INTRODUCTION

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY OF JOSEPH CONRAD

Joseph Teodor Konrad Korzeniowski was an orphan by the age of 12; his mother and father both died as a result of disease the family spent months in Siberia for plotting against the Russian Tsar. At seventeen, he traveled to Marseille and began to work as a sailor. Eventually, he began to sail on British ships, and became a British citizen in 1886, at the age of 28. It was about this time he changed his name to the more British-sounding Joseph Conrad and published his first short stories (he wrote in English, his third language after Polish and French). For the next eight years, Conrad continued to work as a sailor, even spending time commanding a steamship in the Belgian Congo, and continued to write. He published his first novel (Almásy's Palace) in 1894. In 1895, Conrad had met Joseph George. He quickly won critical praise, though financial success eluded him for many years and both he and his wife suffered serious illnesses. He wrote his best-known works in the years just before and after the turn of the century: Heart of Darkness (1899), Lord Jim (1902), and Nostromo (1904). Conrad died in 1924.

HISTORICAL CONTEXT

During the last two decades of the 19th century, European nations battled each other for wealth and power. This battle caused the "scramble for Africa," in which European countries competed to colonize as much of Africa as possible. While the colonizing Europeans claimed to want to "civilize" the African continent, their actions spoke otherwise: they were interested solely in gaining wealth and did not care how they did it, or who was killed. One of the most brutal of the European colonies in its treatment of the native Africans was the Belgian Congo, the property of the Belgian King Leopold I. In 1890, Joseph Conrad worked as a pilot on a steamship in the Belgian Congo, and Heart of Darkness is at least in part based on his experiences there.

RELATED LITERARY WORKS

Joseph Conrad's novels reside in the transition period between Victorianism, with its strict conventions and focus on public society, and Modernism, which sought to explode old conventions and invent new literary forms to convey human experience more fully. Conrad's work was instrumental in this effort, particularly his experimentation with the use of time and non-chronological narratives. Heart of Darkness also fits squarely into the genre of colonial literature, in which European writers portrayed the colonization and imperial vision of European nations from Africa to the Far East in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

PLOT SUMMARY

The Narrator describes a night spent on a ship in the mouth of the Thames River in England. Marlow, one of the men on board, tells of his time spent as a riverboat pilot in the Belgian Congo. With the help of his well-connected aunt, Marlow gets a job as pilot on a steamship on the Congo River in Africa for a European business outfit called the Company. First he travels to the European city he describes as a "wildcat enterprise" to visit the Company headquarters, and then to Africa and up the Congo to assume command of his ship. The Company headquarters is strangely somber, and on his voyage to Africa he witnesses waste, incompetence, negligence, and brutality so extreme that it would be awful if it weren't so awful. In particular, he sees a bunch of men firing into a forest for no discernible reason and comes upon a grove where exploited black laborers wander off to die.
