Haunted Man Ghosts Bargain:

The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain Charles Dickens, 2022-11-21 In The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain Charles Dickens weaves a poignant tale that delves into themes of memory, grief, and redemption through a richly imaginative narrative style. The novella, characterized by its captivating prose and moral complexity, follows the protagonist Redlaw, a tormented scholar haunted by past sorrows. This work not only reflects Dickens' fascination with the supernatural but also serves as a critical social commentary on the nature of human suffering and the pursuit of happiness, epitomizing the Victorian era's preoccupations with both personal and societal specters. Charles Dickens, an emblematic figure of Victorian literature, drew upon his own tumultuous experiences marked by poverty and loss to infuse this narrative with emotional depth. His innate ability to intertwine realism with fantastical elements enables him to probe profound psychological truths while exploring the societal ramifications of trauma. As he faced the complexities of his own life, Dickens was inspired to craft a story that addresses the universal human desire to confront and perhaps erase painful memories, illuminating both the dangers and rewards of such wishes. This novella is a must-read for those interested in the interplay between the supernatural and the human psyche. Dickens' insightful exploration of the darker aspects of memory and his compelling characters invite readers to reflect on their own experiences of loss and healing. The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain Charles Dickens, 2021-02-10 Far be it from me to assert that what everybody says must be true Everybody is often as likely to be wrong as right In the general experience everybody has been wrong so often and it has taken in most instances such a weary while to find out how wrong that the authority is proved to be fallible Everybody may sometimes be right but that is no rule as the ghost of Giles Scroggins says in the ballad The dread word GHOST recalls me Everybody said he looked like a haunted man The extent of my present claim for everybody is that they were so far right He did Who could have seen his hollow cheek his sunken brilliant eye his black attired figure indefinitely grim although well knit and well proportioned his grizzled hair hanging like tangled sea weed about his face as if he had been through his whole life a lonely mark for the chafing and beating of the great deep of humanity but might have said he looked like a haunted man Who could have observed his manner taciturn thoughtful gloomy shadowed by habitual reserve retiring always and jocund never with a distraught air of reverting to a bygone place and time or of listening to some old echoes in his mind but might have said it was the manner of a haunted man Who could have heard his voice slow speaking deep and grave with a natural fulness and melody in it which he seemed to set himself against and stop but might have said it was the voice of a haunted man Who that had seen him in his inner chamber part library and part laboratory for he was as the world knew far and wide a learned man in chemistry and a teacher on whose lips and hands a crowd of aspiring ears and eyes hung daily who that had seen him there upon a winter night alone surrounded by his drugs and instruments and books the shadow of his shaded lamp a monstrous beetle on the wall motionless among a crowd of spectral shapes raised there by the flickering of the fire upon the quaint objects around him some of these phantoms the reflection of glass vessels that held liquids trembling at heart like things that knew his power to uncombine them and to give back their component parts to fire and vapour who that had seen him then his work done and he pondering in his chair before the rusted grate and red flame moving his thin mouth as if in speech but silent as the dead would not have said that the man seemed haunted and the chamber too Who might not by a very easy flight of fancy have believed that everything about him took this haunted tone and that he lived on haunted ground

His dwelling was so solitary and vault like an old retired part of an ancient endowment for students once a brave edifice planted in an open place but now the obsolete whim of forgotten architects smoke age and weather darkened squeezed on every side by the overgrowing of the great city and choked like an old well with stones and bricks its small quadrangles lying down in very pits formed by the streets and buildings which in course of time had been constructed above its heavy chimney stalks its old trees insulted by the neighbouring smoke which deigned to droop so low when it was very feeble and the weather very moody its grass plots struggling with the mildewed earth to be grass or to win any show of compromise its silent pavements unaccustomed to the tread of feet and even to the observation of eyes except when a stray face looked down from the upper world wondering what nook it was its sun dial in a little bricked up corner where no sun had straggled for a hundred years but where in compensation for the sun's neglect the snow would lie for weeks when it lay nowhere else and the black east wind would spin like a huge humming top when in all other places it was silent
