Abstract

The significance of getting learners to read English First Additional Language (EFAL) cannot be ignored. This language is very significant as it is used for teaching and learning across the curriculum. Despite different studies that have been conducted, learners still experience barriers in reading English text. Participants were purposively selected comprising of 12 grade 12 learners, 3 EFAL teachers from the selected secondary schools in Modjadji Circuit, Limpopo Province. Data were collected using interviews, observation, and documents analysis. Data were thematically analysed. The results showed that grade 12 learners and teachers employ various reading strategies during reading.
