Literary Tourism Ian Jenkins,Katrin Anna Lund,2019-07-12 Literary tourism is a nascent field in tourism studies yet tourists often travel in the footsteps of well known authors and stories Providing a wide ranging cornucopia of literary tourism topics this book fully explores the interconnections between the written word and travel It includes tourism stories using guidebooks films television and electronic media and recognises that stories texts and narratives even if they cannot be classified as traditional travel writing can become journeys in themselves and take us on imaginary voyages Appealing to a wide audience of different disciplines it encompasses subjects such as business literary writing historical journeys and the poetry of Dylan Thomas The use of these different perspectives demonstrates how heavily and widely literature influences travel tourists and tourism making it an important read for researchers and students of tourism social science and literature

Transnational Writing on Italy Lynn Mastellotto,2025-03-18 Relocation narratives form a distinct subgenre of contemporary travel memoirs concerned with the experiences of travellers who become settlers in foreign locales and narrate their experience of cultural accommodation in serial autobiographical accounts This book seeks to understand the discourse of identity alterity in relocation writing which focuses on the topos of everyday life from a transnational perspective one which embraces a cosmopolitan orientation of openness to cultural difference Focusing on three transnational writers in Italy and their respective relocation trilogies Frances Mayes's Tuscan memoirs Annie Hawes's Ligurian memoirs and Tim Parks's Verona memoirs the study examines the sustained engagement with place and place based practices given narrative voice through multipart works which trace the authors migrating identities These nonfiction accounts contribute to a broader polyphonic literature in which transnational writers give voice to personal stories shaped by intercultural experiences which provide a powerful localised lens to examine how identities are dialogically transformed through contact with difference in a globalised world By giving readers an opportunity to reflect on identity and diversity in local global contexts transnational literature contributes to a better understanding of cultural change in late modernity and provides an important space for critical creative and transcultural exchange

Reconstructing Italy Stephanie Zeier Pilat, 2016-04-08 Reconstructing Italy traces the postwar transformation of the Italian nation through an analysis of the Ina Casa plan for working class housing established in 1949 to address the employment and housing crises Government sponsored housing programs undertaken after WWII have often been criticized as experiments that created more social problems than they solved The neighborhoods of Ina Casa stand out in contrast to their contemporaries both in terms of design and outcome Unlike modernist high rise housing projects of the period Ina Casa neighborhoods are picturesque and human scaled and incorporate local construction materials and methods resulting in a rich aesthetic diversity And unlike many other government forays into housing undertaken during this period the Ina Casa plan was on the whole successful the neighborhoods are still lively and cohesive communities today This book examines what made Ina Casa a success among so many failed housing experiments focusing on the tenuous balance struck between the legislation governing Ina Casa the architects who led the Ina Casa administration the theory of design that guided architects working on the plan and an analysis of the results the neighborhoods and homes constructed Drawing on the writings of the architects government documents and including brief passages from works of neorealist literature and descriptions of neorealist films by Pier Paolo Pasolini Italo Calvino and others this book presents a portrait of the postwar struggle to define a post Fascist Italy

Piazzas, Popes, and Pasta Luanne Zurlo, Have you ever wished you could go live somewhere else even for a few months to get a feel for how other people live Have you ever wanted to immerse yourself in learning something new Luanne Zurlo did just that and shares her experiences in Piazzas Popes and Pasta Notes from a Rome Sojourn Acting on inspiration from the Holy Spirit Zurlo spent 4 months living in Rome and studying theology at the Angelicum Pontifical University Her heartfelt and vivid descriptions put you in Rome with her as she admires the art music and sights such as St Peter's Basilica Through her you'll come to know the city that is the heart of the Catholic Church while gathering valuable insights into our faith Part memoir part travelogue and part religious reflection this book will encourage you to open your heart to God's will even when it seems risky for the rewards of saying yes are unfathomable

Railway Discourse Esterino Adami, 2019-01-15 This volume examines the train trope in a variety of cultural literary and linguistic contexts from contemporary crime fiction and dystopian graphic narratives to postcolonial railway travelogues by employing a range of methods and frameworks Situated within the Discourse Pragmatics and Sociolinguistics collection the book critically engages with significant areas such as discourse and narrative structure Interpreting the railway as a powerful cultural and imaginary site in the English speaking world that traverses a range of creative domains this study explores the ways in which the train and its structures symbols and metaphors are textually rendered and the type of stylistic effects they generate in readers It introduces frames and discusses the idea of railway discourse and focuses on specific case studies The Girl on the Train by Paula Hawkins the graphic novel Snowpiercer and Monisha Rajesh's Around India in 80 Trains In particular it considers how a compartment window can constrain and shape the point of view of a narrator the way in which science fiction trains are conceptually imagined and the intercultural implications of rail travel writing in India today To analyse the role and meaning of the railway in these texts and compare them with others this work adopts and adapts analytical tools and critical concepts from the integration of different fields such as stylistics and linguistics postcolonial criticism and literary studies

The Sociology of Speed Judy Wajcman, Nigel Dodd, 2017 There is widespread perception that life is faster than it used to be This book argues that popular and scholarly claims about acceleration gloss over the complex relationship of technology speed and time Rather than digital devices rushing us our experience of always being rushed is the result of the priorities and parameters we ourselves set

Beyond Positivism, Behaviorism, and Neoinstitutionalism in Economics Deirdre Nansen McCloskey, 2024-05-31 A penetrating analysis from one of the defining voices of contemporary economics In Beyond Positivism Behaviorism and Neoinstitutionalism in Economics Deirdre Nansen McCloskey zeroes in on the authoritarian cast of recent economics arguing for a re focusing on the liberated human The behaviorist positivism fashionable in the field since the 1930s treats people from the outside It yielded in Williamson and North a manipulative neo institutionalism McCloskey argues that institutions as causes are mainly temporary and intermediate not ultimate They are human made depending on words myth ethics ideology history identity professionalism gossip movies what your mother taught you Humans create conversations as they go in the economy as in the rest of life In engaging and erudite prose McCloskey exhibits in detail the scientific failures of neo institutionalism She proposes a humanomics an economics with the humans left in Humanomics keeps theory quantification experiment mathematics econometrics though insisting on more true rigor than is usual It adds what can be learned about the economy from history philosophy literature and all the sciences of humans McCloskey reaffirms the durability of market tested innovation against the imagined imperfections to be corrected by a perfect government With her trademark zeal and incisive wit she rebuilds the foundations of economics

Seeing Like a City Ash Amin, Nigel Thrift, 2017-05-23 Seeing like a city means recognizing that cities are living things made up of a tangle of networks built up from the agency of countless actors Cities must not be considered as expressions of larger paradigms or sites of human effort and organization alone Within their density size and sprawl can be found a world of symbols bodies buildings technologies and infrastructures It is the machine like combination interaction and confrontation of these different elements that make a city Such a view locates urban outcomes and influences in the character of these networks which together power urban life allocating resources shaping social opportunities maintaining order and simply enabling life More than the silent stage on which other powers perform such networks represent the essence of the city They also form an important political project a politics of small interventions with large effects The increasing evidence for an Anthropocene bears out the way in which humanity has stamped its footprint on the planet by constructing urban forms that act as systems for directing life in ways that create both immense power and immense constraint

Bourgeois Equality Deirdre Nansen McCloskey, 2020-03-04 How standards of living have skyrocketed since 1800 and the political philosophy that made it possible Persuasive richly detailed and erudite Financial Times There's little doubt that most humans today are better off than their forebears Stunningly so the economist and historian Deirdre McCloskey argues in this concluding volume of her trilogy celebrating the oft derided virtues of the bourgeoisie The poorest of humanity McCloskey shows will soon be joining the comparative riches of Japan and Sweden and Botswana Why Most economists from Adam Smith and Karl Marx to Thomas Piketty say the Great Enrichment since 1800 came from accumulated capital McCloskey disagrees fiercely Our riches she argues were made not by piling brick on brick bank balance on bank balance but by piling idea on idea Capital was necessary but in the same way that oxygen is necessary for a fire Nor were institutions the drivers the World Bank orthodoxy of add institutions and stir hasn't worked McCloskey builds a powerful case for the initiating role of ideas ideas for electric motors and free elections of course but more deeply the bizarre and liberal ideas of equal liberty and dignity for ordinary folk Liberalism arose from theological and political revolutions in northwest Europe yielding a unique respect for betterment and its practitioners and upending ancient hierarchies Commoners were encouraged to have a go and the bourgeoisie took up the Bourgeois Deal and we were all enriched Few economists or historians write like McCloskey her ability to invest the facts of economic history with the urgency of a novel or of a leading case at law is unmatched She summarizes modern economics and modern economic history with verve and lucidity yet sees through to the really big scientific conclusion Not matter but ideas Big books don't come any more ambitious or captivating than Bourgeois Equality

A Season with Verona Tim Parks, 2012-01-23 Is Italy a united country or a loose affiliation of warring states Is Italian football which we Americans know as soccer a sport or an ill disguised protraction of ancient enmities After twenty years in the bel paese Tim Parks goes on the road to follow the fortunes of his hometown soccer club Hellas Verona to pay a different kind of visit to some of the world's most beautiful cities and to get a fresh take on the conundrum that is national character From Udine to Catania from the San Siro to the Olimpico traveling with the raucous and unruly Verona fans whose conduct is a cross between that of asylum inmates and the Keystone Kops Tim Parks offers his highly personal account of one man's relationship with a country its people and its national sport The clubs are struggling as always to keep their heads above water in Series A The fans as always are accused of vulgarity racism and violence It's an election year and politics encroaches The police are ambiguous the journeys exhausting the referees unforgivable the anecdotes hilarious And behind it all is the growing intuition that in a world stripped of idealism and bereft of religion soccer offers a new and fiercely ironic way of forming community and engaging with the sacred
