LeFrançois, 2013 Mad Studies Reader Bradley Lewis, Alisha Ali, Jazmine Russell, 2024-09-30 The last few years have brought increased writings from activists artists scholars and concerned clinicians that cast a critical and constructive eye on psychiatry mental health care and the cultural relations of mental difference With particular focus on accounts of lived experience and readings that cover issues of epistemic and social injustice in mental health discourse the Mad Studies Reader brings together voices that advance anti sanist approaches to scholarship practice art and activism in this realm Beyond offering a theoretical and historical overview of mad studies this Reader draws on the perspectives voices and experiences of artists mad pride activists humanities and social science scholars and critical clinicians to explore the complexity of mental life and mental difference Voices from these groups confront and challenge standard approaches to mental difference They advance new structures of meaning and practice that are inclusive of those who have been systematically subjugated and promote anti sanist approaches to counter inequalities prejudices and discrimination Confronting modes of psychological oppression and the power of a few to interpret and define difference for so many the Mad Studies Reader asks the critical question of how these approaches may be reconsidered resisted and reclaimed This collection will be of interest to mental health clinicians students and scholars of the arts humanities and social sciences and anyone who has been affected by mental difference directly or indirectly who is curious to explore new perspectives Mad Studies: The Basics Merrick Daniel Pilling, 2025-05-19 Mad Studies The Basics provides an introductory account of a field that emerged from and must remain grounded within community knowledge activism and the perspectives of those who have experienced madness and mental health systems It is a concise text that introduces the field through an exploration of some origins of Mad Studies as well as two interrelated queries what does Mad Studies help us understand and what does Mad Studies help us do This exploration reveals that Mad Studies is an interdisciplinary intersectional and multi vocal field that demands different answers to the very meaning of the beliefs behaviours and bodymind experiences that are currently characterized as being indicative of mental illness At the heart of Mad Studies is a liberationist desire to resist transform and abolish the systems that create marginalization and implement responses to madness that are grounded in the collective knowledge of those deemed Mad This book shows that the contributions of Indigenous Black racialized queer and trans people must be understood as central to and already embedded within Mad Studies and activism rather than as add ons expansions or efforts to make Mad Studies more inclusive It will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies social work gender studies education health sciences sociology and psychology as well as practitioners in mental health care and those with lived experience of madness and mental health systems to explore the impacts of systems and institutions that manage abnormality and to create and foster space to explore the role of our own communities in justice and accountability dialogues This critical collection constitutes an integral contribution to critical scholarship on violence and mental illness by addressing a gap in the existing literature by broadening the violence lens and inviting an interdisciplinary conversation that is not narrowly biomedical and neuro scientific Public Participation in Health Care: Exploring the Co-Production of Knowledge Gill Green,Annette Louise Boaz,Maria Clasina Stuttard,2020-01-28 Queer and Trans Madness Merrick Daniel Pilling,2022-03-20 This book urges those invested in social justice for 2SLGBTQ people to interrogate the biomedical model of mental illness beyond the diagnoses that specifically target gender and sexual dissidence In this first comprehensive application of Mad Studies to queer and trans experiences of mental distress Pilling advances a broad critique of the biomedical model of mental illness as it pertains to 2SLGBTQ people arguing that Mad Studies is especially amenable to making sense of queer and trans madness Based on empirical data from two qualitative research studies this book includes analyses of inpatient chart documentation from a psychiatric hospital and interviews with those who have experienced distress Using an intersectional lens Pilling critically examines what constitutes mental health treatment and the impacts of medical strategies on mad queer and trans people Ultimately Queer and Trans Madness Struggles for Social Justice explores the emancipatory promise of queer and trans madness advocating for more resources to respond to crisis and distress in ways that are non coercive non carceral and honour autonomy as well as interdependence within 2SLGBTQ communities Mental Health Social Work Reimagined Ian Cummins,2019-04-17 Taking a critical and radical approach this book calls for a return to mental health social work that has personal relationships and an emotional connection between workers and those experiencing distress at its core The optimism that underpinned the development of community care policies has dissipated to be replaced by a form of bleak managerialism Neoliberalism has added stress to services already under great pressure and created a danger that we could revert to institutional forms of care This much needed book argues that the original progressive values of community care policies need to be rediscovered updated and reinvigorated to provide a basis for a mental health social work that returns to fundamental notions of dignity and citizenship Critical Inquiries for Social Justice in Mental Health Marina Morrow,Lorraine Halinka Malcoe,2017-01-01 An exceptional showcase of interdisciplinary research Critical Inquiries for Social Justice in Mental Health presents various critical theories methodologies and methods for transforming mental health research and fostering socially just mental health practices Marina Morrow and Lorraine Halinka Malcoe have assembled an array of international scholars activists and practitioners whose work exposes and disrupts the dominant neoliberal and individualist practices found in contemporary mental research policy and practice The contributors employ a variety of methodologies including intersectional decolonizing indigenous feminist post structural transgender queer and critical realist approaches in order to interrogate the manifestation of power relations in mental health systems and its impact on people with mental distress Additionally the contributors enable the reader to reimagine systems and supports designed from the bottom up in which the people most affected have decision making authority over their formations Critical Inquiries for Social Justice in Mental Health demonstrates why and how theory matters for knowledge production policy and practice in mental health and it creates new imaginings of decolonized and democratized mental health systems of abundant community centred supports and of a world where human differences are affirmed
