Some Effects of Flight Path and Atmospheric Variations on the Boom Propagated from a Supersonic Aircraft Raymond L. Barger, United States. National Aeronautics and Space Administration, 1964 Equations for the shock wave envelope and cusp line associated with the boom propagated from a supersonic aircraft are formulated in terms of the moving trihedral coordinate system for flight in a uniform atmosphere and also in an atmosphere with a linear sound speed gradient Ray tube theory is used to calculate the lateral distribution of boom intensity in an atmosphere with a linear sound speed gradient and also to investigate the effect of a general wind and sound speed gradient on the ground track intensity The relative effects of wind and temperature gradient are treated The mechanism of focusing by winds and by ground structures are discussed qualitatively
