and Branding Nicole Porter, 2015-10-05 Landscape and branding explores the way landscape is conceptualised conceived represented and designed by professionals in a brand driven age Landscape incorporating tangible physical space as well as intangible concepts narratives images and experiences of place is constructed by a number of creative industries This book tests the hypothesis that place branding a powerful marketing and management practice increasingly blurs the distinction between the promotion of landscape and its production in design terms Place branding involves the strategic and systematic composition of single minded experiential and market friendly place identities which are consistently communicated across various media including physical space How does this implicate or transform notions of place nature landscape experience and the qualitative value of landscape itself How does this affect the role of landscape architecture To answer these questions place branding theory and practice is critically examined alongside an in depth case study of one specific landscape the Blue Mountains Australia Projects undertaken between 1995 and 2015 including a branding strategy for the region media campaigns television cinema and several landscape architectural works in the public and private domain are comparatively analysed focusing on the discourse conventions and values informing their production and the landscape narratives they convey

Youth Politics in Urban Asia Yi'En Cheng, Sonia Lam-Knott, 2021-07-12 Youth Politics in Urban Asia examines how young people's political actions in Asia are the product of their urban realities and at the same time appreciates that young people are striving to remake these urban spaces in a myriad of tangible and intangible ways The book explores the ways in which urban development and urban governance in Asia enable or constrain young people's citizenship aspirations and responses to a variety of socioeconomic and political issues in the region Informed by qualitative and ethnographic approaches featuring locales ranging from Pune to Shanghai the chapters broadly address three themes the variegated ways in which youth politics is constituted and has manifested in Asian cities the role of cities in shaping and mediating youth politics in Asia and whether it is possible to conceive of youth politics across urban Asia as diverse and specific but also structurally entangled In examining how young people's political performances and social actions are shaped by and conversely shape Asian urban spaces this collection advances a deeper understanding of the interplay of youth politics and urban environments It will be an essential text for scholars and students interested in young people's politics urban studies and social change in Asia The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Space and Polity

Deviant Landscapes Fivos Papadimitriou, Olaf Kühne, 2025-04-11 Deviant landscapes can be physical or digital or outright fictitious Whatever their nature or context they do not conform to normality Deviant landscapes can be encountered on the face of the earth on computer screens in people's minds This anthology presents varying perspectives on deviant landscapes widening the theoretical framework of spatial and landscape research by delving into the hitherto almost uncharted realm of deviant landscapes in a way that is missing in the academic literature It exposes a variety of perspectives on deviant landscapes from disparate scientific domains i.e. geography literary studies sociology game studies cultural studies and delivers useful insights into the diverse theoretical approaches that can be adopted to examine such landscapes neopragmatist social constructivist scientometric art theoretical etc Embodied Aesthetics Alfonsina Scarinzi,2014-10-30

This volume discusses the role of embodiment in the reevaluation of aesthetics as a process of bodily mediated meaning making It focuses on the bodily basis of aesthetic appreciation from an evolutionary point of view on the bodily physical structures such as the brain involved in perception on aesthetic experience and appreciation on the role of physiological responses in experiencing the objects of the environment aesthetically on the role of one's own body in motion in the engagement with the environment on somatic responses and the experience of meaning on the pre reflective experience of the body on the role of the interplay of different types of physical and sensory activities in the process of education to art appreciation Landscape Architecture Criticism Jacky Bowring,2020-04-29 Landscape Architecture Criticism offers techniques perspectives and theories which relate to landscape architecture a field very different from the more well known domains of art and architectural criticism Throughout the book Bowring delves into questions such as how do we know if built or unbuilt works of landscape architecture are successful What strategies are used to measure the success or failure and by whom Does design criticism only come in written form It brings together diverse perspectives on criticism in landscape architecture establishing a substantial point of reference for approaching design critique exploring how criticism developed within the discipline Beginning with an introductory overview to set the framework the book then moves on to historical perspectives the purpose of critique theoretical positions ranging from aesthetics to politics and experience unbuilt projects techniques and communication Written for professionals and academics as well as for students and instructors in landscape architecture it includes strategies diagrams matrices and full colour illustrations to prompt discussion and provide a basis for exploring design critique The Horror Sensorium Angela Ndalani,2012-09-26 Horror films books and video games engage their audiences through combinations of storytelling practices emotional experiences cognitive responses and physicality that ignite the sensorium the sensory mechanics of the body and the intellectual and cognitive functions connected to them Through analyses of various mediums this volume explores how the horror genre affects the mind and body of the spectator Works explored include the films 28 Days Later and Death Proof the video games Resident Evil 4 and Doom 3 the theme park ride The Revenge of the Mummy transmedia experiences associated with The Dark Knight and True Blood and paranormal romance novels featuring Anita Blake and Sookie Stackhouse By examining how these diverse media generate medium specific corporeal and sensory responses it reveals how the sensorium interweaves sensory and intellectual encounters to produce powerful systems of perception Regenerative-Adaptive Design for Sustainable Development Phillip B. Roös,2020-09-15 In this book the author tests a regenerative adaptive pattern language theory towards investigating the possibilities of a holistic integrated design and planning method for sustainable development that incorporates the principles of regenerative design as well as an adaptive pattern language that re-establishes our wholeness with nature and considers the vulnerabilities of a changing landscape The book examines an integral approach to contemporary theories of planning and design that explores the human nature relationship patterns in social and spatial interconnections between people and their natural environments The interconnectedness of human and natural systems is used to scaffold possible solutions to address key environmental and sustainability issues that specifically address the need for patterns of behaviour that acknowledge the duality of man and nature In 12 chapters the book presents a holistic regenerative adaptive pattern language that encapsulates how communities can better appreciate landscape change under future climate effects and acknowledges the importance to adapt to patterns of change of place and the environment and therefore inform the communities responses for sustainable development The application of the regenerative adaptive pattern language was tested along the Great Ocean Road region of the Victorian coast in Australia The concluding chapters argues that for human settlements and cities to be resilient and sustainable we must understand the interconnected patterns of human built environments and natural systems and how we function in a social spatial dimension with these The book is intended for practitioners and academic scholars with interest in sustainable development regenerative design pattern languages biophilia settlement planning and climate change adaptation

Meaning in Landscape Architecture and Gardens Marc Treib, 2011-03 This book offers the professional a rich source of ideas about the designed landscape what these mean to us and how they acquired that significance Key essays from landscape architects are presented with the authors current reflections

The Urban Forest in the Age of Urbanisation Samaneh Sadat Nickain, 2022-09-01 The Urban Forest in the Age of Urbanization seeks to reflect on the connotation of urban forestry in line with related emergent holistic theories Today much of the planet is urbanised and planners debate Planetary Urbanization economists discuss The Global City ecologists describe the planet s biodiversity hotspots and climate scientists warn of a global crisis We might think therefore that focusing on forestation approaches at the Urban and peri urban edge might be reductionist However if the city is everywhere and everything is a city if the urbanised world now is a chain of metropolitan areas connected by places and corridors of communication then what is not urban And above all which forests are not urban forests Starting from the dualism between city and forest and its evolution towards holism the book seeks to create a framework of dialectical approaches The case studies included analyse a wide range of urbanisation processes to review the practical approaches of urban forestry in line with the global crisis of the era of globalisation when climate change population growth implosions and explosions of urbanisation lack of arable land and food are unavoidable

Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food Joshua Zeunert, Tim Waterman, 2018-02-02 Since the turn of the millennium there has been a burgeoning interest in and literature of both landscape studies and food studies Landscape describes places as relationships and processes Landscapes create people s identities and guide their actions and their preferences while at the same time are shaped by the actions and forces of people Food as currency medium and sustenance is a fundamental part of those landscape relationships This volume brings together over fifty contributors from around the world in forty profoundly interdisciplinary chapters Chapter authors represent an astonishing range of disciplines from agronomy anthropology archaeology conservation countryside management cultural studies ecology ethics geography heritage studies landscape architecture landscape management and planning literature urban design and architecture Both food studies and landscape studies defy comprehension from the perspective of a single discipline and thus such a range is both necessary and enriching The Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food is intended as a first port of call for scholars and researchers seeking to undertake new work at the many intersections of landscape and food Each chapter provides an authoritative overview a broad range of pertinent readings and references and seeks to identify areas where new research is needed though these may also be identified in the many fertile areas in which subjects and chapters overlap within the book

Community Matters: Service-Learning in Engaged Design and Planning Mallika Bose, Paula Horrigan, Cheryl Doble, Sigmund C. Shipp, 2014-05-09 Winner of the EDRA 2015 Book Award Community Matters Service Learning in Engaged Design and Planning explores issues that resonate with a diverse group of design and planning educators drawn to the challenge of supporting greater community building and empowerment while combining learning with practice The book explores such questions as How do we foster mutuality and reciprocity in community academy partnerships What conflicts challenges limits and obstacles do we face in our service learning studios and projects What evidence do we have of our impacts on students and communities and how are we responding How are we being attentive to the contemporary environmental and societal issues What is our role as both designers and agents of societal change How are we innovating to enable greater capacities for individuals future practitioners and communities This book provides compelling evidence that educators should be adopting engaged pedagogies research methods and theories through which they can bring together education practice and scholarship at the boundary of community and academy
