against any form of hegemonic education where one group of people assumes that they are the masters of everyone else Whether this happens in South Africa Canada United States India Iraq Brazil or China Dei s insights suggest that this hegemony of education in pluralistic and multi ethnic societies is a false construction We live pre eminently in a world of co cultures not cultures and sub cultures and once we understand this difference we will have a better approach to education and equity in the human condition
