Influence Consciousness Concerns Consumer Attitudes:

Environmental Attitudes and Awareness Geetika Tankha, 2017-11-06 Environmental problems of pollution and degradation are a major source of concern globally. At all levels, efforts are being made to protect and preserve the environment from further deterioration. Measures are being taken at international, national, and regional levels by governments and organisations to spread the awareness and concern for the environment and ecosystem, but these are not yet yielding the expected returns. Research has indicated that humans must be guided by values, beliefs, and individual motivating factors if attitudes are to be converted into actual behaviour. This book presents an empirical research study on the relationship between the measures of ecological concern and its demographic and psychosocial determinants. It discusses the various models of environmental concern and tracks the human environment relationship as studied by environmental psychologists and sociologists. The book will be of great use to students, academics, researchers, and scholars in a variety of fields including human ecology, eco philosophy, sustainable development, environmental psychology, environmental sociology, environmental economics, environmental studies, and conservation psychology, and will further the reader's understanding of the role of human factors in ecological protection. It will also be of value to policy makers and the general reader interested in understanding behavioural and psychosocial perspectives on environmental concern. Exploring

Consumers' Willingness To Adopt Climate-Friendly Diets Maria Isabel Miguel, Jana Majerova, 2024-08-28 It is widely known that food markets have a high environmental impact which needs to be minimized in order to help mitigate climate change. Governments and international institutions can help improve the sustainability of global food production; however, consumers' decisions have an important role in influencing food market stakeholders' choices towards sustainable food sources and low emission practices. Understanding consumers' awareness of the importance of choosing sustainable diets and their capability to adapt their individual decision making is pivotal to stimulating or improving consumers' willingness to move towards choosing climate friendly food and avoiding food waste. There are many factors that influence people's food choices from cultural and ethical acceptability, visual attractiveness, taste, agreeability, and economic affordability, which change depending on the geographical areas and targeted group of people. Thus, to orient consumers' food choices, many challenges need to be considered, including making consumers aware of organic food health and environmental benefits, nutritional high protein alternatives to meat, and offering affordable solutions. The aim of this Research Topic is to collect different perspectives on consumers' food choices in relation to the environmental sustainability issue. This would support the decision makers and food systems stakeholders to move towards sustainable food production. Thus, this collection wishes to highlight the consumers' point of view on the trade off between personal habits and food preferences and climate friendly choices in geographical areas, including the awareness of the impact that the diet choice may have on the environment. This collection welcomes submissions on the following themes but are not limited to: Consumers' perception of the diet's impact on climate change issue Consumers food choice drivers Cultural acceptability of alternative protein sources Consumers willingness to purchase organic food Trade off availability between sustainable and affordable food choice Food, Health and Safety in Cross Cultural Consumer Contexts Derek V. Byrne, 2021-08-17 The concept of cross cultural perspectives in research in food is important in general and particularly so in relation to human perception in food and health Food concepts are very different across different jurisdictions Different markets and cultures have varying perspectives on what is considered a palatable acceptable or useful food or food product in simple terms one size does not at all in the majority of cases Specific markets thus need targeted food design to be successful from a myriad of perspectives In this Special Issue anthology Food Health and Safety in Cross Cultural Consumer Contexts we bring together articles that show the wide range of studies from fundamental to market applicability currently in focus in sensory and consumer science in food health and safety cross cultural contexts From the included perspectives it is abundantly clear that there is a need for much knowledge related to future food design linked to cross cultural contexts and that this will continue to be critical to the success of food transfer in global food markets Neurosensory and Neuromarketing Impacts on Consumer Behavior Malik, Reena, Malhan, Shivani, Arora, Manpreet, 2024-10-11 The intersection of neurosensory and neuromarketing continues to reshape our understanding of consumer behavior exploring the impact of sensory experiences and cognitive processes on purchasing decisions Neurosensory research examines how sensory stimuli affect brain activity and emotional responses Neuromarketing applies these findings to develop strategies to engage and persuade consumers to buy products effectively crafting marketing plans experiences tactics Further exploration of the integration of neuroscience into marketing may help businesses improve their approach to consumer behavior studies leading to more impactful and targeted marketing efforts Neurosensory and Neuromarketing Impacts on Consumer Behavior examines the positive impact of neuroscience and sensory studies on marketing and consumer behavior The role of intelligent technologies in neuromarketing and the effects of these tactics on various demographics are explored This book covers topics such as neuroscience social media and artificial intelligence and is a useful resource for business owners psychologists policymakers computer engineers scientists researchers and academicians Consumer Behavior in Practice Eugene Y. Chan, 2024-02-22 Aimed at marketing students and practitioners this book places less emphasis on theory but instead helps readers to understand why their customers are acting in a certain way or why their marketing activities or initiatives are not or are working out The text examines the relevance of consumer behavior in such marketing topics as advertising and pricing with topical chapters such as the sharing economy luxury consumer behavior and the ideological consumer Each chapter includes boxes that highlight theory in greater depth show how the concepts discuss work in actual practice and the relevance of digital and social media marketing This book will prove useful to those looking for a greater understanding of how consumer behavior provides greater insight about marketing activities AI in Business: Opportunities and Limitations Reem Khamis, Amina
