academicians      Migrant Writers and Urban Space in Italy Graziella Parati, 2017-09-15 This book is about migrants lives in urban space in particular Rome and Milan At the core of the book is literature as written by migrants members of a second generation and a filmmaker who defines himself as native It argues that the narrative authored by migrants refugees second generation women and one native Italian perform a reparative reading of Italian spaces in order to engender reparative narratives Eve Sedgwick wrote about our now traditional way of reading based on unveiling and on mainly negative affect We are trained to tear the text apart dig into it and uncover the anxieties that define our age Migrants writers seem to employ both positive and negative affects in defining the past present and future of the spaces they inhabit Their recuperative acts of writing constitute powerful models of changes in on place As they look at Italian exclusionary spaces they also rewrite them into a present whose transitivity allows to imagine a process of citizenship and belong constructed from below      French Urbanism in Foreign Lands Ambe J. Njoh, 2015-12-10 This book will seek to close the gaps on the role of France in exporting Eurocentric spatial and environmental design principles and practice It does so by analyzing the major spatial and physical development projects that French colonial authorities implemented in France s colonial empire and elsewhere from the 15th to the 20th century French urban planning ideology principles and practice were not exported exclusively to territories under French colonial suzerainty Accordingly the book focuses on major physical and spatial planning schemes inspired by French planning thought in territories without a history of French colonialism      Urban Recycling and the Search for Sustainable Community Development Adam S. Weinberg, David N. Pellow, Allan Schnaiberg, 2000-07-24 More Americans recycle than vote And most do so to improve their communities and the environment But do recycling programs advance social economic and environmental goals To answer this three sociologists with expertise in urban and environmental planning have conducted the first major study of urban recycling They compare four types of programs in the Chicago metropolitan area a community based drop off center a municipal curbside program a recycling industrial park and a linkage program Their conclusion admirably elaborated is that recycling can realize sustainable community development but that current programs achieve few benefits for the communities in which they are located The authors discover that the history of recycling mirrors many other urban reforms What began in the 1960s as a sustainable community enterprise has become a commodity based profit driven industry Large private firms using public dollars have chased out smaller nonprofit and family owned efforts Perhaps most troubling is that this process was not born of economic necessity Rather as the authors show socially oriented programs are actually more viable than profit focused systems This finding raises unsettling questions about the prospects for any sort of sustainable local development in the globalizing economy Based on a decade of research this is the first book to fully explore the range of impacts that recycling generates in our communities It presents recycling as a tantalizing case study of the promises and pitfalls of community development It also serves as a rich account of how the state and private interests linked to the global economy alter the terrain of local neighborhoods      Unsettling the City Nicholas Blomley, 2004-06 Contemporary capitalism has produced gentrification socio spatial stratification and racial inequality In this book Nicholas Blomley shows how the concept of property helps to generate and underwrite these pervasive urban processes      America's Urban History Lisa Krissoff Boehm, Steven H. Corey, 2023-07-26 In this second edition America's Urban History now includes contemporary analysis of race immigration and cities under the Trump administration and has been fully updated with new scholarship on early urbanization mass incarceration and cities the Great Society the diversification of the suburbs and environmental justice The United States is one of the most heavily urbanized places in the world and its urban history is essential to understanding the fundamental narrative of American history This book is an accessible overview of the history of American cities including Indigenous settlements colonial America the American West the postwar metropolis and the present day landscape of suburban sprawl and an urbanized population It examines the ways in which urbanization is connected to divisions of society along the lines of race class and gender but it also studies how cities have been sources of opportunity hope and success for individuals and the nation Images maps tables and a guide to further reading provide engaging accompaniment to illustrate key concepts and themes Spanning centuries of America's urban past this book's depth and insight make it an ideal text for students and scholars in urban studies and American history      Outlines and Highlights for Cities and Urban Life by John J Macionis, Vincent N Parrillo Cram101 Textbook Reviews, 2011-08-01 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Virtually all of the testable terms concepts persons places and events from the textbook are included Cram101 Just the FACTS101 studyguides give all of the outlines highlights notes and quizzes for your textbook with optional online comprehensive practice tests Only Cram101 is Textbook Specific Accompanys 9780205645336      Environmental Chemistry in Society James M. Beard, 2016-04-19 Everyone can benefit from having some understanding of environmental science and the chemistry underlying issues such as global warming ozone depletion energy sources air pollution water pollution and waste disposal Environmental Chemistry in Society Second Edition presents environmental science to the non science student specifically focus      Challenges in City Management Becky J. Starnes, 2017-09-25 City management in developing countries is a quickly growing area in current public administration literature However little research material can be found regarding the management of cities Demonstrating the issues in this field Challenges in City Management A Case Study Approach brings the sometimes dry theories and concepts of urban planning and management to life The author uses case studies to demonstrate who what why and how dramatically increasing readers ability to comprehend and apply the theories Incorporating urban management and organizational management theories with actual practice the author presents case studies based on observations made during her extensive experience She offers multiple examples of common contemporary city topics ranging from personnel policy making housing homelessness transportation and budgeting Each study describes and analyzes a scenario identifying the economic and political factors as well as the often conflicting players and interest groups The book provides enhanced understanding of the complex environment city administrators work in helping readers develop improved decision making and problem solving skills through the study of real issues city administrators have experienced The case study methodology used supplies information that is immediately applicable to real world situations making it a resource that city administrators can use to improve their public administration and governance skills      Salt City and its Black Community S. David Stamps, Miriam Burney Stamps, 2008-03-10 A robust black professional class has existed in many southern cities since the nineteenth century and in large northern cities such as Chicago New York and Washington D C since early in the twentieth century In contrast the black professional class in Syracuse New York a mid-sized northern industrial city developed relatively late and struggled in its early relationship with the white community Employing a conflict theory approach the authors analyze the effects of black migration north affirmative action school integration urban renewal deindustrialization political mobilization and suburbanization on the growth and development of the black community The authors demonstrate how competition for limited resources has fostered varying degrees of confrontation social dispute adjustment and eventual change in black white relations Drawing upon urban surveys and quantitative research combined with personal testimony this book offers a richly detailed and compelling portrait of a minority community providing indispensable insights into the dynamics of community development as a historical and sociological process      The Sociology of Community

Connections John G. Bruhn, 2011-07-18 Many of our current social problems have been attributed to the breakdown or loss of community as a place and to the fragmentation of connections due to an extreme value of individualism in the Western world particularly in the United States Not all scholars and researchers agree that individualism and technology are the primary culprits in the loss of community as it existed in the middle decades of the 20th century Nonetheless people exist in groups and connections are vital to their existence and in the daily performance of activities The second edition of the Sociology of Community Connections will identify and help students understand community connectedness in the present and future      Sustainability Matters (In 2 Volumes) Lin Heng Lye, Victor R Savage, Loke Ming Chou, Liya E Yu, Harn-wei Kua, 2014-04-29 Sustainability Matters is a compilation of some of the best research papers by students from the National University of Singapore's interdisciplinary graduate programme in environmental studies the MSc in Environmental Management MEM This collection is for the period 2009-10 to 2011-12 As the period covers 3 academic years the papers have been split into two volumes Sustainability Matters Asia's Green Challenges and Sustainability Matters Asia's Energy Concerns Green Policies and Environmental Advocacy These two volumes are the third and fourth compilation by the programme and respectively comprise sixteen and fourteen of the best research papers completed during this period The papers have been edited for brevity These papers analyze the many challenges to effective environmental management in the context of different countries including India Sri Lanka Bangladesh China Hong Kong Nepal Singapore and Thailand and propose insightful solutions The first compilation Sustainability Matters Environmental Management in Asia was published in

Walking the Streets of Eighteenth-Century London Clare Brant, Susan E. Whyman, 2009-01-15 Walking the Streets of Eighteenth Century London will entertain and inform all who are interested in literature history and the city of London This unique book invites the reader to walk along the dirty crowded and fascinating streets of eighteenth century London in an unusual way Nine leading experts from the fields of literature history classics gender biography geography and costume offer different interpretations of John Gay's poem Trivia or the Art of Walking the Streets of London 1716 The poem a lively funny and thought provoking statement about urban life accompanies the essays in a new edition with comprehensive notes The introduction paints a vibrant picture of London in 1716 depicting Gay's fascinating life and literary world offering an invaluable guide to the poem Together these elements allow the heat grime and smells of the underbelly of eighteenth century London come alive in new ways

Contemporary Asian American Communities Linda Trinh Võ, Rick Bonus, 2009 Once thought of in terms of geographically bounded spaces Asian America has undergone profound changes as a result of post 1965 immigration as well as the growth and reshaping of established communities This collection of original essays demonstrates that conventional notions of community of ethnic enclaves determined by exclusion and ghettoization now have limited use in explaining the dynamic processes of contemporary community formation Writing from a variety of perspectives these contributors expand the concept of community to include sites not necessarily bounded by space formations around gender class sexuality and generation reveal new processes as well as the demographic diversity of today's Asian American population The case studies gathered here speak to the fluidity of these communities and to the need for new analytic approaches to account for the similarities and differences between them Taken together these essays forcefully argue that it is time to replace the outworn concept of a monolithic Asian America
