Made To Be Seen Perspectives On The History Of Visual Anthropology:

Made to Be Seen Marcus Banks, Jay Ruby, 2012-08-01 Made to be Seen brings together leading scholars of visual anthropology to examine the historical development of this multifaceted and growing field. Expanding the definition of visual anthropology beyond more limited notions, the contributors to Made to be Seen reflect on the role of the visual in all areas of life. Different essays critically examine a range of topics: art, dress, and body adornment; photography; the built environment; digital forms of visual anthropology; indigenous media; the body as a cultural phenomenon; the relationship between experimental and ethnographic film; and more. The first attempt to present a comprehensive overview of the many aspects of an anthropological approach to the study of visual and pictorial culture, Made to be Seen will be the standard reference on the subject for years to come. Students and scholars in anthropology, sociology, visual studies, and cultural studies will greatly benefit from this pioneering look at the way the visual is inextricably threaded through most if not all areas of human activity.

Visual Research Jerome W. Crowder, Jonathan S. Marion, 2023-12-12 Visual Research: A Concise Introduction to Thinking Visually, Second Edition, provides an accessible introduction to doing visual research in the social sciences. Beginning with ethical considerations, this book highlights the importance of thinking visually before engaging in visual research. Further themes involve creating, organizing, and using images and are presented so as to help readers think about and work with their own visual data. This fully updated second edition includes new case studies, updated discussions regarding the ethics of social media and online content, new technology, and an expansion to include new material on museum, public, and applied work. Concise and highly focused, Visual Research is an invaluable resource for visual media and communications students and researchers and others interested in visual research in the social sciences.

Visual Methods in Social Research Marcus Banks, 2001-05-01 There has been an explosion of interest in visual culture coming largely from work in sociology, anthropology, and cultural studies, and while there are a number of practical and technical manuals available for film, photographic, and other visual media, there is a dearth of writing that combines both the practical and the technical. This book redresses this with a balanced approach that is written primarily for students in the social sciences who wish to use visual materials in the course of empirical, qualitative field research. It should also be of interest to experienced researchers who wish to expand their methodological approaches.

Visual Research Jonathan S. Marion, Jerome W. Crowder, 2013-08-15 Visual Research: A Concise Introduction to Thinking Visually is the first text to present a concise overview of the significant ethical, theoretical, and practical considerations for conducting research with images. The capacity to take photos and video on handheld devices and the ability to store, post, and share such imagery online all offer tremendous opportunities for social research. The rapid development and popularity of such technology means that little technological proficiency is required and even less theoretical and ethical consideration. This book provides an accessible introduction to doing visual research in the social sciences. Beginning with ethical considerations, this book highlights the importance of thinking visually before engaging in visual research Further themes involve creating organizing and using images and are presented so as to help readers think about and work with their own visual data Boxed case studies and further reading suggestions enhance the utility of this primer Concise and highly focused Visual Research will be an invaluable resource for visual media and communications students and researchers and others interested in visual research in the social sciences

Arts and Aesthetics in a Globalizing World Raminder Kaur,Parul Dave-Mukherji,2020-05-21 This is an investigation of arts and aesthetics in their widest senses and experiences presenting a variety of perspectives which range from the metaphysical to the political Moving beyond art as an expression of the inner mind and invention of the individual self the volume bridges the gap between changing perceptions of contemporary art and aesthetics and maps globalizing currents in a number of contexts and regions The volume includes an impressive variety of case studies offered by established leaders in the field and original and emerging scholarly talent covering areas in India Nepal Indonesia Iran Russia Rwanda and Germany as well as providing transnational or diasporic perspectives From the contradictory demands made on successful artists from the south in the global art world such as Anish Kapoor to images of war and puppetry created by female political prisoners the volume compels creative and political interpretations of the ever changing and globalizing terrain of arts and aesthetics

How Television Shapes Our Worldview Deborah A. Macey, Kathleen M. Ryan, Noah J. Springer, 2014-05-15 Over the last half of the twentieth century television has become the predominant medium through which the public accesses information about the world Through the news situation comedies police dramas and commercials we learn about the world around us and our role within it These genres narratives and cultural forms are not simply entertainment but powerful socializing agents that show the world as we might never see it in real life How Television Shapes Our Worldview brings together a diverse set of scholars methodologies and theoretical frameworks to interrogate the ways through which television molds our vision of the outside world The essays include advertising and public relations analyses audience interviews and case studies that touch on genres ranging from science fiction in the 1970s to current reality television Television truly provides a powerful influence over how we learn about the world around us and understand its social processes

Screening Social Justice Sherry B. Ortner, 2023-02-20 In Screening Social Justice award winning anthropologist Sherry B. Ortner presents an ethnographic study of Brave New Films a nonprofit film production company that makes documentaries intended to mobilize progressive grassroots activism Ortner positions the work of the company within a tradition of activist documentary filmmaking and within the larger field of alternative media that is committed to challenging the mainstream media and telling the truth about the world today The company s films cover a range of social justice issues with particular focus on the hidden workings of capitalism racism and right wing extremism Beyond the films themselves Brave New Films is also famous for its creative distribution strategies All of the films are available for free on YouTube Central to the intention of promoting political activism the films circulate through networks of other activist and social justice organizations and are shown almost entirely in live screenings in which the power of the film is amplified Ortnr takes the reader inside both the production process and the screenings to show how a film can be made and used to mobilize action for a better world      Uncertain Images: Museums and the Work of Photographs Elizabeth

Edwards, Sigrid Lien, 2016-02-17 Almost all museums hold photographs in their collections and museum professionals and their audiences engage with photographs in a myriad of ways Yet despite some three decades of critical museology and photographic theory and an extensive debate on the politics of representation outside art museums almost no critical attention has been given specifically to the roles purposes and lives of these photographs within museums This book brings into focus the ubiquitous yet entirely unconsidered work that photographs are put to in museums The authors argument is that there is an economy of photographs in museums which is integral to the processes of the museum and integral to the understanding of museums The international contributors drawn from curators and academics reflect a range of visual and museological expertise After an introduction setting out the range of questions and problems the first part addresses broad curatorial strategies and ways of thinking about photographs in museums Shifting the emphasis from curatorial practices and anxieties to the space of the gallery this is followed by a series of case studies of exhibitionary practices and the museum strategies that support them The third section focuses on the role of photographs in the museum articulation of difficult histories A final section addresses photograph collections in a digital environment New technologies and new media have transformed the management address and purposing in photographs in museums from cataloguing practices to streaming on social media These growing practices challenge both traditional hierarchies of knowledge in museums and the location of authority about photographs The volume emerges from PhotoCLEC a HERA funded project on museums and the photographic legacy of the colonial past in a postcolonial and multicultural Europe      Handbook of Visual Communication Sheree Josephson, James Kelly, Ken Smith, 2020-04-03 This Handbook of Visual Communication explores the key theoretical areas and research methods of visual communication With chapters contributed by many of the best known and respected scholars in visual communication this volume brings together significant and influential work in the discipline The second edition of this already classic text has been completely revised to reflect the metamorphosis of communication in the last 15 years and the ubiquity of visual communication in our modern mediated lifestyle Thirteen major theories of communication are defined by the top experts in their fields perception cognition aesthetics visual rhetoric semiotics cultural studies ethnography narrative media aesthetics digital media intertextuality ethics and visual literacy Each of these theory chapters is followed by an exemplar study or two in the area demonstrating the various methods used in visual communication research as well as the research approaches applicable for specific media types The Handbook of Visual Communication is a theoretical and methodological handbook for visual communication researchers and a compilation for much of the theoretical background necessary to understand visual communication It is required reading for scholars researchers and advanced students in visual communication and it will be influential in other disciplines such as advertising persuasion and media studies The volume will also be essential to media practitioners seeking to understand the visual aspects of how audiences use media to contribute to more effective use of each specific medium

Richard Pace,2021-04-30 From Filmmaker Warriors to Flash Drive Shamans broadens the base of research on Indigenous media in Latin America through thirteen chapters that explore groups such as the Kayap of Brazil the Mapuche of Chile the Kichwa of Ecuador and the Ayuuk of Mexico among others as they engage video DVDs photography television radio and the internet The authors cover a range of topics such as the prospects of collaborative film production the complications of archiving materials and the contrasting meanings of and even conflict over embedded aesthetics in media production i e how media reflects in some fashion the ownership authorship and or cultural sensibilities of its community of origin Other topics include active audiences engaging television programming in unanticipated ways philosophical ruminations about the voices of the dead captured on digital recorders the innovative uses of digital platforms on the internet to connect across generations and even across cultures and the overall challenges to obtaining media sovereignty in all manner of media production The book opens with contributions from the founders of Indigenous Media Studies with an overview of global Indigenous media by Faye Ginsburg and an interview with Terence Turner that took place shortly before his death Travel

Writing, Visual Culture, and Form, 1760-1900 Brian H. Murray,Mary Henes,2016-03-18 This collection reveals the variety of literary forms and visual media through which travel records were conveyed in the long nineteenth century bringing together a group of leading researchers from a range of disciplines to explore the relationship between travel writing visual representation and formal innovation Reproducing Fictional Ethnographies Anna

Apostolidou,2023-01-10 This book focuses on the example of surrogate motherhood to explore the interplay between new reproductive technologies and new ethnographic writing technologies It seeks to interrogate the potential of fictional multimodality in ethnography and to illuminate the generative possibilities of digital artefacts in anthropological research It also makes a case for the tailor made character of ethnographic writing in the digital era arguing that research quests and representational modalities can be paired together to develop unique narrative forms corresponding to each particular topic s traits and analytical affordances Focusing on the intersections of assisted reproduction technologies and digitally mediated writing this study casts light upon the value of the affective the fictional and the real in the anthropological research and writing of relatedness Analyzing the situated knowledge of ethnographers and research interlocutors it experiments with multimodal storytelling and revisits the century long debate on the affinity between an object of study and the possibilities for its representation As the first attempt to bring together digital anthropology fiction writing and the ethnography of surrogacy this book fuses the genealogy of feminist critique on the orthodox phallocentric and heteronormative aspects of academic discourse with the input of digital humanities vis vis troubling the conventional formal properties of scholarly writing

Thanks for Watching Patricia G. Lange, 2019-11-15 YouTube hosts one billion visitors monthly and sees more than 400 hours of video uploaded every minute In her award winning book Thanks for Watching Patricia G Lange offers an anthropological perspective on this heavily mediated social environment by analyzing videos and the emotions that motivate sharing them She demonstrates how core concepts from anthropology participant observation reciprocity and community apply to sociality on YouTube Lange s book reconceptualizes and updates these concepts for video sharing cultures Lange draws on 152 interviews with YouTube participants at gatherings throughout the United States content analyses of more than 300 videos observations of interactions on and off the site and participant observation She documents how the introduction of monetization options impacted perceived opportunities for open sharing and creative exploration of personal and social messages Lange s book provides new insight into patterns of digital migration YouTube s influence on off site interactions and the emotional impact of losing control over images The book also debunks traditional myths about online interaction such as the supposed online offline binary the notion that anonymity always degrades public discourse and the popular characterization of online participants as over sharing narcissists YouTubers experiences illustrate fascinating hybrid forms of contemporary sociality that are neither purely mediated nor sufficient when conducted only in person Combining intensive ethnography analysis of video artifacts and Lange s personal vlogging experiences the book explores how YouTubers are creating a posthuman collective characterized by interaction support and controversy In analyzing the tensions between YouTubers idealistic goals of sociality and the site s need for monetization Thanks for Watching makes crucial contributions to cultural anthropology digital ethnography science and technology studies new media studies communication interaction design and posthumanism For its perceptive analysis of video blogging for self expression and sociality Thanks for Watching received the Franklyn S Haiman Award for Distinguished Scholarship in Freedom of Expression 2020 from the National Communication Association

Looking with Robert Gardner Rebecca Meyers, William Rothman, Charles Warren, 2016-09-20 During his lifetime Robert Gardner 1925 2014 was often pigeonholed as an ethnographic filmmaker then criticized for failing to conform to the genre s conventions conventions he radically challenged With the release of his groundbreaking film Dead Birds in 1963 Gardner established himself as one of the world s most extraordinary independent filmmakers working in a unique border area between ethnography the essay film and poetic experimental cinema Richly illustrated Looking with Robert Gardner assesses the range and magnitude of Gardner s achievements not only as a filmmaker but also as a still photographer writer educator and champion of independent cinema The contributors give critical attention to Gardner s most ambitious films such as Dead Birds 1963 New Guinea Rivers of Sand 1975 Ethiopia and Forest of Bliss 1986 India as well as lesser known films that equally exemplify his mode of seeking anthropological understanding through artistic means They also attend to his films about artists including his self depiction in Still Journey OnM 2011 to his roots in experimental film and his employment of experimental procedures and to his support of independent filmmakers through the Harvard Film Study Center and the television series Screening Room which provided an opportunity for numerous important film and video artists to present and discuss their work
