O Man, Where Art Thou? (Genesis 3:9) Rev. Kingsley C. Ogbuji SSJ,2025-09-24 Many years ago I worked as a mental health counselor and a priest in Orleans Parish Jail In my experience with jail ministry as a priest and counselor I witnessed firsthand the near total destruction of men particularly black men Over 90 percent of the black men I encountered struggled with mental health and substance use issues Many felt hopeless and helpless One day as I was reading the book of Genesis and reflecting on my experiences I came across Genesis 3 9 where God asked a profound question Adam where art thou This simple yet profound question prompted deep thoughts and reflection Through divine inspiration God revealed to me that the Black man is the most endangered species on earth Drugs and alcohol are not the problem of the Black man but a poisoned mind that has kept him down for generations The Black man has incredible potential but the enemy has vowed to keep him a perpetual enslaved person however he can be restored God revealed to me some secrets in the book of Genesis that can help the Black man flourish again Although this reflection is written for black men dealing with mental health and substance use issues it may also be helpful for anyone in need of divine healing and restoration

Toxic Faith Stephen Arterburn, Jack Felton, 2011-04-13 Experiencing Healing from Painful Spiritual Abuse When religion becomes a means to avoid or control life it becomes toxic Those who possess a toxic faith have stepped across the line from a balanced perspective of God to an unbalanced faith in a weak powerless or uncaring God They seek a God to fix every mess prevent every hurt and mend every conflict Toxic Faith distinguishes between a healthy faith and a misguided religiosity that traps believers in an addictive practice of religion It shows how unbalanced ministries misguided churches and unscrupulous leaders can lead their followers away from God and into a desolate experience of religion that drives many to despair Toxic Faith shows readers how to find hope for a return to genuine healthy faith that can add meaning to life In the words of the author I want to help you throw out that toxic faith and bring you back to the real thing Sacred Stress

LaPine, 2020-11-04 Do not be anxious about anything When it comes to stress and worry that's all we really need to say right Just repent of your anxiety and everything will be fine But emotional life is more complex than this In The Logic of the Body Matthew LaPine argues that Protestants must retrieve theological psychology in order to properly understand the emotional life of the human person With classical and modern resources in tow LaPine argues that one must not choose between viewing emotions exclusively as either cognitive and volitional on the one hand or simply a feeling of bodily change on the other The two stories can be reconciled through a robustly theological analysis In a culture filled with worry and anxiety The Logic of the Body offers a fresh path within the Reformed tradition
