This volume gathers contributions in the closely linked fields of English language assessment and language education. The contributors from China and Hong Kong represent a mixture of established and new scholars. Areas covered in the language education section range across major developments in the redefining of Hong Kong's secondary and tertiary curricula as well as the huge field of China's vocational education curriculum. Regarding assessment, the contributions reflect major changes in the marking of examinations in Hong Kong whereby all examinations from 2012 onwards are marked onscreen to quality control issues in the administration of China's College English Test which is taken by over 10 million candidates every year.

While developments in distributed ledger technology have brought the topic of smart contracts into the mainstream of legal attention, this volume takes a broader approach to ask how computers can be used in the contracting process. This book assesses how contractual promises are expressed in software and how code-based artefacts can be incorporated within more conventional legal structures. With incisive contributions from members of the judiciary, legal scholars, practitioners and computer scientists, this book sets out to frame the borders of an emerging area of law and start a more productive dialogue between the various disciplines involved in the evolution of contracts as software. It provides the first step towards a more disciplined approach to computational contracts that avoids the techno-legal ambiguities of smart contracts and reveals an emerging taxonomy of approaches to encoding contracts in whole or in part. Conceived and written during a time when major legal systems began to engage with the advent of contracts in computable form and aimed at a fundamental level of enquiry, this collection will provide essential insight into future trends and will provide a point of orientation for future scholarship and innovation. A Universal Critical and Pronouncing Dictionary of the English Language: Including Scientific Terms, 1863 Transforming Schools Through Systems Change

Charles Salina, Suzann Girtz, Joanie Eppinga, 2016-09-08 Everyone wants to transform schools. The question is: How? This book, the second in the Powerless to Powerful series, provides answers. Comprehensively describing systems that support teachers and students in a holistic and humanistic way, Transforming Schools Through Systems Change offers a road map for those in struggling schools who want to see real change resulting in improved student achievement Building on a conceptual framework that combines academic press social support and relational trust the authors describe how to create and implement systems at the district school wide department and classroom levels that support each person within the school The guidance offered is generalizable to all schools but is particularly potent for those struggling with low achievement and or low morale With the tools outlined in this book stakeholders can see their hard work turn into enhanced relationships that result in improvements in student achievement School leaders who have an overarching sense of what needs to happen but don t know how to integrate the nuts and bolts of transformation will be stimulated by the ideas in this book and encouraged by its practicability Big data analytics for smart healthcare applications Celestine Iwendi, Thippa Reddy Gadekallu, Ali Kashif Bashir, 2023-04-17
