PROVIDING

When we discuss the value of our students' responses, remembering that each individual is a unique language learner with unique abilities and needs, we can take their feedback into account and provide a more effective learning experience. The teacher should, first, acknowledge the student's response and then provide a more detailed response. The teacher should also provide a more detailed response to the student's response. The teacher should also provide a more detailed response to the student's response.
