Jewish Mad Men Kerri P. Steinberg, 2015-02-16 It is easy to dismiss advertising as simply the background chatter of modern life often annoying sometimes hilarious and ultimately meaningless But Kerri P Steinberg argues that a careful study of the history of advertising can reveal a wealth of insight into a culture In Jewish Mad Men Steinberg looks specifically at how advertising helped shape the evolution of American Jewish life and culture over the past one hundred years Drawing on case studies of famous advertising campaigns from Levy s Rye Bread You don t have to be Jewish to love Levy s to Hebrew National hot dogs We answer to a higher authority Steinberg examines advertisements from the late nineteenth century in New York the center of advertising in the United States to trace changes in Jewish life there and across the entire country She looks at ads aimed at the immigrant population at suburbanites in midcentury and at hipster and post denominational Jews today In addition to discussing campaigns for everything from Manischewitz wine to matzoh Jewish Mad Men also portrays the legendary Jewish figures in advertising like Albert Lasker and Bill Bernbach and lesser known Mad Men like Joseph Jacobs whose pioneering agency created the brilliantly successful Maxwell House Coffee Haggadah Throughout Steinberg uses the lens of advertising to illuminate the Jewish trajectory from outsider to insider and the related arc of immigration acculturation upward mobility and suburbanization Anchored in the illustrations photographs jingles and taglines of advertising Jewish Mad Men features a dozen color advertisements and many black and white images Lively and insightful this book offers a unique look at both advertising and Jewish life in the United States

The Aesthetics of

Nostalgia TV Alex Bevan, 2019-02-07 The Aesthetics of Nostalgia TV explores the aesthetic politics of nostalgia for 1950s and 60s America on contemporary television Specifically it looks at how nostalgic TV production design shapes and is shaped by larger historical discourses on gender and technological change and America's perceived decline as a global power Alex Bevan argues that the aesthetics of nostalgic TV tell stories of their own about historical decline and progress and the place of the baby boomer television suburb in American national memory She contests theories on nostalgia that see it as stagnating regressive or a reversion to outdated gender and racial politics and the technophobic longing for a bygone era and instead argues nostalgia is an important form of historical memory and vehicle for negotiating periods of historical transition The book addresses how and why the shows construct the boomer era as a placeholder for gender racial technological and declensionist discourses of the present The book uses Mad Men AMC 2007 2015 Ugly Betty ABC 2006 2010 Desperate Housewives ABC 2004 2012 and film remakes of 1950s and 60s family sitcoms as primary case studies
