Developing Grading and Reporting Systems for Student Learning

Thomas R. Guskey, Jane M. Bailey, 2024-07-24 Teachers, parents, students, administrators and community members all agree that we need better grading and reporting systems. Often these systems are inadequate because they are part of a tradition that can go unexamined and unquestioned for years. Here is the first serious look at the issue written to provide all those involved, especially teachers, with a coherent and thoughtful framework. Guskey and Bailey offer four pillars of successful grading and reporting systems: Communication is the primary goal of grading and reporting. Grading and reporting are integral parts of the instructional process. Good reporting is based on good evidence. Creating change in grading and reporting requires creating a multi-faceted reporting system. Written to help readers develop a deeper and more reflective understanding of the various aspects of the subject, Thomas Guskey and Jane Bailey's work brings organization and clarity to a murky and disagreement-filled topic. Here is a practical and essential guide for teachers, administrators or anyone concerned with understanding and implementing best practices in grading and reporting systems. Recent Perspectives on Early Childhood Education and Care in Canada Larry Prochner, 2012-01-01 Early childhood education is critical for preparing children for success in formal school settings and as such is a major concern throughout the world. This volume brings together ground-breaking research in this area to help practitioners, students, policy makers, curriculum designers and intervention program developers understand the latest ideas and advances in the field. Recent Perspectives of Early Childhood Education and Care in Canada centres on three key themes. The first provides a survey of historical social policy, economic and provincial regulations and policies related to early childhood education and care. The second focuses on issues related to children's learning, curriculum and teachers. The final theme addresses recent developments in government involvement in early childhood education and care that are unique to Canada. The contributors to this volume demonstrate the pressing need that exists to further public discussion on early childhood education to help policymakers shape better decisions for Canadian families. Resources in Education, 1998 Writing Effective Report Card Comments Kathleen Crane, 2007 Thoughtful and constructive report card comments can improve parent-teacher communication and student performance.
