Recent Advances in Restoration, Preservation and Eco-Morphophysiology of Plants Under Integrated Management Approaches and Current Climate Change Taimoor Hassan Farooq, 2023-07-04     Applications of Digital Image Processing, 1986     Journal of the North China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland. North China Branch, Shanghai, 1923 Contains list of members     Chinese Modern Design Thinking Cao Xiao'ou, 2024-10-29 This book studies the development of modern and contemporary design art in China since 1978 Starting with the design enlightenment and closely following the evolution of the visual and material forms in three levels of individual group and country since the reform and opening up the book comprehensively and meticulously describes and analyzes the social particularity of the changes of Chinese design art in this period and makes corresponding evaluations on its success and failure The author believes that Chinese modern design thinking has arisen from the problems displayed in the phenomena and events of Chinese modern design Therefore with nine chapters organized in chronological order and unfolded layer by layer by focusing on the relevant topics of design thinking the book has sorted out the academic contentions important events phenomena details of Chinese design in this period by placing design in the background of great history and has searched discovered and summarized the key problems of Chinese design in each stage and analyzed the causes and consequences and has specially studied on the gains and losses of important phenomena and theoretical problems and correspondingly made theoretical comments Therefore it is a book comprehensively presenting the overall look of the development of Chinese modern design thinking history This book has a grand structure and detailed content The author and her research objects always coexist in the same context and the writing style is fresh the argument is reasonable and the pictures and texts complement each other so the book has both academic depth and readability     The Legal Image of China in Chinese Legal Tradition Xiaobo Dong,     Teaching Chinese Language in Singapore Kay Cheng Soh, 2018-05-17 This book presents the experiences of Chinese Language researchers in Singapore to Chinese Language researchers and teachers in other countries and regions such as the USA the UK and Asia that are home to a large number of learners young and old As such the innovative ideas it provides can be applied in practising teachers classrooms to promote more effective and efficient student learning Beyond pedagogical innovations the book also includes papers on the assessment of Chinese Language learning and teacher literacy two areas that have been largely neglected by the Chinese Language research and teaching communities not only here in Singapore but also around the world This book the sequel to Teaching Chinese Language in Singapore Retrospect and Challenges Springer 2016 is future oriented highlighting ideas that merit further attention from researchers and practitioners alike     Living Chinese Philosophy Roger T. Ames, 2024-10-01 In Living Chinese Philosophy Roger T Ames uses comparative cultural hermeneutics as a method for contrasting classical Greek ontology the science of being in itself with classical Chinese zoetology the art of living which is made explicit in the Yijing or

Book of Changes Parmenides Plato and Aristotle give us a substance ontology grounded in being qua being or being per se to on he on that guarantees a permanent and unchanging subject as the substratum for the human experience This substratum or essence includes its purpose for being telos and defines the what it means to be a thing of this kind eidos of any particular thing thus setting a closed exclusive boundary and the strict identity necessary for a particular thing to be this and not that In the Book of Changes we find a vocabulary that makes explicit cosmological assumptions that are a stark alternative to this substance ontology It also provides the interpretive context for the canonical texts by locating them within a holistic organic and ecological worldview To provide a meaningful contrast with this fundamental assumption of on or being we might borrow the Greek notion of zoe or life and create the neologism zoe tology as the art of living shengshenglung This cosmology begins from living sheng itself as the motive force behind change and gives us a world of boundless becomings not things that are but events that are happening a contrast between an ontological conception of human beings and a process conception of what the author calls human becomings

Ancient and Modern Practices of Citizenship in Asia and the West Gregory Bracken,2025-10-01 What does it mean to be a good citizen today What are practices of citizenship And what can we learn from the past about these practices to better engage in city life in the twenty first century Ancient and Modern Practices of Citizenship in Asia and the West Care of the Self is a collection of papers that examine these questions The contributors come from a variety of different disciplines including architecture urbanism philosophy and history and their essays make comparative examinations of the practices of citizenship from the ancient world to the present day in both the East and the West The papers comparative approaches between East and West and ancient and modern leads to a greater understanding of the challenges facing citizens in the urbanized twenty first century and by looking at past examples suggests ways of addressing them While the book s point of departure is philosophical its key aim is to examine how philosophy can be applied to everyday life for the betterment of citizens in cities not just in Asia and the West but everywhere

Technology, Gender and History in Imperial China Francesca Bray,2013-06-19 What can the history of technology contribute to our understanding of late imperial China Most stories about technology in pre modern China follow a well worn plot in about 1400 after an early ferment of creativity that made it the most technologically sophisticated civilisation in the world China entered an era of technical lethargy and decline But how are we to reconcile this tale which portrays China in the Ming and Qing dynasties as a dying giant that had outgrown its own strength with the wealth of counterevidence affirming that the country remained rich vigorous and powerful at least until the end of the eighteenth century Does this seeming contradiction mean that the stagnation story is simply wrong or perhaps that technology was irrelevant to how imperial society worked Or does it imply that historians of technology should ask better questions about what technology was what it did and what it meant in pre modern societies like late imperial China In this book Francesca Bray explores subjects such as technology and ethics technology and gendered subjectivities both female and male and technology and statecraft to illuminate how material settings and practices shaped topographies of everyday experience and ideologies of government techniques of the self and technologies of the subject Examining technologies ranging from ploughing and weaving to drawing pictures building a house prescribing medicine or composing a text this book offers a rich insight into the interplay between the micro and macro politics of everyday life and the workings of governmentality in late imperial China showing that gender principles were woven into the very fabric of empire from cosmology and ideologies of rule to the material foundations of the state and the everyday practices of the domestic sphere This authoritative text will be welcomed by students and scholars of Chinese history as well as those working on global history and the histories of gender technology and agriculture Furthermore it will be of great use to those interested in social and cultural anthropology and material culture

The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas Carlos Rojas, Eileen Chow, 2013-03-13 What does it mean for a cinematic work to be Chinese Does it refer specifically to a work's subject or does it also reflect considerations of language ethnicity nationality ideology or political orientation Such questions make any single approach to a vast field like Chinese cinema difficult at best Accordingly The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas situates the term more broadly among various different phases genres and distinct national configurations while taking care to address the consequences of grouping together so many disparate histories under a single banner Offering both a platform for cross disciplinary dialogue and a mapping of Chinese cinema as an expanded field this Handbook presents thirty three essays by leading researchers and scholars intent on yielding new insights and new analyses using three different methodologies Chapters in Part I investigate the historical periodizations of the field through changing notions of national and political identity all the way from the industry s beginnings in the 1920s up to its current forms in contemporary Hong Kong Taiwan and the global diaspora Chapters in Part II feature studies centered on the field s taxonomical formalities including such topics as the role of the Chinese opera in technological innovation the political logic of the Maoist film and the psychoanalytic formula of the kung fu action film Finally in Part III focus is given to the structural elements that comprise a work s production distribution and reception to reveal the broader cinematic apparatuses within which these works are positioned Taken together the multipronged approach supports a wider platform beyond the geopolitical and linguistic limitations in existing scholarship Expertly edited to illustrate a representative set of up to date topics and approaches The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas provides a vital addition to a burgeoning field still in its formative stages
