Naval Warfare (Classic Reprint) James R. Thursfield, 2017-10-13 Excerpt from Naval Warfare I should hope that readers who have found this volume useful to them will not confine their studies to it Abundant materials for a deeper and more comprehensive study of the subject will be found in the several works incidentally mentioned or quoted in my text and in the writings Of those other contemporary authors with whom Sir Charles Ottley has done me the high honour to associate myself In these several works further guidance to a still more sustained study Of the subject will be found and in this regard I would specially mention the admirable Short History of the Royal Navy by Mr David Hannay two volumes which in addition to their other and more conspicuous merits contain a well selected list of authorities to be consulted prefixed to each chapter These references which in truth cover the whole subject will I trust better serve the purpose of the advanced or advancing student than any such Bibliography as I could compile on a scale commensurate with the form and purpose of the present Manual About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Naval Warfare of the Future; a Consideration of the Declaration of Paris 1856 Thomas Waraker, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1892 edition Excerpt well But it is very attractive to looser thinkers and convenient to popular writers or speakers who have their special purposes to serve Existing laws or moral rules may indeed be unjust i e may not be for general benefit but when they have received the general approval and adoption of mankind or of the citizens of a State it is reasonable to presume that there have been good grounds for their approval and it is desirable to look with some suspicion upon those who declaim against them and not to be led away by phrases unsupported by demonstration This is preeminently the case where there is a special object to be advocated or where as so frequently is found with Continental writers there is evidently an animosity against a particular nation It is discreditable to many politicians and public men that they frequently quote such writers onesided views as if they were authoritative expositions of International Law and thus lead the multitude astray 2 treaties and their obligations There is indeed another supposed source of International Law viz treaties said to form Conventional Law what is called the Conventional Law Nations of Nations These are agreements between particular nations but they do not create International Law They merely modify the relations Do not create matter which otherwise would exist between national Law the parties just as contracts affect the relations of individuals and they are construed by the principles of International Law But it must be remembered that while contracts derive their force from the fact that they are supported by legal sanction treaties have nothing but the moral sanction for their maintenance They have no operation to confer rights or The Naval Battle A.
