How the World's Religions

are Responding to Climate Change Robin Globus Veldman, Andrew Szasz, Randolph Haluza-DeLay, 2013-09-11 A growing chorus of voices has suggested that the world's religions may become critical actors as the climate crisis unfolds particularly in light of international paralysis on the issue. In recent years many faiths have begun to address climate change and its consequences for human societies especially the world's poor. This is the first volume to use social science to examine how religions are helping to address one of the most significant and far reaching challenges of our time. While there is a growing literature in theology and ethics about climate change and religion little research has been previously published about the ways in which religious institutions groups and individuals are responding to the problem of climate change. Seventeen research driven chapters are written by sociologists anthropologists geographers and other social scientists. This book explores what effects religions are having what barriers they are running into or creating and what this means for the global struggle to address climate change.

The Theological and Ecological Vision of Laudato Si', 2017-07-27 This volume provides a comprehensive introduction to the spiritual moral and practical themes of Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato Si'. Leading theologians ethicists scientists and economists provide accessible overviews of the encyclical's major teachings the science it engages and the policies required to address the climate crisis. Chapters on the encyclical's theological and moral teachings situate them within the Christian tradition and papal teaching. Science and policy chapters engaging the encyclical and provide introductions to the Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. The book provides a guide for those wishing to explore the issues raised by Laudato Si' but who lack the specialist knowledge required to know where to begin. Aimed at an undergraduate audience this book provides a reliable introduction to the major themes of Laudato Si' such as a theology of Creation that embraces the insights of contemporary science a renewed understanding of the human person in relationship to the rest of creation a spiritual vision of love and responsibility for all creation the necessary connection between Christian solidarity with the poor and concern for the environment an introduction to the social encyclical tradition from which Laudato Si' both draws and develops.

Theologies of Failure Robert Sirvent, Duncan B. Reyburn, 2020-01-01 What does failure mean for theology? In the Bible we find some unsettling answers to this question. We find lastness usurping firstness and foolishness undoing wisdom. We discover too a weakness more potent than strength and a loss of life that is essential to finding life. Jesus himself offers an array of paradoxes and puzzles through his life and teachings. He even submits himself to humiliation and death to show the cosmos the true meaning of victory. As David Bentley Hart observes most of us would find Christians truly cast in the New Testament mold fairly obnoxious civically reprobate ideologically unsound economically destructive politically irresponsible socially discreditable and really just a bit indecent. By incorporating the work of scholars working with a range of frameworks within the Christian tradition Theologies of Failure aims to offer a unique and important contribution on understanding and embracing failure as a pivotal theological category. As the various contributors highlight it is a category with a powerful capacity for illuminating our theological concerns and perspectives It is a category that frees us to see old ideas in a brand new light and helps to foster an awareness of ideas that certain modes of analysis may have obscured from our vision In short this book invites readers to consider how both theology and failure can help us ask new questions discover new possibilities and refuse the ways of the world Cascading

Challenges in the Global Water Crisis Gerard Magill,James Benedict,2019-02-11 This edited book is a collection of essays presented at the 3rd annual endowed conference held at Duquesne University USA The conference series addresses emerging concerns and threshold problems about the sustainability of our planet The contributions gathered here highlight the inter relation of topics and expertise from the perspectives of science and policy religion and ethics and pivotal global issues The book concludes with an ethical analysis of the multiple and over lapping challenges to paramount concerns that require urgent attention and long term resolution The book is written for scholars and students in a variety of disciplines and fields that deal with the earth s current survival and future flourishing Earthkeeping and Character Steven

Bouma-Prediger,2019-11-19 Addressing a topic of growing and vital concern this book asks us to reconsider how we think about the natural world and our place in it Steven Bouma Prediger brings ecotheology into conversation with the emerging field of environmental virtue ethics exploring the character traits and virtues required for Christians to be responsible keepers of the earth and to flourish in the challenging decades to come He shows how virtue ethics can enrich Christian environmentalism helping readers think and act in ways that rightly value creation The Cosmic Common Good Daniel

P. Scheid,2016 In this book Daniel Scheid draws on Catholic social thought as a foundation for a new type of interreligious ecological ethics which he calls the cosmic common good By placing this concept in dialogue with tenets from other spiritual traditions such as Hindu dharmic ecology Buddhist interdependence and American Indian balance Scheid constructs a theologically authentic moral framework that re envisions humanity s role in the universe Christian Theology and the Status of Animals R. McLaughlin,2014-02-13 The author argues that there are conflicting traditions with regard to the question of what is the moral standing of animals according to Christianity The dominant tradition maintains that animals are primarily resources but there are alternative strands of Christian thought that challenge this view Journal of Moral
