Homelessness Whose Problem Is It Issue And Debate:

Homelessness Ted Gottfried,1999 With a clear writing style that employs plenty of examples Ted Gottfried begins his discussion by examining the history of homelessness in this country and the difficult issues surrounding the homeless such as the difficulties involved in getting an accurate count of the homeless and just who they are and why they are in that situation The opposing sides of whose problem homelessness is and how the problem should be solved as well as a discussion of welfare reform and how it affects the homeless are presented fairly and accurately as readers are invited to formulate their own opinions The book also includes a list of organizations to contact for more information Modern Homelessness Mary Ellen Hombs,2011-04-19 This in depth examination reviews fundamental changes of the past decade that have reduced homelessness in the United States and other Western democracies Focusing on the last decade Modern Homelessness A Reference Handbook examines the issue in the United States and in other nations that have adopted new strategies to address homelessness and achieved notable results in preventing and ending it The handbook covers the unprecedented reductions first announced in 2007 and the crucial shifts in strategy and investment and the results that brought them about These fundamental changes are analyzed to identify the factors that proved most effective in altering the national and local dialogue and response relative to this daunting issue In addition to a brief history of homelessness in contemporary times the handbook examines key developments of the past decade in research policy housing models and service delivery that have been shown to decrease homelessness These include active partnership among the governments of the United States Canada England Australia New Zealand and others that moved the discussion in a new direction The story is brought up to date with a consideration of the effects of the 2008 economic crisis Homelessness in America--II United States.
