Nature and the Environment in Contemporary Religious

Contexts Thomas Donlin-Smith, Muhammad Shafiq, 2018-06-11 This collection of essays discusses the human relationship with and responsibilities toward the natural environment from the perspective of religions and the social sciences. The chapters examine a variety of conditions that have contributed to the contemporary environmental crisis including abuse of power, economic greed, industrialization, deforestation, and unplanned waste management. They then discuss concepts from several different religious texts and traditions that promote environmental protection as a sacred moral duty for all humanity. Religious concepts such as dharma, duty toward Mother Earth, tikkun Olam, repair of the world, khalifa, people as deputies of God on earth, amanah, the universe as a trust in human hands, and paticca samuppada, dependent co-arising, are employed to argue that all the components of the biosphere are integral to the cosmos, each piece with its own value and role in the harmony of the whole. The book makes it clear that religions can become more green and play a helpful role in raising our ecological consciousness and supporting preservation of the environment into the future.

Environmental

Constitutionalism in the Anthropocene Domenico Amirante, Silvia Bagni, 2022-04-03 This book examines the relationship between man and nature through different cultural approaches to encourage new environmental legislation as a means of fostering acceptance at a local level. In 2019, the International Union of Geological Sciences (IUGS) recognised that we have entered a new era, the Anthropocene, specifically characterised by the impact of one species, mankind, on environmental change. The Anthropocene is penetrating the discourse of both hard sciences and humanities and social sciences by posing new epistemological as well as practical challenges to many disciplines. Legal sciences have so far been at the margins of this intellectual renewal with few contributions on the central role that the notion of Anthropocene could play in forging a more effective and just environmental law. By applying a multidisciplinary approach and adopting a Law as Culture paradigm to the study of law, this book explores new paths of investigation and possible solutions to be applied. New perspectives for the constitutional framing of environmental policies, rights, and alternative methods for bottom-up participatory law-making and conflict resolution are investigated, showing that environmental justice is not just an option but an objective within reach. The book will be essential reading for students, academics, and policymakers in the areas of law, environmental studies, and anthropology.

The Environmental Apocalypse Jakub Kowalewski, 2022-11-16 This volume brings together scholars working in diverse traditions of the humanities in order to offer a comprehensive analysis of the environmental catastrophe as the modern-day apocalypse. Drawing on philosophy, theology, history, literature, art history, psychoanalysis, as well as queer and decolonial theories, the authors included in this book expound the meaning of the climate apocalypse, reveal its presence in our everyday experiences, and examine its impact on our intellectual, imaginative, and moral practices. Importantly, the chapters show that eco-apocalypticism can inform progressively transformative discourses about climate change. In so doing, they demonstrate the fruitfulness of understanding the environmental catastrophe from within an apocalyptic framework.

carving a much needed path between two unsatisfactory approaches to the climate disaster first the conservative impulse to preserve the status quo responsible for today's crisis and second the reckless acceptance of the destructive effects of climate change This book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars interested in the contributions of both apocalypticism and the humanities to contemporary ecological debates Modern Muslim Theology Martin Nguyen,2018-08-10 This book aims to bring Muslim theology into the present day Rather than a purely academic pursuit Modern Muslim Theology argues that theology is a creative process and discusses how the Islamic tradition can help contemporary practitioners negotiate their relationships with God with one another and with the rest of creation

Generation M Shelina Janmohamed,2016-08-30 What does it mean to be young and Muslim today There is a segment of the world's 1.6 billion Muslims that is more influential than any other and will shape not just the future of Muslims but also the world around them meet Generation M From fashion magazines to social networking the Mipsterz to the Haloodies halal internet dating to Muslim boy bands Generation M are making their mark Shelina Janmohamed award winning author and leading voice on Muslim youth investigates this growing cultural phenomenon at a time when understanding the mindset of young Muslims is critical With their belief in an identity encompassing both faith and modernity Generation M are not only adapting to Western consumerism but reclaiming it as their own Finance, Economics, and Industry for Sustainable Development Anna Rumyantseva,Hod Anyigba,Elena Sintsova,Natalia V.
