not as isolated regimes but rather as belonging to a discursive continuum on cultural heritage. In doing so the book focuses on themes that cut across the relevant UNESCO regimes like the use of expert rule in international heritage law economics the relationship between heritage and the environment among others rather than the regimes themselves. It uses this mechanism to highlight the blind spots and unintended consequences of UNESCO treaties and how choices made in their drafting have continuing and potentially negative impacts on how we think about and safeguard heritage. Reconstruction and Restoration of Architectural Heritage 2021 Sergey Sementsov, Alexander Leontyev, Huerta Santiago, 2021-07-27

Communities and Cultural Heritage Valerie Higgins, Diane Douglas, 2020-11-29

Communities and Cultural Heritage explores the relationship between communities their cultural heritage and the global forces that control most of the world's wealth and resources in today's world. Bringing together scholars and heritage practitioners from nine countries this book contributes to the ongoing dialogue on community heritage by analysing impediments to full community participation. The undermining of local communities comes at a high price. As the chapters in this book demonstrate the knowledge embedded within traditional and Indigenous heritage creates communities that are more resilient to environmental and social stressors and more responsive to contemporary challenges such as climate change environmental degradation post disaster recovery and relocation. Cultural heritage practices often fail to capitalise upon local knowledge and traditional skills and undervalue the potential contribution of local communities in finding creative and resourceful solutions to the issues they are confronting. Arguing that the creation of successful community heritage project requires ongoing reflection on the aims methods financing and acceptable outcomes of projects the volume also demonstrates that the decolonization of Western focussed heritage practices is an ongoing process by which subaltern groups are brought forward and given a space in the heritage narrative. Reflecting on trends that impact communities and heritage sites across different geographical regions Communities and Cultural Heritage will be of interest to academics students and practitioners of cultural heritage archaeology and anthropology around the world. Handbook of Research on
