History And Repetition Weatherhead S On Asia:

History and Repetition Kōjin Karatani, 2012 Kojin Karatani wrote the essays in History and Repetition during a time of radical historical change triggered by the collapse of the Cold War and the death of the Showa emperor in 1989. Reading Karl Marx in an original way, Karatani developed a theory of history based on the repetitive cycle of crises attending the expansion and transformation of capital. His work led to a rigorous analysis of political economic and literary forms of representation that recast historical events as a series of repeated forms forged in the transitional moments of global capitalism. History and Repetition cemented Karatani's reputation as one of Japan's premier thinkers capable of traversing the fields of philosophy, political economy, history, and literature in his work. The first complete translation of History and Repetition into English, undertaken with the cooperation of Karatani himself, this volume opens with his innovative reading of The Eighteenth Brumaire of Louis Bonaparte, tracing Marx's early theoretical formulation of the state. Karatani follows with a study of violent crises as they recur after major transitions of power, developing his theory of historical repetition and introducing a groundbreaking interpretation of fascism in both Europe and Japan as the spectral return of the absolutist monarch in the midst of a crisis of representative democracy. For Karatani, fascism represents the most violent materialization of the repetitive mechanism of history. Yet he also seeks out singularities that operate outside the brutal inevitability of historical repetition, whether represented in literature or more precisely in the process of literature's demise. Closely reading the works of Oe Kenzaburo, Mishima Yukio, Nakagami Kenji, and Murakami Haruki, Karatani compares the recurrent and universal with the singular and unrepeatable while advancing a compelling theory of the decline of modern literature. Merging theoretical arguments with a concrete analysis of cultural and intellectual history, Karatani's essays encapsulate a brilliant multidisciplinary perspective on world history.

River of Fire and Other Stories Chōnghǔi O, 2012 These nine stories range from O Chonghui's first published work in 1968 to one of her last publications in 1994. Her early stories are compact, often chilling accounts of family dysfunction reflecting the decline of traditional agrarian economics and the rise of urban industrial living. Later stories are more expansive, weaving eloquent, occasionally wistful reflections on lost love and tradition together with provocative explorations of sexuality and gender.

East-Asian Marxisms and Their Trajectories Joyce Liu, Viren Murthy, 2017-02-03 In this volume, leading scholars from around the world suggest that radical ideologies have shaped complex historical processes in East Asia by examining how intellectuals and activists interpreted, rethought, and criticized Marxism in East Asia. The contributors to this volume ask how we can use Marxism to understand East Asia in a global capitalist world and where the problems that Marxism highlighted, including imperialism, domination, and inequality, are increasingly prevalent. The volume draws on various disciplines to reinterpret Marx and shed light on the complex dynamics of global capitalism in various historical and national contexts. The distinguished contributors illuminate, rethink, and make accessible highly complex Marxist concepts such as the question of class contradiction, the temporalities of capitalism, real and formal subsumption relative surplus value and the commodity form the question of class and the proletariat At a time when people around the world are struggling to cope with the crises of global capitalism this volume on regional responses to capitalism is especially welcome It will be of interest to students and scholars of East Asian studies social and political theory sociology and globalization studies Patterns of the Heart and Other Stories Ch'oe Myŏngik, 2024-04-09 Korean writer Ch oe My ngik was a lifelong resident of Pyongyang a city his short stories masterfully evoke in exquisite modernist prose His career spanned decades of tumult from his debut in the 1930s while Korea was under Japanese colonial rule through the Asia Pacific and Korean Wars and the early years of the Democratic People s Republic As Pyongyang transformed from Korea s second city peripheral to the Seoul centered literary scene into a socialist capital in the late 1940s Ch oe briefly ascended to the center of North Korean culture Despite the vitality and originality of Ch oe s writing Cold War politics and censorship including South Korea s anticommunist laws consigned his work to obscurity Patterns of the Heart and Other Stories presents a selection of Ch oe s short fiction in translation including later works from hard to find North Korean publications These cinematic keenly observed tales explore Pyongyang in meticulous detail depicting the city s transformations and the conflicts between old and new They pay close attention to the lives of the disaffected and the marginalized a drifter confronts a former revolutionary dying of opium addiction a sex worker is trafficked across the border aboard a train amid the indifference of her fellow passengers Later stories provide a striking glimpse of the Korean War the occupation of Pyongyang U S fighter jets bombing civilian refugees guerrilla heroics from a North Korean perspective Hidden treasures of world literature these stories offer new perspectives on Korea s turbulent twentieth century across political divides still in place today Atlas Qizhang Dong, 2012 A futuristic tale set in a long lost fictional city similar to post colonial Hong Kong follows the efforts of a team of archaeologists to reconstruct its metropolis through historical maps documents and artifacts that are translated through anecdotal experiences and social commentary Journal of Asian History , 1999 Table for One Yun Ko-eun, 2024-04-09 An office worker who has no one to eat lunch with enrolls in a course that builds confidence about eating alone A man with a pathological fear of bedbugs offers up his body to save his building from infestation A time capsule in Seoul is dug up hundreds of years before it was intended to be unearthed A vending machine repairman finds himself trapped in a shrinking motel during a never ending snowstorm In these and other indelible short stories contemporary South Korean author Yun Ko eun conjures up slightly off kilter worlds tucked away in the corners of everyday life Her fiction is bursting with images that toe the line between realism and the fantastic Throughout Table for One comedy and an element of the surreal are interwoven with the hopelessness and loneliness that pervades the protagonists decidedly mundane lives Yun s stories focus on solitary city dwellers and her eccentric often dreamlike humor highlights their sense of isolation Mixing quirky and melancholy commentary on densely packed urban life she calls attention to the toll of rapid industrialization and the displacement of traditional culture Acquainting the English speaking audience
