God The Economist The Doctrine Of God And Political Economy:

God the Economist M. Douglas Meeks, God does not appear in the modern market For most economists this is as it should be It is in no way necessary according to modern economic theory to consider God when thinking about economy Indeed the absence of God in economic matters is viewed as necessary to the great advances in modern economy The difficulty with modern market economies however is that human livelihood is also left out of the theory and practice of the market economy I propose to bring the church s teaching about God the doctrine of the Trinity to bear on the masked connections between God and economy I will treat the Trinity as the way of understanding what the Bible calls the economy of God

A Christian Perspective on Political Thought Stephen Charles Mott,1993 The author seeks to advance the role of biblical and theological values in the political lives of individual Christians and the public discourse of American society He argues that Americans want to make choices in terms of standards of right and wrong but tend to lack the formulation of a theory

 Pluralism has become the defining characteristic of modern societies Individuals with differing values clamor for equality Organizations and groups assert particular interests Social movements flourish and fade Some see in this clash of principles and aims the potential for a more just human community while others fear the erosion of enduring culture Yet beneath this welter stand powerful and pervasive institutions whose distinctive norms profoundly shape our moral commitments and character notably the family the market the media and systems of law religion politics research education health care and defense Drawing on scholarship from five continents many disciplines and diverse religious perspectives this series examines the impact of these various institutions on moral education character and values As globalization carries the shifting dynamic between individuals and institutions into every part of the globe the contributors hope that this conversation will help address the increasing challenges confronting our pluralist societies and our world In the theoretical empirical and historical contributions to this volume theologians economists and market practitioners discuss the many tensions between market economics ethics and the Christian religion thus adding to the fruitful and much needed dialogue between economics and theology With contributions by Jason Brennan Michael J Broyde Ginny Seung Choi Samuel Gregg Peter Lampe Manfred Lautenschlager Frank J Lechner Klaus Leisinger Katrin G lden Le Maire Piet Naud Paul Oslington Stephen Pickard William Schweiker Virgil Henry Storr J rgen von Hagen Michael Welker Kaja Wieczorek and John Witte Contributions by Peter Carnley Gregor Etzelm ller Johannes Eurich Jennifer Herdt Admiel Kosman Piet Naud Waihan Ng Friederike N ssel Bernd Oberdorfer Martin Percy Stephen Pickard Raja Sakrani William Schweiker Philipp Stoellger Milton Wan Renee Ip Michael Welker and John Witte Jr Postcolonial Public Theology Paul S. Chung, 2016-02-02 Postcolonial Public Theology is a tour de force theological reflection transformed by encounter with the most compelling intellectual discourses of our time It offers prophetic challenge to the hegemony of economic globalization Evolutionary science s encounter with life s limit questions requires an ethically responsible practice of scientific rationality measured by sufficient sustainable livelihood for all Interreligious engagement compels us to take seriously the realities of cultural hybridity and social location in reimagining a polycentric Christianity Postcolonial Public Theology makes the case for public theology to turn toward postcolonial imagination demonstrating a fresh rethinking of public and global issues that continue to emerge in the aftermath of colonialism This book provides students and scholars in these various fields an interesting framework from which to continue to dialogue about the relevance of this literature and in particular the continuing importance of Christian theology in the public arena Jürgen Moltmann and the Work of Hope M. Douglas Meeks, 2018-10-31 These essays reflect on the future of Christian theology in light of the contributions J rgen Moltmann has made in his prolific career as one of the world s foremost theologians They are not a prediction of what is coming in the future of theology since God s own actions and human history for that matter are not predictable Expressed here is hope for what future theology should take seriously from Moltmann's work Moltmann broke the mold of 19th and 20th century theology by focusing consistently on God's promises of a new heaven and a new earth. The result was a theological imagination that is utterly realistic, delighting in the creative tension of theology that lives in an unfinished, open field of negations and possibilities. Hope for the promised future of God casts its light on present sufferings that contradict that future. The prominent themes here focus on the contradictions of God's promises and God's justice. The essays see clearly the human domination that leads to the oppression of nature, the hatred of the poor, the dominance of one gender over the other, the migration of those who find no home in their homeland, and the wounds of neocolonialism. For Moltmann, these sufferings do not belong simply to ethics but to the heart of theology. The doctrines of creation, redemption, and new creation are fully engaged in the political, economic, ecological, and social problems of this time. Here lies the way ecumenism will be reborn in the future. The essays argue that theology should not turn aside from Moltmann's main theme of the resurrection of the Crucified One and of the presence of God's future in the present. Hope opens our eyes to the work of God's Spirit of Life and the affirmation of eternal life in the present. The future of Christian theology should not miss the theme of joy in the face of sin, death, and evil, and the celebration of God's cosmic, all-inclusive future in which God will be at home in God's creation.

Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination Jamie Gates, Mark Mann, 2012-11-06. Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination searches through biblical scholarship, theology, economics, sociology, politics, ecology, and history to discern the strands of God's justice and reconciliation at work in the contemporary world. Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination challenges Christians to engage the most troubling social problems of our time by first drinking deeply from the well of the historic prophetic traditions. Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination witnesses to a God that raises up prophets to speak at critical moments in every time and to what it might look like for the Church to nurture the soil from which such prophetic voices spring. Rarely do such a wide variety of authors from such different backgrounds and vocations get together to name what the prophetic work of God looks like in our midst. The radical justice and reconciliation of God can be found in every corner of life if we know where to look for it. Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination provides some guidance in this direction. Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination celebrates and seeks to build upon the legacy of eminent biblical scholar Walter Brueggemann's seminal work The Prophetic Imagination, first published in 1978, by assessing the core insights and themes he develops through a number of different lenses These include contemporary biblical scholarship theology economics sociology politics ecology and church history Nurturing the Prophetic Imagination also discusses the extent to which the Christian prophetic tradition continues to speak meaningfully within the contemporary world and thereby seeks to be a source for inspiring future generations of Christian prophets to do likewise The Environment and Christian Ethics Michael S. Northcott, 1996-09-28 This book is about the extent origins and causes of the environmental crisis Dr Northcott argues that Christianity has lost the biblical awareness of the interconnectedness of all life He shows how Christian theologians and believers might recover a more ecologically friendly belief system and life style The author provides an important corrective to secular approaches to environmental ethics including utilitarian individualism animal rights theories and deep ecology After Nature's Revolt Dieter T. Hessel, 2003-03-27 Living with the consequences of modern Western abuse of the environment has alerted many to the need to change not simply their habits but also their worldview A true faith centered eco justice ethic assert the contributors to this volume will recognize the intrinsic links between social justice questions and environmental ones It will also demand reassessment of fundamental assumptions many of them from Christian theology that stand behind Western social economic and technological patterns Introduced by Hessel s illuminating assessment of specific environmental challenges the theologians in this volume rethink aspects of Christian doctrines lifestyle and spirituality They tackle key environmental issues And together they pioneer a theological perspective that moves beyond anthropocentrism to a new center in creation itself The Good Work of Non-Christians,

Empowerment, and the New Creation Stuart C. Weir, 2016-04-25 Have you ever considered the ultimate purposes and consequences of good work performed by non Christians Have you ever theologically considered the work of non Christians at all Is it possible that God would ever give credence to let alone honor the work of non Christians in an ultimate sense Are you frustrated by theologies of work that are entirely protological in orientation How do we make sense of biblical excerpts that talk of work being judged towards a particular outcome The Good Work of Non Christians Empowerment and the New Creation attempts to answer these questions in a manner that also challenges evangelical assumptions about the ultimate outcomes of working life Drawing strength from eschatologically minded theologies by Miroslav Volf and Darrell Cosden Weir seeks to replace protology with eschatology in a theology of work about non Christians The British evangelical tradition is specifically taken up here so as to make critical assessments of certain airtight theologies regarding human action with reference to the new creation This book attempts to create a heuristic against unhelpful hermeneutical tendencies that inform evangelical theologies This is a work that is not only theological it is biblically historically and ethically rigorous

Jürgen Moltmann's Ethics of Hope Timothy Harvie, 2016-05-06 This book develops a thorough account of the sphere of human moral action in sustained dialogue with Jürgen Moltmann By examining God s role as promise giver particularly in the Christian understanding of resurrection this work describes the occupancy of both history and space in moral terms This leads to an understanding of Jesus' description of the kingdom of God to feature prominently in describing both the possibility and content of human moral action. By offering an account of each of the main doctrines found in Moltmann's corpus, the role of the future, the Trinity, the Holy Spirit, and anthropology, this book locates how each contributes to the understanding of ethics from a Christian perspective and subsequently applies these findings to the contemporary issue of poverty and global economics.
