

CHAPTER 1

How to Make a Map

Start by looking: what do you see? Looking at maps is easy. Not really. You can glance at the Mona Lisa in a second. But to get the Mona Lisa you have to look more carefully. What do you see on the Voyager map? Words, lines, continents, a grid. A story, some information with the story. What do you notice first? Black lines, gray lines, white lines ... why are they different? Making maps requires that you answer such questions, and many more. Throughout this book, in nearly every chapter, we annotate The Flight of Voyager. By the end of the book, you will understand how to really see - and make - a map.
