Bush,1986 Culture and Education Filiz Meseci Giorgetti,Ali Arslan,Craig Campbell,2020-06-29 This book explores the fascinating and complex interactions between the ways that culture and education operate within and across societies In some cases education is imagined as an integrated part of general cultural phenomena in others educational interventions become the means for transforming the cultural circumstances of different populations The contributors to this volume show how certain educational practices produce new cultural and professional knowledge discuss the impacts of initially foreign educational ideas and institutions on established cultural institutions in very different societies and explore the impacts of modernity and modern educational ideas on more traditional gendered and religious practices and communities The book also provided striking examples of when these impacts were not benign Increasingly powerful twentieth century governments attempted to use education and schools to produce new reformed citizens suitable for their newly created colonial national socialist and fascist states The expectation was that cultural and social transformation might be engineered in major part through schooling This book was originally published as a special issue of Paedagogica Historica The Teachings of Jesus Christ Episcopal Church. material realities and its influence on the concept of animation and vice versa By adopting this perspective technological animation not only provides a new understanding of the processes behind animation but also lends a fresh perspective to the animated artifact In contrast to other types of animation where the technologically animated artifact is often dismissed as a perceptual error induced for instance by rhetoric or magic this study separates technological animation from notions of rhetorical or magical skills theurgy or divine intervention Specifically it concentrates on a subset of artificial animation solely produced through technical procedures exploring how various motive forces actively contributed to giving objects agency and impacting their viewers illuminating how the material conditions of the artifacts themselves played a role in the process of technological animation whether through the distinctive materiality of bronze or the design of a statuette's hinge
