Flight Handbook, 1954 Development of a Flush Airdata Sensing System on a Sharp-nosed Vehicle for Flight at Mach 3 to 8

Mark C. Davis, 2000 NASA Dryden Flight Research Center has developed a flush airdata sensing FADS system on a sharp nosed wedge shaped vehicle. This paper details the design and calibration of a real time angle of attack estimation scheme developed to meet the onboard airdata measurement requirements for a research vehicle equipped with a supersonic combustion ramjet engine. The FADS system has been designed to perform in flights at speeds between Mach 3 and Mach 8 and at angles of attack between 6 and 12. The description of the FADS architecture includes port layout, pneumatic design and hardware integration. Predictive models of static and dynamic performance are compared with wind tunnel results across Mach and angle of attack range. Results indicate that static angle of attack accuracy and pneumatic lag can be adequately characterized and incorporated into a real time algorithm.
