A Matter of Faith David E. Campbell, 2007-09-01 Moral values dominated the post election headlines in 2004 Analysts pointed to exit polls strong turnout among evangelicals and controversy over gay marriage as evidence that the election had been decided along religious lines Soon however this explanation was called into question In A Matter of Faith distinguished scholars go beyond the headlines to assess the role of religion in the 2004 election Were issues such as stem cell research really more influential than the economy and Iraq Did deeply religious Americans necessarily vote Republican Was the morality factor really a dramatic new development David E Campbell and his colleagues examine the religious affiliations of voters and party elite and evaluate the claim that moral values were decisive in 2004 The authors analyze strategies used to mobilize religious conservatives and examine the voting behavior of a broad range of groups including evangelicals African Americans and the understudied religious left This rich perspective on faith and politics is essential reading on a critical aspect of American politics Contributors include John Green University of Akron Pew Forum on Religion and Public Life James Guth Furman University Sunshine Hillygus Harvard University Laura Hussey University of Baltimore John Jackson University of Southern Illinois Scott Keeter Pew Research Center for the People and the Press Lyman Kellstedt Wheaton College Geoffrey Layman University of Maryland David Leal University of Texas at Austin David Leege Notre Dame Eric McDaniel University of Texas at Austin Quin Monson Brigham Young University Barbara Norrander

Miroslav Volf ABOUT VOLUME FOUR All the world's religions are experiencing rapid change due to a confluence of social and economic global forces. Factors such as the pervasive intrusion of globalizing political and economic developments, polarized and morally equivalent presentations seen in the media and the sense of surety demanded in and promised by a culture dominated by science are some of the factors that have placed extreme pressure on all religious traditions. This has stimulated unprecedented responses by religious groups ranging from fundamentalism to the syncretistic search for meaning. As religion takes on new forms, the balance between individual and community is disrupted and reconfigured. Religions often lose the capacity to recall their ultimate purpose or lead their adherents toward it. This is the situation we call the crisis of the holy. It is a confluence of threats, challenges, and opportunities for all religions. This volume explores the contours of pressures, changes, and transformations and reflects on how all our religions are changing. By identifying commonalities across religions as they respond to these pressures, The Crisis of the Holy recommends ways religious traditions might cope with these changes and how they might join forces in doing so. Contributors: Vincent J. Cornell, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Sidney H. Griffith, Maria Reis, Habito B. Barry, Levy Deepak, Sarma Michael, von Brück. ABOUT VOLUME FIVE The chapters collected in this book, prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy, address the subject of religious leadership. The subject is of broad relevance in the training of religious leaders and in the practice of religious leadership. As such, it is also germane to religious thought where reflections on religious leadership occupy an important place. What does it mean to be a religious leader in today's world? To what degree are the challenges that confront religious leadership today the same perennial challenges that have arrested the attention of the faithful and their leaders for generations, and to what degree do we encounter challenges today that are unique to our day and age? One dimension is surely unique and that is the very ability to explore these issues from an interreligious perspective and to consider challenges, opportunities, and strategies across religious traditions. Studying the theme across six faith traditions: Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Sikhism, Hinduism, and Buddhism. The Future of Religious Leadership: World Religions in Conversation recognizes the common challenges to present-day religious leadership. Contributors: Awet Andemicael, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Anantanand Rambachan, Maria Reis, Habito Meir Sendor, Balwant Singh, Dhillon Miroslav Volf. VOLUME SIX One of the biggest challenges for relations between religions is the view of the religious Other. The question touches the roots of our theological views. The Religious Other: Hostility, Hospitality, and the Hope of Human Flourishing explores the views of multiple religious traditions on how to regard otherness. How does one move from hostility to hospitality? How can hospitality be understood not simply as social hospitality but as theological hospitality, making room for the religious Other on theological grounds? What is our vision for the flourishing of the Other while respecting his otherness? This volume is an exercise in constructive interreligious theology. By including Abrahamic and non-Abrahamic traditions, it approaches these challenges from multiple perspectives, highlighting commonalities in approach and ways in which one tradition might inspire another. Contributors: Vincent J. Cornell, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Richard P. Hayes.
