Tools for Strengths-Based Assessment and Evaluation Catherine Simmons, 2012-11-08 Traditionally assessment and evaluation have focused on the negative aspects or deficits of a client's presentation. Yet strengths, health, and those things that are going right in a person's life are key protective factors in the prevention and treatment of many mental health problems. Thus measuring strengths is an important component of a balanced assessment and evaluation process. This is the first compendium of more than 140 valid and reliable strengths-based assessment tools that clinicians, researchers, educators, and program evaluators can use to assess a wide array of positive attributes including well-being, mindfulness, optimism, resilience, humor, aspirations, values, sources of support, emotional intelligence, and much more. These tools provide a clear picture of an individual's strengths while being easy to complete, score, and interpret. The scales and instruments included are consistently formatted, are organized according to construct measures, and include tools for working with adults, couples, families, children, and special populations. They represent a wide range of theoretical approaches and were written by a diverse array of professionals including social workers, psychologists, nurses, physicians, and sociologists.

Partial List of Instruments: Adult Dispositional Hope Scale, Assessing Emotions Scale, Flourishing Scale, Five Facet Mindfulness Questionnaire, Positive States of Mind Scale, A Measure of Expectations for Partner, Multidimensional Sense of Humor Scale, Parenting Sense of Competence Scale, Personal Wellbeing Index, Proactive Coping Inventory, Psychological Empowerment Scale, Stress-Related Growth Scale, Social Wellbeing Scales, Wellness Beliefs Scale

Handbook of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention James M. Raczynski, Ralph J. DiClemente, 2013-11-11 The idea for this volume developed when we were co-teaching our introductory master's level course in the Department of Health Behavior at the UAB School of Public Health, a core course for all masters of public health students in the school regardless of the department in which they enrolled or the focus of their studies. Hence in the course we sought to provide both students in our department as well as those who might not ever again take a health behavior course with an overview that would both truly represent the field and substantially provide educational research and public health practice benefits. This was and continues to be a challenge with the diversity of students specializing in fields that include not only health behavior but also bio statistics environmental health sciences epidemiology health care organization and policy international health and maternal and child health The course that we taught attempted to provide the students with an overview of some of the important health promotion and disease prevention theories methods and policy issues while re viewing applications of these theories and methods to promoting health and pre venting disease through a variety of channels for a variety of disease outcomes and among a variety of populations Since no one text provided this variety of readings we depended on readings and guest lectures Adolescent Coping Scale Erica Frydenberg,Ramon Lewis,1998
