The chemical system of the motor is a 3-wire type and consists of a generator, voltage regulator, running motor, lights, light switch, and a battery mounted unit with a 7-foot battery. The system is a single-wire type with a ground return to the battery.

Use the illustrations on pages 91 and 92 and the wiring diagram on page 93 as a guide for identifying the various electrical parts and for making the electrical cables and connections. Be sure all terminals are clean and properly fastened.

When the electrical equipment is installed at the factory, the factory ground cable is disconnected and taped. Before attempting to start the motor, make certain that the ground cable is reconnected.

A coverage gap (GFI-07) has occurred in the bus timing between the light switch and the camera. If a short circuit occurs in the lighting circuit the bus will have not and break the circuit, preventing damage to the electrical system.

It is important to use the meter regularly for the engine warm. At the highest level, check the fuel. At the low (normal) level, check the electrical system for short circuits.

To install a new line, connect the line bearing on the instrument panel (left of 47), pull out the old line and replace it with a new one.
