Language Class: Reflecting on the Linguistic Articulations of Structural Inequalities Claudia Ortu, Francesco Bachis, 2023-04-18 This volume explores the issue of social class from the point of view of its linguistic articulations Indeed as Machin and Richardson 2008 stated discourses may be variously approached as often simultaneously reflecting class structures as a site of class inequalities as expressive of class identities or class consciousness and or as a constituent part of more performative class action Some of the contributions that make up the volume were presented at a conference held at Cagliari University Italy in 2017 and responded to the call for analyses on the role of language in reflecting maintaining enacting and inculcating ideas on social class in literary and non literary texts and discourses in any cultural or linguistic setting This volume aspires to encourage scholars in disciplines and academic fields that have shied away from reflections on structural inequalities in favor of studies on ethnic gender and cultural identities in the last decades to take back on board the concept of social class and to engage with it in a novel way The variety of approaches ranging from the more traditional sociolinguistic one anthropology to literary and discourse studies and cultural settings with case studies coming from 3 continents represented in the chapters show that social class is a productive and illuminating concept for trying to re make sense of social reproduction and change

Diachrony in Biblical Hebrew Cynthia Miller-Naudé, Ziony Zevit, 2012-10-25 Diachrony in Biblical Hebrew is an indispensable publication for biblical scholars whose interpretations of scriptures must engage the dates when texts were first composed and recorded and for scholars of language who will want to read these essays for the latest perspectives on the historical development of Biblical Hebrew For Hebraists and linguists interested in the historical development of the Hebrew language it is an essential collection of studies that address the language s development during the Iron Age in its various subdivisions the Neo Babylonian and Persian periods and the Early Hellenistic period Written for both text people and language people this is the first book to address established Historical Linguistics theory as it applies to the study of Hebrew and to focus on the methodologies most appropriate for Biblical Hebrew and Aramaic The book provides exemplary case studies of orthography lexicography morphology syntax language contact dialectology and sociolinguistics and because of its depth of coverage has broad implications for the linguistic dating of Biblical texts The presentations are rounded out by useful summary histories of linguistic diachrony in Aramaic Ugaritic and Akkadian the three languages related to and considered most crucial for Biblical research
