Heritage And Globalisation Key Issues In Cultural Heritage:

Heritage and Globalisation Sophia Labadi, Colin Long, 2010-06-17 This volume analyzes the politics policy and practice of cultural heritage at the global level identifying the major directions in which international heritage practice is moving and exploring the key issues likely to shape the cultural heritage field well into the twenty first century It examines the tensions between the universal claims of much heritage practice particularly that associated with the World Heritage system and national and local perspectives It explores the international legal framework developed since World War Two to protect heritage particularly at times of war and from theft showing how contemporary global problems of conflict and illicit trade continue to challenge the international legal system Heritage and Globalisation critiques the incorporation of heritage in the world economy through the policies of international development organisations and the global tourism trade It also approaches heritage from seldom considered perspectives as a form of aid as a development paradigm and as a form of sustainable practice The book identifies some of the most pressing issues likely to face the heritage industry at a global level in coming decades including the threat posed by climate change and the need for poverty reduction Providing a historically and theoretically rigorous approach to heritage as a form of and manifestation of globalisation the volume s emphasis is on contemporary issues and new fields for heritage practice

Cultural Heritage Hani Hayajneh ,2023 Human heritage is an endless mine of knowledge skills ethos and accomplishments which visualize and examine the power of human creativity and innovation throughout the history The contributions cast an insight into the human psyche to perceive its Weltanschauung and its way of thinking and making artefacts associated with knowledge existence and identity in the context of other existing systems in the world They demonstrate the diversity of topics as well as the state of the art of interdisciplinary approaches that participants of the Humboldt Kolleg use in their research on cultural heritage and confirm once again that the strengths of the Alexander von Humboldt Network should be celebrated and honoured The present volume invites us to seek more novel research approaches that aim towards an understanding of the complex nature of human inheritance

The Routledge Companion to Cultural Property Jane Anderson, Haidy Geismar, 2017-07-31 The Routledge Companion to Cultural Property contains new contributions from scholars working at the cutting edge of cultural property studies bringing together diverse academic and professional perspectives to develop a coherent overview of this field of enquiry The global range of authors use international case studies to encourage a comparative understanding of how cultural property has emerged in different parts of the world and continues to frame vital issues of national sovereignty the free market international law and cultural heritage Sections explore how cultural property is scaled to the state and the market cultural property as law cultural property and cultural rights and emerging forms of cultural property from yoga to the national archive By bringing together disciplinary perspectives from anthropology archaeology law Indigenous studies history folklore studies and policy this volume facilitates fresh debate and broadens our understanding of this issue of growing importance This comprehensive and coherent statement of cultural property issues will be of great interest to cultural sector professionals and policy makers as well as students and academic researchers engaged with cultural property in a variety of disciplines Physical and Symbolic Borders and Boundaries and How They Unfold in Space Basak Tanulku, Simone Pekelsma, 2024-03-05 This book critically examines how borders and boundaries physical and symbolic unfold in different geographies and spaces It aims to understand why they exist and how they are constructed deconstructed and reconstructed The book explores why certain borders boundaries persist while others are removed and new ones are erected It does not focus on one form of border boundary or geographic location It shifts its attention to different geographies borders and boundaries It also focuses on intersections between them and how they complete each other The book provides case studies from the past and present allowing readers to connect subjects periods and geographies The chapters address classical subjects such as nation states and tackle novel questions such as ownership against access that is of urban infrastructures COVID 19 and lockdowns and the divides within digital worlds The book benefits from visual essays that complement the theoretical and empirical chapters showing the complexity of the phenomenon in a simple and effective way The book will be of interest to academics researchers and students working in the fields of urban and rural studies urban sociology cities and communities urban and regional planning urban anthropology political sciences and migration studies human geography cultural geography urban anthropology and visual arts Architectural Conservation in Asia John H. Stubbs, Robert G. Thomson, 2016-11-10 The first comprehensive overview of architectural conservation in Asia Internationally renowned author John Stubbs follows up on the success of his previous volumes Time Honored A Global View of Architectural Conservation and Architectural Conservation in Europe and the Americas Architectural conservation is a rapidly expanding and under researched field in Asia and is international experts are often brought in making the subject of considerable interest to international academics Boxes and case studies by local experts add depth and interest to the authors meticulous research A website with extra information and resources accompanies the series <http://conservebuiltworld.com> Comparative Archaeologies Ludomir R. Lozny, 2011-04-06 Archaeology as with all of the social sciences has always been characterized by competing theoretical propositions based on diverse bodies of locally acquired data In order to fulfill local regional expectations different goals have been assigned to the practitioners of Archaeology in different regions These goals might be entrenched in local politics or social expectations behind cultural heritage research This comprehensive book explores regional archaeologies from a sociological perspective to identify and explain regional differences in archaeological practice as well as their existing similarities This work covers not only the currently dominant Anglo American archaeological paradigm but also Latin America Western and Eastern Europe Asia and Africa all of which have developed their own unique archaeological traditions The contributions in this work cover these alternative archaeologies in the context of their own geographical political and socio economic settings as well as the context of the currently accepted mainstream approaches Architectural

Conservation in Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific Islands John Stubbs, William Chapman, Julia Gatley, Ross King, 2023-12-22 The fourth in a series that documents architectural conservation in different parts of the world Architectural Conservation in Australia New Zealand and the Pacific Islands National Experiences and Practice addresses cultural heritage protection in a region which comprises one third of the Earth's surface In response to local needs Australia New Zealand and the Pacific Islands have developed some of the most important and influential techniques legislation doctrine and theories in cultural heritage management in the world The evolution of the heritage protection ethos and contemporary architectural conservation practices in Australia and Oceania are discussed on a national and regional basis using ample illustrations and examples Accomplishments in architectural conservation are discussed in their national and international contexts with an emphasis on original developments solutions and contributions made to the overall field Enriched with essays contributed from fifty nine specialists and thought leaders in the field this book contains an extraordinary breadth and depth of research and synthesis on the why's and how's of cultural heritage conservation Its holistic approach provides an essential resource and reference for students academics researchers policy makers practitioners and all who are interested in conserving the built environment Architectural Encounters in Asia Pacific Amanda Achmadi, Paul Walker, Soon-Tzu Speechley, 2024-09-19 Architectural Encounters in Asia Pacific explores the architecture of colonial trade and industry revealing a complex network of transnational connections across the built heritage of the world's most dispersed and culturally diverse region A wide ranging collection of case studies uncover these forgotten connections drawing together stories of migratory architects imperial commodities and indentured labour From Iran to Tasmania Japan to Java and Imperial China to the Pacific Islands the chapters reveal how remnants of colonial trade and industry shed light on the many multi faceted mobilities of the imperial age and their enduring legacy in the postcolonial built environments of Australasia the Pacific Southeast Asia and beyond The chapters also reveal deep strands of cultural influences and material imprints long neglected by national histories of architecture and showcase new methodologies to analyse the interconnectivities and bordering practices which are shaping our experiences of the 21st century With almost every chapter arising from new archival sources this richly interdisciplinary volume brings together the work of architectural historians geographers and heritage practitioners to provide a new understanding of the rich and contested history of this region Archaeological Resource Management John Carman, 2015-09-09 Archaeological Resource Management provides an international comparison of the main practices involved in managing archaeological remains especially their identification and recording their evaluation for significance their preservation and their presentation to the public Constructive Resistance Mona Lilja, 2021-02-05 This book examines constructive resistance practices that range from street protests to the use of photographic images and displays their role in local and global political processes By building on a rich selection of interview material and other empirical research the book elaborates on different cases of constructive resistance where close attention is paid to the productive qualities that are involved It offers new perspectives on the undertakings of different epistemic battles that occur around current issues such as gender nationalism climate change migration and the right to land and explores personal narratives artistic expressions and public statements that are utilized as means of resistance and performed in order to negotiate different established truths More specifically the book discusses the discursive struggles regarding migrant bodies where artifacts that pertain to the hardship are presented in Swedish museums the Preah Vihear temple conflict between Cambodia and Thailand the border conflict in West Sahara the self making of self defined women politicians in Cambodia and climate activism communication Through discussions on the importance of figurations posters narratives photographs artifacts and buildings in the establishing of contemporary discussions and world views the book inquires how and why these representations are re imparted with meaning and the effect that this has The book does not only illustrate different forms of resistance but also contributes theoretically to our understanding of repetitions emotions and time which are properties that must be embarked upon in order to capture the various dimension of resistance Given that the type of constructive resistance that is expanded upon is about processes of significations the time aspect how alternative truths are repeated and thereby established over time becomes crucial And resistance has a temporality of its own for example close authorities are instantly resisted here and now while meaning making resistance suffers from the inescapable time lag of processes of signification In all forms of resistance emotions prevail as an important engine of political struggles and as is displayed in this book emotions are an important means of constructive resistance
