Making Social Science Matter Making Social Science Matter:

Making Social Science Matter Bent Flyvbjerg, 2001-01-15 Making Social Science Matter presents an exciting new approach to the social and behavioral sciences including theoretical argument methodological guidelines and examples of practical application Why has social science failed in attempts to emulate natural science and produce normal theory Bent Flyvbjerg argues that the strength of social sciences lies in its rich reflexive analysis of values and power essential to the social and economic development of any society Richly informed powerfully argued and clearly written this book opens up a new future for the social sciences Its empowering message will make it required reading for students and academics across the social and behavioral sciences

Making Social Science Matter Bent Flyvbjerg, 2001-01-15 New approach demonstrating how social science can be successful focusing on context values and power

Making Political Science Matter Sanford F. Schram, Brian Caterino, 2006-11-27 Making Political Science Matter brings together a number of prominent scholars to discuss the state of the field of Political Science In particular these scholars are interested in ways to reinvigorate the discipline by connecting it to present day political struggles Uniformly well written and steeped in a strong sense of history the contributors consider such important topics as the usefulness of rational choice theory the ethical limits of pluralism the use and misuse of empirical research in political science the present day divorce between political theory and empirical science the connection between political science scholarship and political struggles and the future of the discipline This volume builds on the debate in the discipline over the significance of the work of Bent Flyvbjerg whose book Making Social Science Matter has been characterized as a manifesto for the Perestroika Movement that has roiled the field in recent years Contributors include Brian Caterino Stewart Clegg Bent Flyvbjerg Mary Hawkesworth Patrick Thaddeus Jackson Gregory J Kasza David Kettler David D Laitin Timothy W Luke Theodore R Schatzki Sanford F Schram Peregrine Schwartz Shea Corey S Shdaimah Roland W Stahl and Leslie Paul Thiele

Real Social Science Bent Flyvbjerg, Todd Landman, Sanford Schram, 2012-04-19 A new hands on approach to social inquiry for social scientists who wish to make a difference to policy and practice

The Dilemmas of Social Democracies Howard Richards, Joanna Swanger, 2008-01-01 The Dilemmas of Social Democracies seeks to advance the eradication of poverty and the ethical construction of social democracy and sustainable peace Howard Richards and Joanna Swanger argue that the reason that capitalism resists transformation and that social democracy is so hard to achieve is because of the philosophical and institutional underpinnings _the constitutive rules_ of capitalism the book therefore explores the historical origins of these rules their implications for blocking progress toward social justice and how they can be improved

New Thinking in Complexity for the Social Sciences and Humanities Ton Jörg, 2011-08-09 The underlying idea and motive for the book is that the notion of complexity may humanize the social sciences may conceive the complex human being as more human and turn reality as assumed in our doing social science into a more complex that is a richer reality for all The main focus of this book is on new thinking in complexity with complexity to be taken as derived from the Latin word complexus that which is interwoven The trans disciplinary approach advocated here will be trans disciplinary in two ways firstly by going beyond the separate disciplines within the fields of both natural sciences and social sciences and secondly by going beyond the separate cultures of the natural sciences and of the social sciences and humanities

Interrogating Public Policy Theory Linda Courtenay Botterill, Alan Fenna, 2019 This book questions the way policy making has been distanced from politics in prevailing theories of the policy process and highlights the frequently overlooked ubiquity of values and values conflicts in politics and policy It examines the strengths and weaknesses of current theories reviews the illusions of rationalism in politics and explores the way values are implicated throughout the democratic process from voter choice to policy decisions It argues that our understanding of public policy is enhanced by recognizing its intrinsically political and value laden nature

Objects of Social Science Eleonora Montuschi, 2003-12-01 Presents a clear and structured analysis of the Philosophy of Social Science across each of its main disciplines Anthropology Sociology History Economics and Geography Using a range of examples from specific social sciences the book both identifies the practical and theoretical procedures involved in the identification of the object and at the same time raises questions about the very objectivity of these procedures in analyzing the object

Praxis for the Poor Sanford Schram, 2002-11 A compelling examination of the careers of Richard Cloward and Frances Fox Piven as well as Jane Addams demonstrates how politically active scholarship can contribute to struggles for social justice

Hermeneutic Philosophies of Social Science Babette Babich, 2017-10-23 Hermeneutic philosophies of social science offer an approach to the philosophy of social science foregrounding the human subject and including attention to history as well as a methodological reflection on the notion of reflection including the intrusions of distortions and prejudice Hermeneutic philosophies of social science offer an explicit orientation to and concern with the subject of the human and social sciences Hermeneutic philosophies of the social science represented in the present collection of essays draw inspiration from Gadamer's work as well as from Paul Ricoeur in addition to Michel de Certeau and Michel Foucault among others Special attention is given to Wilhelm Dilthey in addition to the broader phenomenological traditions of Edmund Husserl and Martin Heidegger as well as the history of philosophy in Plato and Descartes The volume is indispensable reading for students and scholars interested in epistemology philosophy of science social social studies of knowledge as well as social studies of technology

Literary Journalism and Social Justice Robert Alexander, Willa McDonald, 2022-08-04 This book examines the prominent place a commitment to social justice and equity has occupied in the global history of literary journalism With international case studies it explores and theorizes the way literary journalists have addressed inequality and its consequences in their practice In the process this volume focuses on the critical attitude the writers of this genre bring to their stories the immersive reporting they use to gain detailed and intimate knowledge of their subjects and the array of innovative rhetorical strategies through which they represent those encounters The contributors explain how these strategies encourage readers to respond to injustices of class race indigeneity gender mobility and access to knowledge Together they make the case that throughout its history literary journalism has proven uniquely well adapted to fusing facts with feeling in a way which makes it a compelling force for social change Why the Humanities Matter Today Lee

Trepanier,2017-03-08 The humanities in American higher education is in a state of crisis with declining student enrollment fewer faculty positions and diminishing public prestige Instead of recycling old arguments that have lost their appeal the humanities must discover and articulate new rationales for their value to students faculty administrators and the public Why the Humanities Matter Today In Defense of Liberal Education is an attempt to do so by having philosophers literature and foreign language professors historians and political theorists defend the value and explain the worth of their respective disciplines as well as illuminate the importance of liberal education By setting forth new arguments about the significance of their disciplines these scholars show how the humanities can reclaim its place of prominence in American higher education

Theory and Methods in Political Science Vivien Lowndes,David Marsh,Gerry Stoker,2017-09-28 A broad ranging and pluralistic textbook which highlights the rich variety of approaches to studying politics Written by an international team of experts this fully revised fourth edition offers cutting edge coverage from fundamental to contemporary issues Integrating guides to further reading and clear examples of how research methods can be applied it enables readers to feel confident about taking their study of politics forward An ideal foundation for study and research in political science this textbook will be essential to students at any stage of their degree It serves as core reading on undergraduate and postgraduate political analysis theory and methods courses In demonstrating how independent research is undertaken in political science the book allows students and early career researchers to begin thinking about formulating their own research agendas This new edition Leads the way with fresh new ideas and perspectives with the help of new co editor Vivien Lowndes Includes new chapters on post structuralism as a theoretical approach and on big data as a methodological resource Offers an international perspective on political science with discussion of global as well as domestic politics and a range of international cases and examples Writing Research Differently Margaret Malone,2024-10-10 Community university engaged research is one of the most important innovations occurring within higher education today Yet the scholarly literature remains largely untouched by these profound shifts To better understand why and what can be done about it this book focuses its attention on the research article itself a prestigious conventionalised form of writing that helps shape what knowledge is how we know it and for what purposes This highly original book challenges the notion of the empirical research article as neutral that it just is Analysis of a range of texts from the field of engaged research reveals both the dominance of scientific genre conventions and author led strategies to modify adapt and resist them In the final chapters a re imagined research article is proposed While speculative this is an important undertaking offered as critical and practical encouragement for a form of scholarly communication in which social and cognitive justice is not just acknowledged but is present

Internet Communication Technology (ICT) for Reconciliation Iyad Muhsen AlDajani,2020-06-15 The book explores Applied Phronesis in internet communication technology and Netnography application introducing it on Facebook and YouTube usages It defines two pillars for the research dynamics Episteme and Techne the know how how to and the power dynamics The Episteme explores the dynamics of reconciliation in the middle of conflict Internet communication technologies for transformation Moderation in Islam online Deliberative Democracy The second pillar Techne is explored through Internet communication technology for the advancement of reconciliation in the middle of a conflict The book describes the Phronetic Approach in internet research in academic discourse adopting Phronesis an Aristotelian concept and method defined by Bent Flyvbjerg and exploring Netnography for Kozinets in Mixed Method research design and applying methodological triangulation in research and testing the hypothesis using qualitative content analysis for Krippendorff developing a methodological discourse for interdisciplinary research using internet communication technologies as part of understanding big data introducing Applied Digital Humanities The Global Turn Eve Darian-Smith, Philip C. McCarty,2017-05-23

Deploying interdisciplinary theoretical perspectives that speak to interconnected global dimensions is critical if one's work is to remain relevant and applicable to the emerging global scale issues of our time The Global Turn is a guide for students and scholars across all areas of the social sciences and humanities who wish to embark upon global studies research projects The authors demonstrate how the global can be studied from a local perspective and vice versa Global processes manifest at multiple transnational regional national and local levels interconnected dimensions that are mutually constitutive This book walks the reader through the steps of thinking like a global scholar in theoretical methodological and practical terms explaining the implications of global perspectives for research design

Re-thinking Development in Africa Komla Tsey,2011 In this thought provoking book Komla Tsey argues that if governments NGOs development donor agencies and researchers are serious about development in Africa they need to get down to ground level both metaphorically and literally They must search deep into Africa's own rich oral traditions by creating space and opportunity for ordinary Africans whose voices have so far been conspicuously absent in the development discourse to tell and share their own stories of development Story sharing as research methodology acts as a mirror reflecting the participants self evaluation of where they have come from where they are now and how to proceed into the future They are strategies that can empower and enable individuals and communities of people to be agents of their own change which in Tsey's view is what development is all about
