Grounding Religion Whitney Bauman, Richard R. Bohannon, Kevin James O'Brien, 2017 A Beginner's Guide to the Study of Religion Bradley L. Herling, 2016-03-10 How should we understand and interpret the strange but familiar thing that we call religion What are the foundations of a methodical approach to this subject and what theoretical tools are available to students who are new to this area of inquiry A Beginner's Guide to the Study of Religion provides an accessible wide ranging introduction to theories and basic methodology in the field Now in its second edition and updated throughout this concise but comprehensive book includes A case for the urgency and relevance of studying religion today Discussion of the role and perspective of the student of religion Description of the nature of theory and its function An accessible survey of classic theorists in the modern study of religion Feature boxes highlighting essential quotations and guiding principles for application of theories An expanded consideration of contemporary issues in the field including gender sexuality race ethnicity globalization violence science and new media Recommended further reading A Beginner's Guide to the Study of Religion offers a thorough but concise body of material suitable for introductory courses on the study of religion or to provide theoretical context for survey courses Study questions and worksheets can be found on the book's webpage The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Nature Laura Hobgood, Whitney A. Bauman, 2018-05-17 Divided into four parts Earth Air Fire and Water this book takes an elemental approach to the study of religion and ecology It reflects recent theoretical and methodological developments in this field which seek to understand the ways that ideas and matter minds and bodies exist together within an immanent frame of reference The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Nature focuses on how these matters materialize in the world around us thereby addressing key topics in this area of study The editors provide an extensive introduction to the book as well as useful introductions to each of its parts The volume's international contributors are drawn from the USA South Africa Netherlands Norway Indonesia and South Korea and offer a variety of perspectives voices cultural settings and geographical locales This handbook shows that human concern and engagement with material existence is present in all sectors of the global community regardless of religious tradition It challenges the traditional methodological approach of comparative religion and argues that globalization renders a comparative religious approach to the environment insufficient Religion, Materialism and Ecology Sigurd Bergmann, Kate Rigby, Peter Manley Scott, 2023-05-31 This timely collection of essays by leading international scholars across religious studies and the environmental humanities advances a lively discussion on materialism in its many forms While there is little agreement on what materialism means it is evident that there is a resurgence in thinking about matter in more animated and active ways The volume explores how debates concerning the new materialisms impinge on religious traditions and the extent to which religions with their material culture and beliefs in the Divine within the material can make a creative contribution to debates about ecological materialisms Spanning a broad range of themes including politics architecture hermeneutics literature and religion the book brings together a series of discussions on materialism in the context of diverse methodologies and approaches The volume investigates a range of issues including space and place hierarchy and relationality the relationship between nature and society human and other agencies and worldviews and cultural values Drawing on literary and critical theory and queer philosophical theological and social theoretical approaches this ground breaking book will make an important contribution to the environmental humanities It will be a key read for postgraduate students researchers and scholars in religious studies cultural anthropology literary studies philosophy and environmental studies Religion and Ecology Whitney A. Bauman, 2014-04-29 Moving beyond identity politics while continuing to respect diverse entities and concerns Whitney A Bauman builds a planetary politics that better responds to the realities of a pluralistic world Calling attention to the historical political and ecological influences shaping our understanding of nature religion humanity and identity Bauman collapses the boundaries separating male from female biology from machine human from more than human and religion from science encouraging readers to embrace hybridity and the inherent fluctuations of an open evolving global community As he outlines his planetary ethic Bauman concurrently develops an environmental ethic of movement that relies not on place but on the daily connections we make across the planet He shows how both identity politics and environmental ethics fail to realize planetary politics and action limited as they are by foundational modes of thought that create entire worlds out of their own logic Introducing a postfoundational vision not rooted in the formal principles of nature or God and not based in the idea of human exceptionalism Bauman draws on cutting edge insights from queer poststructural and deconstructive theory and makes a major contribution to the study of religion science politics and ecology Routledge Handbook of Religion and Ecology Willis J. Jenkins, Mary Evelyn Tucker, John Grim, 2016-07-22 The moral values and interpretive systems of religions are crucially involved in how people imagine the challenges of sustainability and how societies mobilize to enhance ecosystem resilience and human well being The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Ecology provides the most comprehensive and authoritative overview of the field It encourages both appreciative and critical angles regarding religious traditions communities attitude and practices It presents contrasting ways of thinking about religion and about ecology and about ways of connecting the two terms Written by a team of leading international experts the Handbook discusses dynamics of change within religious traditions as well as their roles in responding to global challenges such as climate change water conservation food and population It explores the interpretations of indigenous traditions regarding modern environmental problems drawing on such concepts as lifeway and indigenous knowledge This volume uniquely intersects the field of religion and ecology with new directions within the humanities and the sciences This interdisciplinary volume is an essential reference for scholars and students across the social sciences and humanities and for all those looking to understand the significance of religion in environmental studies and policy

The Global Food System William D. Schanbacher, 2014-07-23 This detailed analysis of the global food system looks at the way food is produced distributed and consumed in an effort to create a more equitable and healthful system worldwide With large scale famine afflicting regions around the globe and overconsumption and unhealthy eating habits destroying others many are beginning to wonder if access to food is less of a class based social problem and more of an ethical issue affecting the lives and livelihoods of people all over the world This thoughtful text provides a thorough examination of the factors contributing to this global concern exploring the complexities of international food supply and demand as well as the efforts to bring about a more just global food system Through this groundbreaking volume author and educator Will Schanbacher sheds light on flaws in the current structure and suggests ways to achieve a more balanced approach He considers the economics politics and activism behind and involved in the production distribution and consumption of the global food system In an effort to illuminate many problems associated with hunger inequality and injustice in the food system the book also offers many potential strategies and solutions for making a more healthy sustainable and equitable world Chapters contain both theoretical models and concrete practices for food security and offer strategies for creating an equitable system

Judaism, History, and the Environment Dean Phillip Bell, 2025-10-16 Engaging creatively with Jewish texts and history this book explores the interplay between history Judaism and the environment through the prism of natural disasters Historical case studies include earthquakes in Georgian England floods and fires in 18th century Germany plague in 17th century Italy and natural disasters experienced by Jews living in the Ottoman Empire Rather than seeing religion as a stumbling block or as a cause of environmental degradation these historical cases are instead brought into conversation with related classical Jewish texts and contemporary Jewish thought Unlike studies that interpret religious texts through traditional hermeneutical lenses this book is distinctly interdisciplinary contributing significantly to the fields of Jewish studies religious studies ecology and environmental humanities Chapters explore new ways to think about contemporary environmental concerns discussing the Anthropocene causality and temporality global and local contexts and proscription Dean Phillip Bell's timely and important argument demonstrates how a new engagement with Jewish history and thought may help us to grapple with the environmental challenges of today and the future

T&T Clark Handbook of Christian Theology and Climate Change Hilda P. Koster, Ernst M. Conradie, 2019-12-12 The T these essays are critically engaged by respondents situated in other geographic regions minority communities non Christian traditions or non theological disciplines Structured in seven main parts the handbook explores 1 the need for collaboration with disciplines outside of Christian theology to address climate change 2 the need to find common moral ground for such collaboration 3 the difficulties posed by collaborating with other Christian traditions from within 4 the questions that emerge from such collaboration for understanding the story of God's work and 5 God's identity and character 6 the implications of such collaboration for ecclesial praxis and 7 concluding reflections examining whether this volume does justice to issues of race gender class other animals religious diversity geographical divides and carbon mitigation This rich ecumenical cross cultural conversation provides a comprehensive and in depth engagement with the theological and moral challenges raised by anthropogenic climate change

Arts, Religion, and the Environment Sigurd Bergmann, Forrest J. Clingerman, 2018-07-03 Humans have been described as meaning making animals At the threshold of the Anthropocene how might humans artistically envision their place in the world Do humans possess cultural tools which will allow us to imagine new possibilities and relationships with the natural environment at a time when our material surroundings are under siege Exploring Nature's Texture looks at the imaginative possibilities of using the visual arts to address the breakdown of the human relationship with the environment Bringing together contributions from artists theologians anthropologists and philosophers it investigates the arts as a bridge between culture and nature as well as between the human and more than human world Contributors Whitney A Bauman Sigurd Bergmann Forrest Clingerman Timothy M Collins J Sage Elwell Reiko Goto Arto Haapala Tim Ingold Karolina Sobecka George Steinmann

Voices of Feminist Liberation Emily Leah Silverman, Dirk von der Horst, Whitney Bauman, 2014-10-14

Voices of Feminist Liberation brings together a wide range of scholars to explore the work of Rosemary Radford Ruether one of the most influential feminist and liberation theologians of our time Ruether's extraordinary and ground breaking thinking has shaped debates across liberation theology feminism and eco feminism queer theology social justice and inter religious dialogue At the same time her commitment to practice and agency has influenced sites of local resistance around the world as well as on globalised strategies for ecological sustainability and justice Voices of Feminist Liberation examines the potential of Ruether's thinking to mobilize critical theology social theory and cultural practice The scholars gathered here present their personal engagements with Ruether's thinking and teaching The book will be invaluable to scholars policy makers and activists seeking to understand how colonial and patriarchal oppression in the name of religion can be confronted and defeated

Faith Traditions and Practices in the Workplace Volume I Mai Chi Vu, Nadia Singh, Nicholas Burton, Irene Chu, 2022-11-10 This two volume work examines the role of spiritual and religious traditions as a balancing force during times of crisis in organizational settings Elucidating the varied ways in which spiritual religious traditions provide new ways of coping in unprecedented times the chapters provide an integrative review and critical analysis of recent research in the field Bringing together an extraordinary compendium of religious spiritual traditions through a combination of Eastern and Western approaches this comprehensive work provides a new perspective and highlights alternative mechanisms to deal with current socio economic dilemmas and workplace crisis facing humanity Weaving together various strands in a systematic manner Volume 1 focuses on the faith traditions and practices including Hinduism Sikhism Quakerism Catholicism Presbyterianism Abraham religions while Volume 2 focuses on spiritual traditions including Buddhism and Confucianism Within the chapters of Volume 1 the authors offer critical explorations of a wide range of topics ranging from crisis management community responses to Covid 19 environmental degradation and inclusive economic growth

Religious Environmental Activism Jens Köhrsen, Julia Blanc, Fabian Huber, 2022-12-20 This volume explores how religious and spiritual actors engage for environmental protection and fight against climate change Climate change and sustainability are increasingly prominent topics among religious and spiritual groups Different faith traditions have developed green theologies launched environmental protection projects and issued public statements on climate change Against this background academic scholarship has raised optimistic claims about the strong potentials of religions to address environmental challenges Taking a critical stance with regard to these claims the chapters in this volume show that religious environmentalism is an embattled terrain Tensions are an inherent part of religious environmentalism These do not necessarily manifest themselves in open clashes between different parties but in different actions views theologies ambivalences misunderstandings and sometimes mistrust Keeping below the surface these tensions can create effective barriers for religious environmentalism The chapters examine how tensions are manifested and dealt with through a range of empirical case studies in various world regions Covering different religious and spiritual traditions they reflect on intradenominational interdenominational interreligious and religious societal tensions Thereby this volume sheds new light on the problems that religions face when they seek to take an active role in today's societal challenges The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Climate Crisis and Creation Care Christine Nellist, 2021-09-28 This volume considers the interconnectedness of all creatures in relation to our planetary boundaries Through our constant consumption of resources we have had a distinctly negative impact on the world around us affecting everything from the weather food availability sea levels and the social fabric of our society This book explores how we arrived at such an unstable world and offers ecological theological and economically sustainable solutions to a global crisis

The Environmental Apocalypse Jakub Kowalewski, 2022-11-16 This volume brings together scholars working in diverse traditions of the humanities in order to offer a comprehensive analysis of the environmental catastrophe as the modern day apocalypse Drawing on philosophy theology history literature art history psychoanalysis as well as queer and decolonial theories the authors included in this book expound the meaning of the climate apocalypse reveal its presence in our everyday experiences and examine its impact on our intellectual imaginative and moral practices Importantly the chapters show that eco-apocalypticism can inform progressively transformative discourses about climate change In so doing they demonstrate the fruitfulness of understanding the environmental catastrophe from within an apocalyptic framework carving a much needed path between two unsatisfactory approaches to the climate disaster first the conservative impulse to preserve the status quo responsible for today's crisis and second the reckless acceptance of the destructive effects of climate change This book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars interested in the contributions of both apocalypticism and the humanities to contemporary ecological debates
