Richardson, 2016-10-15 With Alexander Robey Shepherd John P Richardson gives us the first full length biography of his subject who as Washington D C's public works czar 1871-74 built the infrastructure of the nation's capital in a few frenetic years after the Civil War The story of Shepherd is also the story of his hometown after that cataclysm which left the city with churned up streets stripped of its trees and exhausted An intrepid businessman Shepherd became president of Washington's lower house of delegates at twenty seven Garrulous and politically astute he used every lever to persuade Congress to realize

Peter L. Enfant's vision for the capital. His tenure produced paved and graded streets, sewer systems, trees, and gaslights, and transformed the fetid Washington Canal into one of the city's most stately avenues. After bankrupting the city, a chastened Shepherd left in 1880 to develop silver mines in western Mexico, where he lived out his remaining twenty-two years. In Washington, Shepherd worked at the confluence of race, party, region, and urban development in a microcosm of the United States. Determined to succeed at all costs, he helped force Congress to accept its responsibility for maintenance of its stepchild, the nation's capital city.
