Man Who Made Things Trees:

The Man Who Made Things Out of Trees Robert Penn, 2015-10-29 Robert Penn cut down an ash tree to see how many things could be made from it After all ash is the tree we have made the greatest and most varied use of over the course of human history Journeying from Wales across Europe and Ireland to the USA Robert finds that the ancient skills and knowledge of the properties of ash developed over millennia making wheels and arrows furniture and baseball bats are far from dead The book chronicles how the urge to understand and appreciate trees still runs through us all like grain through wood

The Man Who Made Things Out of Trees: The Ash in Human Culture and History Robert Penn, 2016-07-25 The story of how one man cut down a single tree to see how many things could be made from it Out of all the trees in the world the ash is most closely bound up with who we are the tree we have made the greatest and most varied use of over the course of human history One frigid winter morning Robert Penn lovingly selected an ash tree and cut it down He wanted to see how many beautiful handmade objects could be made from it Thus begins an adventure of craftsmanship and discovery Penn visits the shops of modern day woodworkers whose expertise has been handed down through generations and finds that ancient woodworking techniques are far from dead He introduces artisans who create a flawless axe handle a rugged and true wagon wheel a deadly bow and arrow an Olympic grade toboggan and many other handmade objects using their knowledge of ash s unique properties Penn connects our daily lives back to the natural woodlands that once dominated our landscapes Throughout his travels from his home in Wales across Europe and America Penn makes a case for the continued and better use of the ash tree as a sustainable resource and reveals some of the dire threats to our ash trees The emerald ash borer a voracious and destructive beetle has killed tens of millions of ash trees across North America since 2002 Unless we are prepared to act now and better value our trees Penn argues the ash tree and its many magnificent contributions to mankind will become a thing of the past This exuberant tale of nature human ingenuity and the pleasure of making things by hand chronicles how the urge to understand and appreciate trees still runs through us all like grain through wood

The Man Who Could Make Things Vanish Jack Cady, 2016-11-01 What if you could make things vanish purely with a simple effort of your mind What would you do Who would want to control that power Jack Cady in The Man Who Could Make Things Vanish releases a long pent up everyman rage against a system that is designed to terrorize inhumanize and degrade the human experience The secret organization behind this villainy is given a name here Mobilier and the only thing that can stop it from complete world domination is one man Cady an outspoken critic of the military industrial complex and over reaching government action turns his considerable talents to pose a scathing What if that is still terrifyingly relevant and cautionary today as it was when the book was first released twenty years ago This edition includes an introduction by Dale Bailey winner of the Shirley Jackson Award scenery used in stage plays Illustrated Theatre Production Guide contains a brief history of physical theatres and the development of various forms such as thrust proscenium and black box venues Operation of theatre equipment is covered in detail in the chapters on rigging and curtains Instructions for operating a fly system and basic stagehand skills such as knot tying and drapery folding are clearly outlined The use of metal tubing as a structural element is explored as an alternative to wooden scenery The chapter on lighting discusses electrical theory as well as the practical aspects of hanging and focusing lights The final chapter in Illustrated Theatre Production Guide is a compilation of many different projects that are easy to approach and to complete and have practical value for a theatre group

Can Different Cultures Think the Same Thoughts?
Kenneth Dorter, 2018-04-30 A welcome contribution to the burgeoning multicultural revolution in philosophy persuasively shows that ethics cannot be innocent of metaphysics Bryan W Van Norden author of Introduction to Classical Chinese Philosophy Kenneth Dorter's Can Different Cultures Think the Same Thoughts is a study of fundamental issues in metaphysics and ethics across major philosophical traditions of the world including the way in which metaphysics can be a foundation for ethics as well as the importance of metaphysics on its own terms Dorter examines such questions through a detailed comparison of selected major thinkers and classic works in three global philosophical traditions those of India China and the West In each chapter Dorter juxtaposes and compares two or more philosophers or classic works from different traditions from Spinoza and Shankara to Confucius and Plato to Marcus Aurelius and the Bhagavad Gita In doing so he explores different perspectives and reveals limitations and assumptions that might otherwise be obscure The goal of Dorter's cross cultural approach is to consider how far works from different cultures can be understood as holding comparable philosophical views Although Dorter reveals commonalities across the different traditions he makes no claim that there is such a thing as a universal philosophy Clearly there are fundamental disagreements among the philosophers and works studied Yet in each of the case studies of a particular chapter we can discover a shared or at least analogous way of looking at issues across different cultures All those interested in metaphysics ethics Indian philosophy Chinese philosophy and comparative philosophy will find much of interest in this book
