Congress. House. Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure. Subcommittee on Highways and Transit,2009 Reducing Climate Impacts in the Transportation Sector Daniel Sperling,James S. Cannon,2008-12-15 More than 250 experts from around the world gathered at the Asilomar Transportation and Energy Conference in August 2007 to tackle what many agree is the greatest environmental challenge the world faces climate change This 11th Biennial Conference organized under the auspices of the Energy and Alternative Fuels Committees of the U S Transportation Research Board examined key climate change policy issues and strategies to combat climate impacts from the transportation sector a leading source of greenhouse gas emissions This book includes chapters by leading presenters at the Asilomar Conference that reflect the most current views of the world's experts about a critical and rapidly evolving energy and environmental problem. The chapters in this book examine increasing worldwide emissions of greenhouse gases, uncertain oil supply, evolving climate change science, public attitudes toward climate change, and the implications for the U.S. of growth in China, India, and elsewhere. They propose methods to reduce growth in vehicle travel through alternative fuel, new technologies, and land use planning. They examine the costs and the potential for greenhouse gas reduction through deployment of advanced technology and alternative fuels and propose strategies to motivate consumers to buy fuel efficient and alternative fuel vehicles including heavy duty trucks.

The Changing Role of the Korean State Hong Yung Lee, Sunil Kim, 2016-10-20 How and why has the Korean state changed its way of handling the society and its markets over the past two decades? The Changing Role of the Korean State finds that the explosion of contentious civil society after democratization, coeval with the outbreak of the financial crisis following rapid economic growth, are closely associated with the decline of developmentalism. Despite these profound changes, however, the Korean state has not totally relinquished its control over the society and the market. Rather, although its methods have been altered, it remains to be highly interventionist and regulatory in nature. The state continues to use its influence to restructure the socio-economic system and rationally manage spatial arrangements. The book amply demonstrates the residual legacy of the developmental state in Korea, and it is unlikely that Korea will ever accept the western liberalist concept of a state which limits its function to that of a referee for the spontaneous operation of the civil society and the market. The contributors of this edited volume delineate the shifting role of the Korean state from the developmental state which led economic development by guiding investment in strategic industries through various means to a slightly subtler role as a regulator supervising the operation of the market in the changing economic environment. Individual chapters presented here address this changing but nonetheless vital role that the state plays in managing the variety of modern socio-economic life in South Korea. Hong Yung Lee is Professor Emeritus of Political Science at University of California Berkeley. Sunil Kim is Assistant Professor of International Studies at Kyung Hee University.

Architectural Research Addressing Societal Challenges Volume 1 Manuel Jorge Rodrigues Couceiro da Costa, Filipa Roseta, Susana Couceiro da Costa, Joana Pestana Lages, 2017-09-19 The EAAE ARCC International Conference held under the aegis of the EAAE European Association for Architectural Education and of the ARCC Architectural Research Centers Consortium is a conference organized every other year in collaboration with one of the member schools/universities of those associations alternatively in North America or in Europe. The EAAE ARCC Conferences began at the North Carolina State University College of Design, Raleigh, with a conference on Research in Design Education, 1998, followed by conferences in Paris, 2000; Montreal, 2002; Dublin, 2004; Philadelphia, 2006; Copenhagen, 2008; Washington, 2010; Milan, 2012; and Honolulu, 2014. The conference discussions focus on research experiences in the field of architecture and architectural education, providing a critical forum for the dissemination and engagement of current ideas from around the world American Empire and the Canadian Oil Sands George A. Gonzalez, 2016-04-08 Throughout the US oil and gas shale are being hydrofracked to produce petroleum and natural gas Oil or tar sands from Canada is being processed thereby generating large amounts of crude This book places the unconventional fossil fuels revolution that is taking place in North America within the context of great power politics Effect of Smart Growth Policies on Travel Demand Maren Outwater, Colin Smith, Jerry Walters, Brian Welch, Robert Cervero, Kara Kockelman, and J. Richard Kuzmyak, This report from the second Strategic Highway Research Program SHRP 2 which is administered by the Transportation Research Board of the National Academies explores the underlying relationships among households firms and travel demand The report also describes a regional scenario planning tool that can be used to evaluate the impacts of various smart growth policies Designing Suburban Futures June Williamson, 2013-05-07 Suburbs deserve a better more resilient future June Williamson shows that suburbs aren't destined to remain filled with strip malls and excess parking lots they can be reinvigorated through inventive design Today dead malls aging office parks and blighted apartment complexes are being retrofitted into walkable sustainable communities Williamson provides a broad vision of suburban reform based on the best schemes submitted in Long Island's highly successful Build a Better Burb competition Many of the design ideas and plans operate at a regional scale tackling systems such as transit aquifer protection and power generation While some seek to fundamentally transform development patterns others work with existing infrastructure to create mixed use shared networks Designing Suburban Futures offers concrete but visionary strategies to take the sprawl out of suburbia creating a vibrant new suburban form Clean Energy and "green" Jobs United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, 2008 The Affordable Housing Reader Elizabeth Mueller, J. Rosie Tighe, 2022-07-14 This second edition of The Affordable Housing Reader provides context for current discussions surrounding housing policy emphasizing the values and assumptions underlying debates over strategies for ameliorating housing problems experienced by low income residents and communities of color The authors highlighted in this updated volume address themes central to housing as an area of social policy and to understanding its particular meaning in the United States These include the long history of racial exclusion and the role that public policy has played in racializing access to decent housing and well serviced neighborhoods the tension between the economic and social goals of housing policy and the role that housing plays in various aspects of the lives of low and moderate income residents Scholarship and the COVID 19 pandemic are raising awareness of the link between access to adequate housing and other rights and opportunities This timely reader focuses attention on the results of past efforts and on the urgency of reframing the conversation It is both an exciting time to teach students about the evolution of United States housing policy and a challenging time to discuss what policymakers or practitioners can do to effect positive change This reader is aimed at students professors researchers and professionals of housing policy public policy and city planning Planning for Climate Change Simin Davoudi, Jenny

Crawford, Abid Mehmood, 2009 This resource provides authoritative guidance for spatial planners on how to meet the economic social and environmental challenges that climate change raises for urban and regional development It brings together some of the recent research and scholarly works on the role of spatial planning in combating climate change
