MacArthur in Japan : The occupation : Military phase Douglas MacArthur, 1966 Reports of General MacArthur are the official after action reports of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur Long out of print this facsimile edition contains not only MacArthur's own perspective of his operations against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific Area during World War II but also the enemy's unique account of Imperial Army campaigns against MacArthur's forces Collectively the reports have substantial and enduring value for military historians and students of military affairs providing an illuminating record of momentous events influenced in large measure by a distinguished Soldier and towering figure in American historiography <https://history.army.mil> Reports of General MacArthur: supplement. MacArthur in Japan: the occupation, military phase Douglas MacArthur, 1966 Reports of General MacArthur: suppl. MacArthur in Japan: The occupation, military phase Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, 1966 MacArthur in Asia Hiroshi Masuda, 2012-11-15 General Douglas MacArthur's storied career is inextricably linked to Asia His father Arthur served as Military Governor of the Philippines while Douglas was a student at West Point and the younger MacArthur would serve several tours of duty in that country over the next four decades becoming friends with several influential Filipinos including the country's future president Emanuel L. Quezon In 1935 he became Quezon's military advisor a post he held after retiring from the U.S. Army and at the time of Japan's invasion of 1941 As Supreme Commander for the Southwest Pacific MacArthur led American forces throughout the Pacific War He officially accepted Japan's surrender in 1945 and would later oversee the Allied occupation of Japan from 1945 to 1951 He then led the UN Command in the Korean War from 1950 to 1951 until he was dismissed from his post by President Truman In MacArthur in Asia the distinguished Japanese historian Hiroshi Masuda offers a new perspective on the American icon focusing on his experiences in the Philippines Japan and Korea and highlighting the importance of the general's staff the famous Bataan Boys who served alongside MacArthur throughout the Asian arc of his career to both MacArthur's and the region's history First published to wide acclaim in Japanese in 2009 and translated into English for the first time this book uses a wide range of sources American and Japanese official records and oral histories to present a complex view of MacArthur one that illuminates his military decisions during the Pacific campaign and his administration of the Japanese Occupation Reports of General MacArthur: suppl. MacArthur in Japan: the occupation, military phase Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers,1966 The Riddle of MacArthur John Gunther,1951 The Campaigns of MacArthur in the Pacific Douglas MacArthur,2015-09-04 Reports of General MacArthur are the official after action reports of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur Long out of print this facsimile edition contains not only MacArthur s own perspective of his operations against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific Area during World War II but also the enemy s unique account of Imperial Army campaigns against MacArthur s forces Collectively the reports have substantial and enduring value for military historians and students of military affairs providing an illuminating record of momentous events influenced in large measure by a distinguished Soldier and towering figure in American historiography The Reports of General MacArthur include two volumes being published by the Department of the Army in four books reproduced exactly as they were printed by General MacArthur s Tokyo headquarters in 1950 except for the addition of this foreword and indexes Volume II of the Reports represents the contributions of Japanese officers employed to tell their story of operations against MacArthur s forces Volume I narrates the operations of forces under General MacArthur s command from the Japanese attack on Luzon in 1941 through the surrender in 1945 While service histories have covered much of the same ground in separate volumes no single detailed narrative of General MacArthur s leadership as commander of the Southwest Pacific Area has yet appeared Chapters dealing with the reconquest of Borneo plans for the invasion of Japan and the Japanese surrender make a distinctly new contribution Volume I Supplement describes the military phase of the occupation through December 1948 reporting events not treated elsewhere in American publications Volume II on Japanese operations brings together a mass of information on the enemy now only partially available in many separate works Collectively the Reports should be of wide interest and value to the American people generally as well as to students of military affairs They are an illuminating record of momentous events influenced in large measure by a distinguished American soldier MacArthur in Japan Douglas MacArthur,2015-09-04 Reports of General MacArthur are the official after action reports of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur Long out of print this facsimile edition contains not only MacArthur s own perspective of his operations against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific Area during World War II but also the enemy s unique account of Imperial Army campaigns against MacArthur s forces Collectively the reports have substantial and enduring value for military historians and students of military affairs providing an illuminating record of momentous events influenced in large measure by a distinguished Soldier and towering figure in American historiography The Reports of General MacArthur include two volumes being published by the Department of the Army in four books reproduced exactly as they were printed by General MacArthur s Tokyo headquarters in 1950 except for the addition of this foreword and indexes Volume II of the Reports represents the contributions of Japanese officers employed to tell their story of operations against MacArthur's forces Volume I narrates the operations of forces under General MacArthur's command from the Japanese attack on Luzon in 1941 through the surrender in 1945 While service histories have covered much of the same ground in separate volumes no single detailed narrative of General MacArthur's leadership as commander of the Southwest Pacific Area has yet appeared Chapters dealing with the reconquest of Borneo plans for the invasion of Japan and the Japanese surrender make a distinctly new contribution Volume I Supplement describes the military phase of the occupation through December 1948 reporting events not treated elsewhere in American publications Volume II on Japanese operations brings together a mass of information on the enemy now only partially available in many separate works Collectively the Reports should be of wide interest and value to the American people generally as well as to students of military affairs They are an illuminating record of momentous events influenced in large measure by a distinguished American soldier
